worthy master of the Pomona Grange, was present and gave a very instructive and interesting talk. Four applications for membership were presented. Committees were appointed on finance, executive economics and relief. A class of 12 was given the work in the different degrees. Conferring of the degree work was done by the local drill team. There were 28 members present. Much interest is being manifested among the farmers and the Grange is growing fast.

The evangelistic meetings will continue this week at the Baptist church on the corner.

Mrs. Frank Erian is beginning to prepare for the Thanksgiving market. She has 90 turkey eggs in the incubator this week.

Miss Beas Wood of Portland is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wood, of Williams.

Mrs. H. F. Lewman received a telegram last week saying that one cousin, a Mr. Ira C. Grisham, was dead, that another cousin, Perry Strong, and his wife were in a hospital at The Dalles seriously ill as the result of botulinas poisoning. There are four new pupils in our school this week—Lloyd, Pauline and Louis Varner and Donald Harris.

The high school boys' basketball team, and the community boys' team will all go to Kerby this week end to play. They will be accompanied by the teachers, Miss Wilkinson, Mrs. Baden and Miss Paulsen, also by several of the parents and a goodly number of rooters.

Mr. Baden is spending the week here with his wife, one of the teachers in our school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sutton of Klamath Falls were visiting Mrs. Sutton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.

C. Fixley, last week end. Mr. Sutton returned home but Mrs. Sutton and little daughter will remain for several days.

Chester Boat spent the week end with his family, who have been visiting Mrs. Boat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fixley.

A number of the young people of the neighborhood attended the dance at Applegate Saturday night. The whist club met last week with Mrs. Ell Lemmon. All report a good time.

NEW STORE OPEN FOR BUSINESS AT TALENT IS CREDIT

(By Mrs. M. E. Tryer)

TALENT, Ore., March 22.—(Special)—The new grocery owned and managed by Mr. and Mrs. Park had its opening Saturday. A. M. Beaver of the Beaver Realty company of Ashland was a visitor at the Park home the day of the opening. Quite a number of visitors from Phoenix also visited the store that day. The store is located on the highway immediately south of the Talent auto camp ground and is an up-to-date store in every way. All furnishings are new and clean and it is a great addition to the town.

The Community club met Wednesday afternoon at the club room at the Community hall. The usual routine of business was transacted. Tuesday being the birthday of one of the charter members of the club, Mrs. J. S. Crawford, the club made the afternoon a celebration of the occasion. A birthday cake decorated with candles was presented to Mrs. Crawford. One new member was taken in at this meeting.

Mrs. R. F. Park, hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Tom Bell and Mrs. Roy Le Vane.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Childers and son, John, picnicked on Little Applegate last Sunday. They spent the afternoon visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Saltmarsh.

Anyone having news of interest in Talent and who wishes to have it appear in the Medford Mail Tribune, please hand it to Mrs. Marion Tryer, special correspondent for the paper from Talent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Holdridge and daughter, Doris, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill and daughter, Opal, motored to Roseburg Sunday and spent the day visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Proctor, former residents of Talent.

I insist upon fresh soda crackers as much as I do upon fresh cake

"I would never think of serving stale cake—it must be fluffy-light and fresh, of course! And I am just as particular about dainty crisp soda crackers," says the experienced housewife.

"Now that I buy Snow Flakes, I find they are always deliciously oven-crisp and appetizing—and they keep fresh in the cupboard, in the wax-wrapped package! Snow Flakes are triply protected against moisture and sold under a 'Guarantee of Freshness.' If you are not absolutely satisfied with their crispness and quality, your grocer will refund your money." GLARESTRAIN

A new disease? No, not exactly; but a form of eyestrain that is being given a great deal of attention today, by eye specialists and illuminating engineers.

Glarestrain (Optiphosis) is a form of eyestrain that comes from exposure to glare. Civilization has surrounded us with the glitter and dazzle of reflected light and our eyes need protection.

SOFT-LITE Lenses reduce the brightness and glare but admit freely the light most needed for vision. Permit us to show you samples of this modern Protective, Corrective Lens.

Sugar's five uses in the diet . . .

Authority explains this delicious food

WE RECENTLY asked the food scientist at one of the great universities to describe the rightful place of sugar in the diet.

"Sugar has five distinctive uses," he said. "1. A conserving of foods. 2. A flavoring substance. 3. A satiation factor. 4. A staple fuel. 5. An emergency fuel."

The scientist showed that sugar is used as a conserving of many foods, especially fruits. Discussing sugar as a flavorer, the scientist said: "One of the most praiseworthy developments of the modern diet lies in the expansion of the use of fresh fruits . . . contingent on the free availability of sugar."

Discussing sugar as a satiation factor, he said: "Topping off the meal with a sweet dessert gives a sense of satiation . . . an important item in the diet."

The scientist pointed out that "Sugar as a staple fuel ranks with starch . . . sugar is more rapidly digested than starch; otherwise they are entirely comparable fuels."

He then defined the use of sugar as an emergency fuel. "The process of resorption is so rapid," he said, "that sugar appears in the muscles (the fire-box of the body) within a few minutes after ingestion."

So it is that sugar is one of the most useful and least expensive of foods. As a flavorer alone, it deserves a place in every diet for making other healthful foods delicious.

Eat all kinds of healthful fresh and canned fruits and vegetables, sweetening for pleasure, remembering the satiation value of ice creams, cookies and cakes for dessert. The best cooks are generous with sugar. The Sugar Institute.
