The new mayor of Medford is at the Imperial. A. W. Pipes left Salmon City, Ida., three years ago and settled in Medford, and now he is head man of the pear metropolis. Since going to Medford, Mayor Pipes has bought the four-story Liberty building, an interest in the George Mansfield ranch on the Crater Lake highway, and a beautiful home on Queen Anne avenue. Naturally, the only way Medford could show its appreciation was to elect him mayor.—The Oregonian. Classified advertising gets results.

Nothing at All!

You've known the joyous freedom of a hatless country summer!—And wished that you could be as properly informal in town?—Here's that wish come true, for we've a hat that's just like nothing at all!

It's so pliant that you can fold and pack it in no more space than a scarf would demand, so light that when you've pulled it on your head again you'll forget it's there at all, until you pause before a mirror and see the perfect way it clings (without a squeeze) to the contour of your head... Of visca straw, hand-crocheted in Italy, and made for us by Gage!
