WEDDINGS
Libo-Flem

MUNICH—(AP) The cities of Munich and Strassburg have exchanged monuments in return for a fountain symbolizing "Father Rhine" presented by Strassburg. This city has sent to the other municipality a statue known locally as "the nice tempter," the nickname of Strassburgers.

That they may enjoy a much needed rest after 25 years as pastor, Rev. McVicker and his most estimable wife have decided to retire and reside at their own home in Bandon, Ore. During his ministry of more than three years in Jacksonville, the church has prospered both spiritually and materially. We have enjoyed the companionship of these fine folks and while we are sorry to see them leave the church, the very best wishes of the community go with them to their new home. Rev. S. Walton, Rev. McVicker acted as moderator. Reports from the different organizations and branches of church work were read and accepted. Some indicated a cash balance and all showing obligations met, a prosperous year closed with both a spiritual and material growth. The budget for the year 1928-29 was completed in due time and accepted.

The following officers were elected: Trustees, Henry Neidermeyer and A. Kleinhammer; benevolent secretary, Mrs. Chester Wendt; communion committee, Mrs. Chester Wendt and Mrs. Cora Shaw; church treasurer, Otto Nollner; church ushers, Robert Forbes, John Coke, Alfred Coke and Fred Edens; organist, Ruth Severson; flower committee, Virginia Fick, Florence Severson, Helen Coke and Helen Walton. Mrs. Hoffman has served on this committee most efficiently for many years, but asked to be relieved on account of her health preventing her attendance at church. Sunday school superintendent, Dr. D. A. Forbes; assistant Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Vivian Beech; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Roy Martin; organist, Miss Virginia Fick.

Dr. Eaton's morning sermon will be "The Royal Procession," a story sermon of the Triumphant Entry of Jerusalem. In the evening his subject will be "The Man of Kerith," a dramatic sermon, dealing with the events of Jesus' ministry and death. At the morning service Mrs. Platt will sing "The Palms," and the church quartette will sing "He's Able and Willing," by Miles.
