

CITY COUNCILMEN FAVOR STORE BAN SUBURB SECTIONS

Mayor Pipes and the city council went on record last night against the establishing of too many small groceries or other stores in residence sections of the city, when they refused to sanction an ordinance to change a residence zone to permit the establishment of a grocery at the corner of West Elm 14th and Finch streets.

The city planning commission by a divided vote had approved the petition asking for the change of zone, against which there was a remonstrance petition. By a vote acting last night the council heard a long protest from Walter Frazer Brown, and also from C. D. Thompson, whose home is directly opposite the proposed new grocery. Mayor Pipes also talked against the proposed change, and pointed out with Messrs. Brown and Thompson, that if the new grocery was allowed to locate there, it would make four groceries on Eleventh street inside of seven blocks, which situation they declared would be absurd.

At the behest of Mrs. E. V. Williams of the Greater Medford club the council voted to present that club with a new deed for the lot it had presented it several years ago as the site for a new club house. This gift was made with a clause that if the lot was not used for a club house the lot would revert back to the city. Since then the individual clubhouse idea was abandoned by the club, for the Community Club project, and now the club wants to sell the lot for $800 and turn the proceeds into the Community club project. Hence the new deed with the reversion clause left out.

WARRIOR'S TOMB IN INVALIDES FOR FOCH

The last resting place of France's hero, Marshal Foch, is in the Invalides (lower left), under whose dome Napoleon also sleeps. Before the funeral, the body lay in state under the Arc de Triomphe (above), an honor accorded only outstanding men of the republic. General John J. Pershing (inset right) was the United States army's representative at the funeral, and Premier Poincaré (inset left), was a speaker at the interment in the Invalides.

CONSTRUCTION IN CITY WELL UNDER WAY FOR SEASON

The work of laying the cement floor in the new city fire hall at Front and Fifth streets has been finished and, according to Frank C. Clark, architect, the building will be completed and ready for occupancy by May 1—a month ahead of time.

With the completion of the roof laying, the exterior work on the Kimball Fruit company packing plant on North Grape street will be finished and work on the interior started. The plant will be ready for operation the coming fruit season.

The laying of the foundations of the new plant of the Southern Oregon Sales, Inc., at Stewart avenue and Pacific highway, will be completed and work started on the main structure.

Plans have been completed for the erection of a home on Crown Hill just west of Dr. Mulholland's. It will be a two-story, six-room house and work is expected to start about May 1.

The work of raising the superstructure of the new home for Attorney G. M. Roberts on Crown Hill is under way and the excavation for the swimming pool completed.

Preliminary work for the erection of a new front and extending the same to the street line of the L. O. O. F. building on Sixth street has been completed. The work of laying the brick wall will start within a week.

EGG PRICES TAKE AN UPWARD SLANT

PORTLAND, Ore., March 27.—(AP) Eggs began to perk up today after having hovered at the lowest price in years. Standard extras advanced one cent to 35, fresh standard firsts two cents to 24 and fresh medium extras one cent to 22. Medium firsts remained at 20. Butter prices didn't vary one way or the other. Poultry prices held steady despite an increased supply. The pre-Easter demand took care of this. Country turkeys were steady. Roseburg broilers were somewhat higher. Some of the best brought $2 a crate. Other grades were selling from $1.49 to $1.75. Onions and spinach were both easier. Fruits were unchanged.

AUROREA, Wis., Mar. 27.—(AP) Joseph Deking, through counsel, today demanded immediate action be taken against county dry rangers for the slaying of his wife.

such bombs do to one of our big cities? And how easily planes released from carriers off our coast could dot to our cities what President Hoover will do to that lee gorge.

The President, you may be sure, has thought about that.

Yesterday, March 26, will stand as an important day in the history of flying. At 10:30 a. m. the courageous Spanish fliers, Jimenez and Iglesias, landed at Bahal, Brazil, less than 44 hours after leaving Seville, a journey of 4000 miles.

The funeral of Marshal Foch, lying in state in his own home, under the Arch of Triumph, and at the Notre Dame cathedral, is ended. The old soldier's body lies in peace under the gilded dome of The Invalides, near the body of Napoleon.

At sunrise yesterday at New York's outstate fort, Castle William, 21 guns were fired, to express the nation's grief. There after, at Castle William and all other American army posts, signal guns were fired every half hour.

Much noise, costing much money, spent with the best of intentions, but it didn't do Marshal Foch much good.

The marshal commanded 10,000,000 men in the armies of France, Belgium, Great Britain, Italy and the United States. All obeyed his orders.

Where is he now? What does he know. Has he met Napoleon, the great Corsican, or Alexander, who at 32, when he died, had done more than any other conqueror? Did he hear those sympathetic United States guns, making a noise in honor of his funeral? Nobody on earth will ever know?

Fresh laid eggs contain a considerable amount of carbon dioxide gas, which kills you if you inhale enough of it. Each egg needs its small supply to protect it from decay. Cornell University finds a way to preserve eggs by restoring, through the shell, the carbon dioxide that escapes from a shell after the egg is laid.

Fraction of a cent per dozen will preserve eggs with the aid of carbon dioxide and a low temperature.

Farmers will ask, "Ah, must we be chemists, physicists as well as farmers?"

NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—(AP)—The English language, through talking motion pictures, now stands a good chance of becoming the international language, in the opinion of John Maxwell, chairman of British International Pictures, and Edwin Brown, vice-president of the Pathe company, who arrived today.
