

TURN OUT 15,000 BABY CHICKS IN ASHLAND WEEKLY

ASHLAND, Ore., April 2.—(Special)—The Ashland Associated Breeding Farms of Ashland are receiving orders daily for day-old chicks. Orders come in by every means of communication from points in Oregon, California and Washington. The association has two mammoth incubators in operation and has an extra staff of helpers working day and night to fill orders, and there seems to be prospects for unlimited developments. Around 15,000 baby chicks are turned out of the great incubators each week and thousands of turkey eggs are being sent in for hatching. E. O. Smith and E. O. Morrison, the proprietors, are more than pleased with their venture, which so far exceeds their expectations.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church celebrated the Easter season by giving a well executed pageant, which included the majority of the Sunday school enrollment. The colorful costumes added much to the effectiveness of the presentation. Songs fitting the occasion were furnished by the Endeavor society. The work was planned and carried out by Mrs. Leverett Davis and Mrs. C. D. Gaffney.

Miss Margaret Hargus of Klamath Falls, a niece of Mrs. C. E. Pell of Ashland, and former student of the Southern Oregon normal, is confined to her home in Klamath Falls on account of a severe attack of flu.

Mrs. Belle Schwein on Church street, who has been ill for several weeks, was able to be out for the first time on Friday and visited her friend, Mrs. Anna Moss.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones of Talent were in Ashland on Saturday evening to attend the Elks banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown left on Saturday for Glendale, Ore., to spend Sunday with their son, Kenneth, and other relatives.

Miss Dorothy Stevens of Klamath Falls, a former Ashland high school student at the Ashland high school, has taken a place as stenographer for the Klamath Falls chamber of commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Berger have returned from Los Angeles, where they have been spending several weeks. They visited other southern California cities also.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Drake left on Friday for McCloud, Calif., where Mr. Drake will be engaged in forestry work. Mrs. Drake, who was formerly Mrs. Ring, spent a few days in Ashland visiting with friends.

Dick and Adena Joy, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Joy, returned Saturday evening from a very successful debate trip to the northern part of the state, where they met the Monmouth school and the freshman team at the Oregon State college. They made the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Redford. Miss Ellen Galey also accompanied the party north.

At Monmouth the team won a decisive victory and the critic judge complimented them very highly for their fine work. The debate at Corvallis was a no-decision debate, in which the local team made a very good showing.

Leverett Davis, who recently spent several days with his family on Fairview street, left on Friday on his return to Bellingham, Wash. Mr. Davis is engaged in a coal mining enterprise near Bellingham.

Mrs. Margaret Arnold, supervisor of music in the Ashland public schools, left Friday for a visit at her home in Washington.

Misses Mildred Rideout and Elvira Call, students at the normal, are spending the week-end at their homes in Klamath Falls, where they have been visiting with their parents. They plan to return early in the week to resume their school work.

Miss Leona Marsters, music supervisor at the Southern Oregon normal, entertained at dinner on Thursday evening at the Luthia Springs hotel for the pleasure of Mr. David Campbell, musician of Portland, who gave a piano recital in Ashland on Thursday evening. Miss Marsters' guests were music lovers of Ashland and Medford. Covers were laid for eight.

Mrs. Daley McGarry and two children, David and Katherine, have moved into the Chattin cottage on Hargadine street that is next door to the Chattin home.

Arda Grubbs of Klamath Falls, daughter of Charles Grubbs, is visiting in Ashland for a week at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grubbs, on Lincoln street.

Mrs. Fred Cushing gave a very pretty Easter party for the girl employees at the Vining theater and their friends. The delightful affair was held at the Cushing home on Third street on Friday evening at the close of the first show. Bridge and music furnished the entertainment until refreshments were served at a late hour. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Cushing's hospitality were the Misses Ruth McBain, Alice Anderson, Floy Johnson, Mildred Moss, Gertrude Ahlstrom, Leona Ahlstrom, Lois Fowle, Dorothy Chapdel and Madamae Glen Addis, John Dougherty and Thomas Gospo.

Portland.—Two departments of Bee Hive department store remodelled.

St. Helens.—Construction of mill for St. Helens Pulp & Paper company fast nearing completion.

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GIRLS' LEAGUE PROGRAM IS HELD

The first assembly of Girls' league week was held yesterday afternoon at the high school, with an interesting program. The meeting was in charge of the president, Miss Mildred Lawrence who, after conducting the business session, turned the meeting over to Miss Marjorie Pliske, who had charge of the program. Miss Eleanor Curry sang a number of solos, among them "You Better Ask Me" and "Grandma."

The next number was a skit, put on by the standards committee of the league. The act was very well given, and illustrated the correct way to dress when attending an informal tea. Miss Hertha Spaylor furnished the comedy for the scene by showing how some persons acted when attending such functions.

As voting for the boys' popularity contest was renewed yesterday, the president called for campaign speeches from the members of the different classes. A number gave speeches for Jack Hughes, senior candidate, followed by talks in favor of Charles Thomas, junior, and Kenneth Swartz, sophomore. As no one had told the merits of the freshman nominee, someone asked who he was, which brought forth a speech telling of the popularity of the mid-year freshman.

A number of interesting and helpful programs have been planned for this week, including a tea and style show, which will depict the correct attire for baccalaureate and graduation.

NOW IS TIME TO BUY BEES STATES EXPERT OF O. S. C.

CORVALLIS, Ore., April 2.—(Special)—In Oregon late March or early April is the best time for beginners to buy bees, according to H. A. Scullen, bee specialist at the State college. It is best to buy bees from a neighbor, or some reliable beekeeper who may be depended on to sell satisfactory colonies.

When buying a colony, it is essential that it be headed by a young queen of good stock, and have enough honey to last until spring—not less than 20 pounds. A large supply of bees to take care of the brood and freedom from disease are important, as is equipment that is in good condition. Ten-framed hives are preferred. Combs are built from full sheets of foundation and wired in. Solid worker combs, not drone combs, are used.

The value of a colony of bees depends on the foregoing requirements. A colony in a box hive, with crooked comb, from which little can be determined by an outside examination, has little value—not more than $1 to $3. A good colony ranges in value from $10 to $12.

SABATH DRAWING RESOLUTIONS FOR DRY AGENT CURB

CHICAGO, April 2.—(AP)—Resolutions intended to curb what he calls the "unconstitutional" activities of dry agents have been drawn up for presentation to the next session of congress, by Representative A. J. Sabath, of the fifth Illinois district.

Citing the killing of Mrs. Lillian DeKing of Aurora, Ill., which he called "the assassination of a defenseless mother in her own home," Congressman Sabath charged that the prohibition law has "made insecure the liberty, homes, even the lives of American citizens."

Congress, under the terms of the resolution, would instruct the attorney general, secretary of the treasury and prohibition director to issue rules of conduct to all prohibition enforcement officials, "slueths, spies, snooters and agents."

Jim lost many chances

..... because of "B.O." (Body Odor)

"FINE, I'll write you when I have an opening," said Mr. Halliday, president of the company.

A white lie... to save Jim's feelings! Mr. Halliday hadn't any idea of hiring Jim, but he couldn't tell him why.

So Jim waited hopefully. And... never heard. Why? He was considered clever. A hard worker. Reliable. What was wrong?

Then one night, a poster caught his eye. "No one," it said, "is safe from 'B.O.' Body Odor!" Jim wondered. Could that... be his trouble?

Jim is certainly glad he acted on that idea. For as soon as he suspected his handicap and discovered the simple way to overcome it, things started to change. Today he has a fine job.

"B.O." is treacherous! It hurts us socially. Ruins our business chances—without warning us. We never know when we offend. And no one will tell us.

Yet body odor is natural. We all have it—because to live we must perspire constantly. Even in cool weather our pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste a day.

Why, then, risk embarrassment? Just bathe always with Lifebuoy, the purifying toilet soap. It ends "B.O."

So good for the skin

Lifebuoy's mild, antiseptic lather keeps skins glowingly fresh and clear, too. Guards health—by removing germs. You'll quickly learn to love its pleasant extra-clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, and which vanishes as you rinse. Adopt Lifebuoy today.
