What was expected to be a spirited mass meeting at the Howard schoolhouse in district 190, failed to develop. Heated discussion was expected to be brought concerning school matter, involving the employment of teachers by two members of the board, without the assent of the third, at a higher wage scale than allowed by the school board, according to a patron of the district. The trouble has been in the air for some time, and dates back over a year.

N. Pull experienced his first defeat of the city three-cushion billiard tournament last night at the hands of Marvin Barrick, who defeated Pull by the score of 25 to 28 on a handicap basis of 30 to 25. Barrick made several good shots and persisted in leaving his opponent in safety positions. This game tied the two players for first place, each having lost one and won three. In his game with Reginald Pifer, Rowley Taylor was defeated and was eliminated as a result from further participation in the tournament.

In early spring particular care is necessary in Oregon to protect cattle against poison larkspur, warns the county agent. When the plants first come above the ground the conspicuous leaves make tempting forage for cattle, which often eat fatal amounts of it. Larkspur is, however, not poisonous to sheep, so far as known. The tall or poison larkspur is the one which causes most of the poisoning in western Oregon in early April. A little later the low larkspur becomes dangerous on both the eastern and western sides of the Cascades.—Klamath News.

servicing science for better things than killing men.

An end of capital punishment would be a step toward civilization.

Meanwhile, British capital punishment shows common sense. When one Briton kills another, they hang him a few weeks later, no years of delay for appeals, delivery of bouquets and sympathetic letters from ladies.

Obituary

HART—Susan Carolina Hart passed away at her home two miles north of Eagle Point Thursday, April 4, 1929 at the age of 72 years, four months. She was a native daughter of Jackson county, having been born in Jacksonville November 1856. She has been living for the past fifty years on her farm, which her husband and his brother homesteaded, cleared for cultivation and made livable. She was married twice, first to Marvin Sylvester Wood and later to Mr. Hart (deceased). She leaves to mourn her, two daughters and one son, Mrs. Ora Henderson of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Mamie Haws of Los Angeles, Calif. and Walter S. Wood of Eagle Point, Ore.; also three grandchildren. The remains are at the Perle Funeral Home, and arrangements will be announced later.

WARD—Joseph W. Ward passed away at the home of his niece, Mrs. C. T. Landing, two miles south of Phoenix early this morning at the age of 72 years. Mr. Ward came to Jackson county from Burns, Oregon, about eight years ago. He is survived by the following six children: W. E. Grover, Herbert, and Alonzo Ward, all of Klamath county; Mrs. Edward Howard and Elijah Ward of Burns, Oregon.

Funeral arrangements in charge of Conger Funeral Parlors await the arrival of the children and will be later announced.

GOOD WEATHER BRINGS HOPE FOR AVIATORS

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 5.—(AP) Improving weather conditions today heightened the hopes of those searching "somewhere east of Wyndham" for Captain Kingsford-Smith and his companions of the Southern Cross.

Aviation authorities, admitting the immense difficulties of the quest, due to the inaccessibility and wild nature of the northwest Australian area, nevertheless encouraged everyone to hope for his success.

British criminals, knowing this, rarely carry deadly weapons on burglary expeditions, since using them to kill would mean hanging. Here it means, hiring an able lawyer.

Mexico's war seems to turn out badly for the rebels. Calles is burning bridges to prevent the rebels' retreat. His aim is "to wipe out the rebel troops."

The Mexican government thinks it is not far from complete victory, for this time.

Meanwhile, boats from Mexican airplanes have been dropped on American soil. Mexican shells cross the border and land on American territory. Uncle Sam says he is going to do something about that if it doesn't stop.

Meningitis in China

SHANGHAI, Apr. 5.—(AP) Health authorities estimate today that there were 1000 cases of meningitis in the Chinese section of Shanghai. The serum shortage continues.

Tex Maynard at Isis Saturday

Tex Maynard as "Wanderer" Garrison, wrecks the plans of Pete Mosely, who runs the town of Plute with an iron fist. Garrison, a gonard of the plans, is on the side of law and order, no matter where he roams, and gets into the thick of any battle in the aid of justice. "A Wanderer of the West" comes to the Isis theater Saturday.
