

GOOD FOOTBALL MATERIAL LEFT FOR '29 SEASON

Garrison Bequeaths Better Than Average Grid Candidates to New Mentor—Powerful Line and Fast Backfield.

Prink Garrison, for six years Medford high school athletic coach recently named freshman coach at the University of Oregon, effective next September, will bequeath to his successor, whoever he may be, a better than average high school football team, with undeveloped power in the line, and plenty of speed in the backfield.

Many of the candidates for the 1929 first squad have been under fire. They were the second string last year, and while they failed to show much polish, they got results. They know the fundamentals of football and are well grounded in the Garrison style of play.

The new Oregon mentor was building them for his own year team. They will pile up no tremendous scores, but any team that plays them will know they have been in a football game.

James Meek, a 145 pound guard, Rowan Green, 180-pound guard, and John Sprague, 165-pound guard, will backfield possibilities.

Green and Sprague were first-string players. Other linemen, who will return and report are Bill Cunningham, a 135-pounder, just out of the junior high school; Mason, a 125-pound center; Zumbun, another junior high school boy, who tips the scales at 170 pounds; Bill Dobbin, 175 pounds, a tackle prospect, and Lyle Castleman, 160. Masters Cave and Huber, both weighing close to 170 pounds, will also be ready for service, so the new coach will have no trouble in getting a fair-sized line.

Cookie Back. Orbin Cookie, fullback on last year's championship team, will be back, along with Richard Applegate. Cookie is big and fast, and Applegate is sturdy, small and fast. Cookie weighs 170 pounds, and is a consistent ground gainer. Al Potter is another backfield possibility, with second team experience, who gained yardage by virtue of his awkwardness. Potter possesses the knack of stubbing his toe, and making six yards more, when they count the most. Charles Thomas and Charles Clay plan to make a bid for quarterback.

Ossie Newlin, with two years experience under his belt, is the only end prospect.

If the above aggregation of boys get any kind of coaching, along with what they already know, they ought to make a good showing. The coach who fills Garrison's shoes will not lack for material, and his job will not be as hard as it seems.

The football schedule for next year, besides Klamath Falls, Ashland and Grants Pass, will include games with Marshfield and the Chemawa Indians—two teams that have maintained athletic relations with Medford in her "big years."

This also includes the Corvallis high school.

If a game is played with Salem high it will be at home, instead of at Salem, on account of the treatment the Medford team received from Salem students at the state basketball tournament.

MORGAN GAINS DECISION OVER INDIAN YOUTH

Zorilla Bores in But Tires As Battle Progresses—Long Left Used By Champion for Sharpshooting—Low Blow Struck.

Following their playing before the Elks last night of the three selections which they will render at the state band tournament at Corvallis tomorrow, and which aroused unanimous admiration, the band of 24 members and their leader, F. Wilson Waite, departed for Corvallis this morning by stage, taking with them the best wishes of the Elks, the student body and Medford generally that they will win first place again at the tournament.

At the time of departure it was known here that six bands for certain, and probably ten, will be entered tomorrow in the sixth annual band contest, sponsored by Kappa Kappa Psi, national honor fraternity for bandmen.

Schools have been divided into two groups this year for the first time, according to size, for the contest. Registrations for the class A contest have been received from Medford, La Grande, Roseburg, Clatskanie, and Corvallis. Class B registrants so far are Marshfield and the girls' band of Seaside. Other schools which have sent informal notifications are Jefferson and Grants of Portland, Albany and Bend.

The Medford high band is composed of the following members: Alan Carley, trombone; John Grubbe, clarinet; Glen Stimpkins, clarinet; Merritt Probstfield, clarinet; Albert Gaddis, clarinet; Royce Kellogg, clarinet; Vaughn Stone, cornet; Gerald Harbeck, bass drum; Charles Conway, cornet; Bert Thornton, cornet; Lucius B. O'Neil, cornet; Wendell Tolle, cornet; Farrell Wood, cornet; Frank O'Neil, cornet; Charles Whillock, saxophone; Don Stone, saxophone; Douglas Wood, bass; Donald Moore, baritone; William Bowman, clarinet; Max Ray, alto; Eddie Gould, alto; Delos Gilbert, snare drum; Leonard Haysen, alto; Everett Cole, trombone; Arthur Schatz, saxophone; Ronald King, trombone; and Robert Steeter, bass.

BUENOS AIRES—Lou Paluso, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Julio Mccorrea, Argentina, drew (12).

Morgan, facing a tiring foe, took the last four rounds.

The nobling, weaving, kinky-haired challenger made his biggest bid in the early rounds, but the pace, a fairly fast one, combined with Morgan's sharpshooting and greater ring generalship, combined to thwart him, through the deciding sessions. Morgan scored heavily at long range with his stinging left hook and used a chopping right effectively when in close.

Morgan's eye was cut in the second round. The injury but spurred the champion on.

Zorilla was warned several times by the referee against hitting low and butting with his head in the clinches. In the ninth round, Zorilla landed a low blow that caused Morgan to double up. After a brief pause to recuperate, the champion signified his willingness to continue.

Morgan has defended his crown 15 times since winning it December 2, 1925.

KELLOGG RICE KRISPIE RECIPES

C. W. Spencer of Seattle is in Medford, distributing samples of Kellogg's Rice Krispies and pushing the sale of this favorite product.

Mr. Spencer is one of those happy individuals, who is thoroughly sold upon the product he is distributing, and while he has asked that this paper tell the housewives to try these two ways in which to use krispies, asserting that once they do this they will never be without rice in this form:

Rice Krispies Macaroons
2 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup coconut
2 cups Kellogg's Rice Krispies
1/2 cup nut meats (chopped)

Beat the egg whites until stiff, add the sugar gradually, then add the vanilla, coconut, rice krispies and nut meats. Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered pan, and bake in a moderate oven (400 degrees F.) until the macaroons are a delicate brown.

Rice Krispies Brittle
2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 cup water
1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups Kellogg's Rice Krispies

Put the sugars, corn syrup and water into a saucepan and cook, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring until the temperature 300 degrees F. is reached. Remove from fire, add butter and stir until enough to mix well. If much stirring is done the brittle will sugar. Add Rice Krispies and turn at once on a greased slab or on a greased inverted pan or baking sheet. Smooth out with a spatula. After about a half minute take hold of the edges of the candy and lift it slightly from the slab, pull it as thin as possible. Break into irregular pieces. Cold water test when candy reaches 300 degrees F.: very brittle.

EGG FLUCTUATION AN INDOOR SPORT PORTLAND DEALS

Portland, Ore., April 5.—(AP) Keeping up with egg values, as they slide up or down from $3 to $4, has come to be quite a pastime with those interested in markets. One day all is lovely and the next morning finds the bottom knocked out or the top lifted to accommodate higher prices.

Eggs were again down today apparently for the same reason that they were up Thursday. At any rate, standard extras have declined two cents to 25, standard firsts one cent and a half to 21, and medium firsts one cent to 21. Eggs are plentiful, but no one can tell what will happen to the price between now and Saturday. The co-operators and the independents are still eyeing each other, but whether with admiration or vengeance remains to be seen.

Butter values were undisturbed.
