ASHLAND CHORAL CLUB SCORES HIT 'NIGHT IN SPAIN'

ASHLAND, Ore., April 10.—(Special)—The glories and romance of old Spain were flashed before the eyes of the audience Tuesday night when the Ashland Choral club presented "A Night in Old Spain." The Choral club is made up wholly of women's voices and has been in training since early in the year under the direction of Mrs. R. W. McNeal, who is to be highly complimented on the success of the program. The accompanist, Miss Hilda Enander, gave a wonderful exhibition of the accompanist's art, and shares in the credit for the finish of the entertainment. "A Night in Spain," a fantasy, was the original work of Mrs. McNeal and represented a street scene from early evening to midnight, picturing the various characters of Spanish life of the old days by means of dance and song.

The presentation was made in the auditorium of the normal school and the stage was a riot of color when the curtains were drawn for the first half hour of the program, which was more formal in character and made up chiefly of numbers by the Choral club. Miss Ruth Yoder contributed a violin solo and Miss Althea Dwyer gave a reading which was well received.

The entertainment marked not only the first appearance of the Choral club but also the first appearance of the "Little Symphony Orchestra," a musical unit made up of musicians from Ashland and Medford.

The unusual stage settings were the work of normal students in the art club under the direction of the art instructor. Miss Imogene Stout. Miss Esther Spencer was chairman of the work.

A large audience filled the auditorium and expressed the greatest appreciation of the combined work of the two clubs and of the art of Mr. McNeil, who is responsible for the program.

Mrs. C. W. Fortmiller was hostess Tuesday evening at her Boulevard home to the members of Chapter A. C. of the P. E. O. Sisterhood. The business program occupied the first part of the evening and was followed by a delightful social hour which closed with the serving of refreshments.

Miss Katherine Phipps has been added to the clerical staff of the Chamber of Commerce and will have charge of the registration of out-of-town cars. This arrangement will give more time to Secretary Mosser for his various duties and to Mrs. McCallen for the increased work of the chamber.

The offices of the Chamber of Commerce are undergoing a general renovation and rearrangement that will give more space for the work of the various committees. These changes will place the department in condition for the tourist season which has really already opened.

Miss Lucile Carson will leave on Tuesday for Roseburg to give her oration on "The Constitution" in the district tryout. She will represent Ashland against seven other schools. Miss Carson will be accompanied to Roseburg by her uncle' O. F. Carson, and by one of the high school teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sams went to Rogue River on Sunday to have a visit with Mr. Sams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sams.

Miss Wilma Gyger of Neil Creek, who works at Medford, was at home to spend the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Gyger.

Mark Smith, who has been confined to his home for nearly a year on account of injuries received in an accident, returned to work Monday in the Southern Pacific yards.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Frulan of Klamath Falls visited Ashland relatives Sunday.

Tom and Harvey Grigsby, who operate the White House market, were visitors in Medford and Gold Hill on Sunday.

Roy Abbott, a senior from the Ashland high school last year and a student at the Oregon Agricultural college, has made a position on one of the baseball teams at the college.

Ladies of the Trinity Guild of the Episcopal church held a most pleasant social afternoon Thursday. A short business session was followed by a season of needlework and conversation. Mrs. P. K. Hammond was hostess for the afternoon and served refreshments at the close of the session. Several guests enjoyed the hospitality of the guild for the afternoon.

Miss Mary Walker of Chiloquin, Ore., spent the week end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Butler, on East Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Johnson spent Sunday visiting at the Birdseye ranch at Gold Hill.

Lou Hanson, proprietor of the Ashland hotel, has returned from a brief business trip to Portland.

Mrs. John Daley and son, John, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Westbrook at the Litha Springs hotel, have returned to their home at Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Angus of Marshfield spent Saturday and Sunday in Ashland.

Mrs. James Boyd was called on Sunday to the bedside of her son, James Boyd, who is in California.

Mrs. John McGill and her two daughters, Jean and Hillis, of Klamath Falls, were in Ashland over the week end to visit at the J. M. Wagner home on Oak street. Miss Hillis McCall was a former student at the Southern Oregon normal school.

William Loomis is the Ashland representative of the Knights Templar conclave which is being held in LaGrande this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Stennett and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Moore were in Monday night attending the meeting of the Neighbors of Woodcraft.

Mrs. S. A. Peters and two children, Millicent and Dick, and Mrs. Peters' mother, Mrs. H. O. Butterfield, left by auto Sunday for Chico, Cal., where Mrs. Butterfield will join her husband, who has located in business there, hoping that the change may benefit his health. Mrs. Peters and children will return soon.

CLOSING HOUR TO BE CONSIDERED

Due to a misunderstanding, the letter sent by the Business and Professional Women's club of Medford, in regard to early closing of stores here, was not taken up at the meeting of the Merchants' association held Monday, April 11, according to Mrs. Claribelle Elliott, president of the women's organization, and Mrs. M. K. Chapman, secretary, who prepared the letter.

"The publicity concerning the Merchants' association action on this issue was misleading," said Mrs. Chapman, this morning. "The letter will be presented again at the next meeting of the merchants in May, at which time it is hoped a definite policy will be outlined," she said.

Have varied flavors on your table

One of the greatest joys in eating is in being able to taste first one flavor, then another—to contrast something sweet, for instance, after the delicate salt of some other food; or the clear tang of juicy fruit with a piece of cake.

It is sugar that helps these delightful contrasts most. It lends emphasis to other flavors by the sweetness of its own. Then it does something more. It accents the true flavor of the food it blends with. A sprinkling of powdered or confectioners sugar over strawberries softens their acid, and clarifies their flavor. Or a small portion of sugar on peas in cooking, makes them taste more richly like peas.

If you have varied health-foods on your table, you have varied flavors . . . milk, fruits, vegetables, cereals, meats, simple desserts. For greater joy in eating, flavor with sugar. The best cooks are generous with sugar. The Sugar Institute.
