A Pleasant Bomb.
Only $72,000,000.
Mr. Coolidge's Work.
Transplanted Gorillas.

(Copyright by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The story of the "deadly" bomb intended for New York's governor, Roosevelt, explodes pleasantly. It was an imitation bomb, manufactured placed and "discovered" by one whose hope was profit and a glorious memory.

"The aspiring youth that fired the Ephesian dome Outlives in fame the pious fool that raised it."

The aspiring gentleman that invented the Roosevelt bomb will be less fortunate.

The Ford company statement, filed in Massachusetts Tuesday, says Mr. Ford has on hand $582,629,563. Not exactly poverty, but $72,000,000 less than Ford had a year ago. This shows that it costs money to change one car to another, rip out great factories and install new machinery.

However, the Ford plant is now producing more than 7000 passenger cars and trucks per day. That $72,000,000 will soon be replaced. Two million cars a year should easily yield $100,000,000 profit, 5 per cent on two billions.

President Coolidge becomes a director in the New York Life Company in place of the late Ambassador Herriek.

Such a man as Mr. Coolidge could not remain idle. And he could with difficulty find work more useful than life insurance. It inculcates thrift, provides for widows and children.

A family of gorillas living in the Kivu district of the Congo, where they inhabited a peaceful volcano, killed by Carl Akeley, are now "dwelling", stuffed, in the Museum of Natural History in New York.

All those that can, should see them.

Nothing could have made those gorillas, when romping around the volcano, believe that such a place as New York existed, or that they would ever go there. But it does exist and they did go.

That might encourage atheists to believe that there may be something finer than New York, and that we may go there later.

The United States, producing 4600 airplanes in 1928, leads in aircraft output.

France in 1928 built only 1,440 airplanes.

Great Britain sells more airplanes abroad than we do.

France, however, has five times as many fighting planes as we have. Her fighting air fleet is so big it makes great Britain very polite.

France is the real airplane country, no matter what others may manufacture. Britain is catching up. We lag behind, but that will change.

A gentleman of the American Defense Society, who would only accept immigrants as much as possible like the Puritans, keeping out others, says "President Hoover doesn't know as much about immigrants as some of us."

Mr. Hoover knows a good deal more about immigration than the American Defense Society knows.

HARDY HAD PART PLAN FOR MISS X

Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff Tells of Jurist's Aid in Framing Alibi for Aimee—Arrangements for 'Miss X' As Carmel Companion of Ormiston Made With Carlos Hardy.

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—(AP)—With Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff on the stand testifying that she arranged with Judge Carlos Hardy to produce a "Miss X" in the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnaping case, the prosecution was blocked today in its attempt to enter as evidence a copy of the affidavit the Carmel mystery woman was said to have signed stating that she accompanied Kenneth Ormiston to the artist colony.

She testified that she produced the woman who "posed as Miss X" in the McPherson kidnaping case and that in her affidavit the woman claimed she was with Kenneth Ormiston, radio operator, in Carmel during the period Mrs. McPherson was missing from Los Angeles in 1926.

The affidavit was drawn and signed in the office of Judge J. H. Bardin in Salinas, Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff said.

The witness testified that arrangements to produce the "Miss X" were made with Judge Hardy, who is charged in one of the articles of impeachment with obstruction of justice.

She said she went to his home, discussed the "proposition" and that when she questioned the safety of going ahead with it, Judge Hardy assured her "I am a respected judge on the superior bench in Los Angeles and have a great deal of influence."

COOL BRUNETTE ROBS COLORADO BANK OF $5000

Teller Awed By Bottle of Nitro-Glycerine — 'Hate to Mess Things Up' Threat Gains Bundle of Bills.

DENVER, Colo., April 12.—(AP)—A pretty young woman, who balanced a bottle which she said contained nitro-glycerine in one hand and a match in the other, and who didn't want five dollar bills "if you please," because they were "too bunglesome," obtained $5000 in currency, in a single-handed hold-up of the Colorado state bank here yesterday afternoon.

The woman, a well-dressed brunette, stepped up to the cage of C. E. Kenney, a bank teller, and passed a note through the bars. "Give me all the bills you have in the cage or I will touch off this bottle of nitro-glycerine and blow you through the window," she said.

Kenney hesitated and the woman looked suggestively at the brown paper parcel in her hand, from which a short fuse protruded. The teller scooped up a bundle of bills and pushed them through the cage window.

LADIES WILL HIKE AROUND LAKE AT LONGVIEW, WASH.

LONGVIEW, Wash., April 12.—(AP)—Garbed in running trunks, flimsy silk gowns, bathing suits or whatever costumes fancy may dictate, 202 fair women hikers will face the starker's gun here tonight in a three and one-half mile "hundred derby" around the shores of Lake Sacajawean.

The race, staged as a feature of the regional meeting of the lower Columbia River associated chambers of commerce, has attracted entries from 22 southwest Washington and northwest Oregon towns, including women hikers who have won similar events elsewhere.

Dr. Ralph Fenton Flies to Operate On Pendleton Boy

PENDLETON, Ore., April 12.—(AP)—At 2:30 p. m. yesterday Dr. Ralph Fenton completed a mastoid operation in a Portland hospital. At 4:30 p. m. he was performing a similar operation here. He was brought here by plane from Portland after the mother of Tom Brooks, 12, had telephoned that her son was in a critical condition and that each fleeting moment meant that much less chance for her son's recovery.

MISSING PLANE IS FOUND NEAR MISSION HOUSE

Search Crew Radios News of Discovery—Food Supplies Dropped—All Appear Safe and Well—Lieut. Anderson Still Lost

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 12.—(AP)—After being lost 12 days in one of the wildest and most inhospitable regions of the world, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions of the airplane Southern Cross were located today by the plane Canberra, the largest of several machines searching for them.

Brief messages from the Canberra to a radio receiving station at Darwin, northern territory, related the sighting of the missing plane, which once flew from California to Australia. The Canberra said the four fliers appeared safe and well. Food was dropped to them, sufficient to satisfy a want which it was feared had become acute.

Captain Holden, piloting the Canberra, gave the plane's location as on a mud flat about 30 miles south from Port George mission station, which is located on the Prince Regent river about 130 miles east of Derby.

There was in the sighting of the men a reminder of the death of Captain Roald Amundson on a mission of rescue for his former enemy, General Umberto Nobile. Lieutenant Keith Anderson, bitter rival of Kingsford-Smith, himself was missing for more than 48 hours after flying into the wilds of northwestern Australia in search of the Southern Cross.

TEXAS STAGES BIG "WHOOPEE" FOR KIND JURY

Night Club Hostess Misses Chance to Write Stories On Jail Life — Invites Court to Club for 'Coming Out' Party.

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP)—Helen Morgan, singer of plaintive melody and the only woman ever to "dilate" the laurels of Texas Guinan as the most popular night club hostess on Broadway, will on Monday stand trial on the same charge of which Texas was acquitted.

Miss Morgan, musical comedy actress, is charged with maintaining a nuisance through sale of liquor at the Helen Morgan club, at which she was hostess. She quit the night club business after her arrest last fall.

Texas was acquitted yesterday in 64 minutes by a jury of middle aged men, who took but two ballots. None had ever been to a night club. The verdict was greeted with cries of "whoopie" by the spectators and Texas lavishly distributed kisses among the spectators and jurymen.

Her only regret, she said, was that by her acquittal she lost $50,000 that had offered her by a newspaper syndicate to write a series of articles on life in jail.

To Norman J. Morrison, special deputy United States attorney general who prosecuted her, she said: "I want to thank you. You were a perfect gentleman."

"Miss Guinan," said the prosecutor, "you were the toughest customer I ever had."

She then issued an invitation to all present, lawyers, jurors and spectators, to pass the evening at her new night club.

The "coming out" party, as Texas termed it, was attended by a crowd that taxed the capacity of the club.

Texas, in a gown of red tulle and satin with stockings and shoes to match, made her entrance to the dance floor while the orchestra played the "prisoner song" and the audience rose and cheered.

GIL FORCES TAKE FIGHT TO ESCOBAR

Federal Cavalry Charge Rebel Camp—Take Hundred Prisoners — Arms and Ammunition Captured—Indians Form Major Portion of Captured Force—Hot Battle Waged

NACO, Sonora, April 12.—(AP)—Federal cavalry today carried the battle into General J. Gonzalo Escobar's rebel camp. Ninety cavalrymen from the federal garrison here this morning charged into a contingent of rebel troops on the Nogales road, west of San Jose mountain, demoralized the revolutionaries and took approximately 100 prisoners.

The number of dead and wounded in the battle, which was fought out of sight and hearing of Naco, had not been determined definitely. The federal cavalrymen returned to the garrison with six or eight empty saddles. They reported they thought one trooper had been killed and several wounded.

Casualties on the rebel side were unknown. Asked regarding them, the federal cavalrymen said "Muchos." Half of the rebel prisoners, disarmed and on foot, were sent in ahead of the returning cavalry, and other were being brought under guard around the west shoulder of San Jose mountain. Arms, ammunition and a supply of clothing, shoes and other equipment were reported by the cavalrymen also to have been taken.

Mostly Indians. Most of the prisoners appeared to be Yaqui and Mayo Indians. Colonel Flores was in command of the federal horsemen who, tired of waiting for the rebels to show themselves again in front of Naco, sallied forth in search of them. The cavalrymen, not sufficiently strong numerically to attempt an attack on the main rebel camp to the southeast, near General Fausto Topete's train at Nina Oro, slipped out of the west trenches and galloped over the rocky hillsides toward San Pedro. Circling San Jose mountain on the west, they came upon the rebels on the Nogales road, and charged into them.

The battle raged hotly for some time before the rebel soldiers began to throw down their arms and beg for quarter from the federal horsemen whirling and circling and raining lead upon them from the brush.

EL PASO, Texas, April 12.—(AP)—Approximately 500 soldiers from Fort Bliss here on the march to Hachita, N. M., today to be available with the 150 cavalrymen already stationed there, to protect lives and property on the Arizona-Mexico border in the event of a battle between opposing forces in the Mexican revolution.

MOORE MURDER JURY STILL OUT IN GRANTS PASS

GRANTS PASS, April 12.—(AP)—The jury in the case of Clyde Moore, charged with second degree murder, began its deliberations this morning shortly before 11 o'clock, and at 4 o'clock this afternoon was still pondering the fate of the 22-year-old youth, who is alleged to have shot and killed his uncle, Raymond Moore, 39, as the climax of a quarrel last January, over a money payment. The shooting took place at Radio park, 15 miles north of Grants Pass.

The state charges that Moore, angry because he had been paid less than he expected for some work he had done for his uncle, shot Raymond with a rifle.

The defense contends the shooting was accidental and that the fatal bullet was released when Raymond Moore grasped the rifle carried by Clyde and that it was discharged as the defendant jerked it away from him.

Moore was arrested the afternoon of the shooting at the home of another uncle, Orville Moore, on Coyote creek, 15 miles from Radio park. He offered no resistance when arrested.

MARION TALLEY TIRED OF OPERA WILL TRY FARM

Youthful Star to Quit Stage at Height of Career—Voice Has Made Half Million—Going West With Family, She Says.

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP)—Marion Talley, youthful Metropolitan Opera star, whose phenomenal career brought her a fortune in three years, has decided to retire to a farm. Estimates are that her "golden" voice has made $500,000.

Since she is only 23 years old and presumably in years to come would earn hundreds of thousands more, she has amazed her concert manager and friends with the statement:

"I have made up my mind to retire from the professional stage. By this I mean all operatic appearances as well. My retirement will be permanent.

"I am going west with my family. The farm might be in California and it might be in Colorado, but I am going to look first in the middle west. I am going to be just like all other farmers."

Her last appearance will be at Cleveland, where she will sing in "Lucia" May 4. Her engagement with the Metropolitan expires with that appearance.

Miss Talley came from Kansas City, Mo., to make a $100,000 debut at the Metropolitan February 17, 1926, as Gilda in "Rigoletto."

Born in Nevada, Mo., Miss Talley gave promise of musical talent at an early age. She sang popular songs at two, began the study of the piano at five and the violin when she was seven.

In 1922 she had her first audition before officials of the Metropolitan. Her lyric soprano was favorably received, and on advice of Mr. Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan, she continued her studies in New York and Europe.

The retirement of a singer so early in a stellar career is unprecedented.

CANTON, China, April 12.—(AP)—More than a thousand alleged radical agitators are estimated to have been executed by machine guns during the past week in a campaign by the Canton authorities to stamp out radicalism here.

CURTIS HAS SUPPORT IN SOCIAL TIFF

Letters Pour in From Public—Vice-President Often Asked Why Not Marry As Solution of Sister Status — Mrs. Gann Accorded Rank of Wife at Embassy Dinner.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(AP)—"P. S.—Why don't you get married?"

In the hundreds of letters which poured into the office of Vice-President Curtis during his controversies with the state department over the social status of his sister and designated hostess, Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, this naive suggestion was found more than once.

The idea always struck the broadly developed sense of humor of the vice-president, but his only response was a chuckle and an occasional reflection that marriage was one of those things that was easier said than done.

Just looking over his increasing stock of mail was enough to convince him that he had said and done something which at least was attracting attention. Intent at righting what he considered a slight to his sister, he had not counted on a public storm, and now he is amazed at the widespread interest. The vast majority of his correspondents supported him.

Friends of the veteran Kansan have insisted all along that he was actuated only by loyalty to family and to office in his public fight for social precedence for his sister, and he confirms that view in private conversation. But he is now wondering if the publicity will ever end.

At the first official dinner which was affected by the situation, Mrs. Gann last night was accorded the same precedence she would have received if she had been the wife of the vice-president.

The dinner was given by Ambassador Davila of Chile, in honor of his government's minister of finance, Pablo Ramirez, who came to Washington to return the courtesy of President Hoover's pre-inaugural visit to his country.

AIDES OF BYRD HOME FROM ANTARCTIC TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—(AP)—Twelve members of Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition arrived today to describe the "heart-breaking struggles" of the explorers in repeated encounters with the forces of nature.

The members of the crew were met in San Francisco by Robert Bryer, of Los Angeles, a member of the Byrd organization in the United States, and one of the backers of the expedition.

They plan to return to their homes after remaining in San Francisco until Sunday, and will return to the expedition as soon as the ice pack breaks.

Will Rogers Says: NEW YORK, April 12.—

Yesterday Al Smith was made director in a second insurance company. Saw Calvin one and raised him one. See where Mr. Coolidge is to get transportation to and from his home to the head office. He ought to have joined the Prudential. They meet on the rock of Gibraltar. With all our prominent men hooking up with insurance companies, it looks like they figure prohibition will remain.

Had all this social stir in Washington over a sister. Suppose it was a mother-in-law. That's not improbable. There are some queer people elected. Leviathan sailed with seven hundred bottles of "medicinal whoopee." Yours, WILL ROGERS.
