BOXING NEEDS CZAR DECLARES FORMER CHAMP

Dempsey Would Have 'Man Like Landis' Control Ring Game — N. B. A. Head Sees Motion — Harmony Needed.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 12.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, promoter, is advocating a "boxing czar."

"What boxing needs to save it from decline is a supreme head, a man of action and power like Landis is in baseball," Dempsey said.

"Today there are too many controlling boxing organizations and none is in agreement with the other, it seems."

"These bodies should get together. There is much to be done and a supreme head, with power enough to make final decisions, could lift the game up to higher standard."

Paul Phern, chairman of the Illinois state athletic commission and president of the National Boxing association, agreed with the suggestion.

"A good man with the power to carry out his ideas would be a great asset to the ring," Phern said. "Today there is too much difference of opinion. The various boxing organizations should get together, form a compact organization and work in harmony for the good of the game."

GORMAN AND O'GRADY DRAW IN CHILOQUIN

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., April 12.—(AP)—Nalls Gorman, Klamath Falls light heavyweight, and Gene O'Grady, Ashland youth, fought 10 hard rounds to a draw in Chilquin last night.

CALIFORNIA CREW SEEN AS VICTORS SATURDAY'S RACE

BERKELEY, Cal., April 12.—(AP)—A light workout today, and crews from the Universities of Washington and California will be ready to meet tomorrow in their annual regatta—the classic of Pacific coast rowing.

Both crews are in perfect shape and observers look for California to repeat its victory of the last two years. The varsity eights of the two schools appear equal in power, but the experience of the California men is expected to prove more of a handicap than the Huskies can overcome.

Coach Ky Eblight of the Bears has revealed that the Bears have covered the three-mile course in a shade below 15 minutes. At Ulbricksen of Washington reports 15 minutes, 10 seconds, as the best his crew has done.

The regatta, including races between the junior varsity and the freshman eights of the two schools, will be held tomorrow morning.

GOLF AND TENNIS STARS TO TRAVEL ON SAME VESSEL

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP)—Glenna Collett and Helen Hills, national women's champions in golf and tennis, will leave for Europe aboard the same liner. They have passage on the Aquitania, leaving New York next Wednesday. Miss Hills' party will include her mother and Miss Edith Cross, young San Francisco star, who will be the national champion's playing partner on her coming European invasion. Miss Collett will be accompanied by her mother and Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis.

Miss Collett and Miss Wall are to play in the British women's championship at St. Andrews.

BANTAMWEIGHTS MAY SHED LIGHT

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP)—Elio Sardinia and Angelo Geraci—otherwise Kid Chocolate and Bushy Graham—hope to shed a little light on the much-muddled bantamweight situation tonight. They clash at Jess McMahon's New York Coliseum in a 15-round bout which should see one or the other eliminated from the bantamweight picture.

Indications are that neither will attempt to make the class limit of 115 pounds, but there seems little reason to doubt that both could get down to it if necessary.

TRAYNOR TO PLAY IN OPENING GAME

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 12.—(AP)—Bellet the 19c Traynor will be able to get into the Plate-Cub opening game next Tuesday was strengthened today. The Cub captain gave his injured hip a thorough tryout in the game against Memphis yesterday and today he reported a slight stiffness of the muscles was the only difficulty he experienced.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—(AP)—"Rabby" Hartnett, Cub catcher, insists his salary wing is healed and that he is ready to work.

Hartnett hasn't caught a game all spring because of his lame arm, and it is doubtful whether Manager Joe McCarthy will let him risk it for two weeks more.

The Cubs were to start a three-game series with Kansas City today.

STANFORD TRACK TEAM HELD BEST

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP)—Emil Von Elting, coach of New York university's indoor intercollegiate track and field team, thinks no eastern outfit has a chance to check the drive of Stanford for another outdoor title next month at Philadelphia. His runners sprang a big surprise by gaining the board floor supremacy, but he entertains no illusions about the outdoor meet.

"No," he said emphatically, "there seems to be no hope of adding the outdoor I. C. A. A. A. championship. Stanford has almost the same team it brought out last year, and should be fully as strong."

To the Poultrymen of Rogue River Valley

It is at such times as we are now passing through, that our poultry practices show us the weak spots in our methods. Egg prices are low and most flocks are also low in production; these two conditions cannot meet without resulting in loss.

Foreseeing this very condition, the FARMERS' EXCHANGE CO-OPERATIVE established a service department. The idea of eliminating the drones in the flocks at any time looked reasonable to us, but we also recognized that so far as profit was concerned it would be more profitable to get rid of these low producers at the time they enter the laying house instead of waiting nine months longer to find that they are not paying for their feed.

The only question was, "CAN IT BE DONE?" We were quite well aware that it had never been done, but Mr. Westerfield convinced us sufficiently, that we decided to establish a service department for the benefit of the poultrymen of this valley.

This department has been well organized for the past three months and is now proving conclusively that we have not only moved forward in our endeavor to make poultry raising more profitable, but have actually demonstrated through this service that the QUALITY and not the COST of the feed is the true solution of the problem of profit.

A byproducts feed can be made and sold very cheaply, but due to the fact that such a feed is low in digestibility and nutritive value; it is really a high priced feed especially when results are considered.

We use high grade grains and grain products in our mashers which we grind and mix in our own mills. We do not purchase or use worthless by-products such as millrun containing ground screenings, weed seeds and straw, ground out hulls, or dust house fluff products.

The North Carolina Experiment Station, after nine years investigation of feed products for poultry, found that byproducts of the character described not only failed to increase egg production, but actually prevented it, due to the fact of low digestibility and the tremendous amount of roughage which the hen is forced to handle and out of such products she cannot extract egg-building material.

Our service department has also proven conclusively that by carefully culling the producer can turn a non-profitable flock into a profitable flock, just by eliminating the star boarders.

As a cooperative organization we offer every poultry producer in this valley the advantage of our service department.

We expect to have Mr. Westerfield with us until fall when the baby chicks he is now taking care of, reach maturity. Every flock should be carefully culled at maturity to keep your business on a paying basis.

We render you true cooperative service by making the BEST FEEDS, CHEAPEST in the end. And helping in all your flock problems from baby chicks to laying hens.

The service is open to all poultry producers of the valley.

The following letters prove conclusively that we are succeeding in our efforts.

Medford, Oregon, March 28, 1929.

Farmers' Exchange Co-operative, Medford, Oregon.

Through your service department I had my flock culled about six weeks ago, leaving me two hundred and fifty-five hens.

Soon after this I commenced to feed your Economy "A" Laying Mash and my hens have continued to increase not only in the number of eggs laid but the eggs are larger and shells stronger.

I am now getting around 320 eggs daily from 255 hens. This is proof to me that it takes good feed to make eggs.

Sincerely yours,

MRS. HANS HOLMER.

Mrs. Holmer's flock of 255 hens, even at 25 cents per dozen for eggs, is now earning net over feed cost $92.00 per month.

Gentlemen:

Am sending you this note to tell you that we have wonderful success with your Baby Chick feeding formula.

We never before got off with so small a loss. It had been a great problem heretofore. Had suspected our former feeding methods and am now convinced that weakness existed.

The chicks are exceptionally large at two weeks of age and we are confident of producing number one layers out of such starters.

Your advice has also, in this short time, improved our egg yield.

Gratefully,

E. C. FIENE.

Farmers' Exchange Co-operative, Medford, Oregon.

We wish to state that our Rhode Island Red Chicks, which are being fed entirely on your feed, are the best we have ever raised.

They are very uniform in size and the gain has been rapid from the very first day; have 1500 in the brooders, the oldest being four weeks old, with a loss to date of less than 2 per cent.

PERRY L. WAIT.

Dear Sirs:

I am following your service department in raising 500 Baby Chicks, which are two weeks old tomorrow; have only lost two, one died and one got killed.

Am very gratefully yours,

MR. AND MRS. HINGATE.
