WARM WEATHER AIDING POULTRY SARDINE CREEK

SARDINE CREEK, Ore., April 26.—(Special.)—The present warm sunshiny days are a great benefit to the gardens and crops, as well as to the poultrymen who have been having a hard time getting baby chicks started well on account of the continued cold, showers and snow.

Waits of the Laurelwood poultry farm has over 1500 young Rhode Island Red chicks, besides about 2000 eggs still in the incubators. Flenes of the Fir Grove poultry farm has over 1000 White Leghorn chicks.

Ralph Dusenberry of Klamath Falls came over last week with his brother, S. A., to remain here while convalescing from a siege of pneumonia. He found that during his absence his house here had recently been broken into and all his canned fruit, consisting of several dozen quarts, had been stolen. The parties who did this act of thievery failed to cover up their tracks and had best beware in the future as they are being watched, and may not escape so easily if they attempt another such deed in our community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller and children, Bernice and Melvin, returned Saturday from a week's visit at their former home in Roseville, Cal., and also in Sacramento. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. McNabb, who expects to remain here for a month or two.

Mrs. E. S. Dusenberry and Mrs. Belle Schindler of Klamath Falls, who have been visiting friends and relatives here the past week, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. M. McAdams and son Orva of San Francisco arrived at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. U. Smith, Monday. Mrs. McAdams remained for an extended visit with relatives here, and her son returned to his home Wednesday. They were accompanied by a sister, Mrs. Rose Haymond of Rock Point, who has been for some time visiting her son Ralph and family in Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Mitchell returned last week from Shasta City, Cal., sporting an Essex coach purchased while there. Mr. Mitchell has turned his Chevrolet truck in on a Dodge truck of heavier type, and is prepared to haul logs as soon as the weather is favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Galligar and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heck of Rogue River were Sunday dinner guests at the Walt home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Dusenberry motored to Klamath Falls Sunday, returning Monday, and reported about four inches of snow on the Greenspring mountain, which fell Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mr. Fiene.

DEMAND BOOSTS BUTTER GRADES

PORTLAND, Ore., April 26.—(AP) Steady demand for butter sent all grades up half a cent today. Extras halted at 43, standards and prime firsts in eggs went up half a cent to 24½ cents. Other grades were unchanged.

California strawberries have reached the local trade and are finding eager buyers at $3.72 per crate of 16 pints.

Oranges are up 25 cents for the larger sizes.

Tomatoes are still pointing upward because of the conditions at the Mexican line, where special assessments are being levied for their passage.

Onions are somewhat weaker. New potatoes are firm with still higher prices expected.
