Who is this mysterious stranger who has parked himself at the Potts House at Northville?

You find out, he's always asking the third question before you get time to answer the first one!

Well, if he can out-talk you he must be somebody, because you always got a system full of conversation and a pair of ears that's sound asleep.

I think that Mr Jones is a moving picture director. He's got his room full of pictures of movie actors all autographed to him and on some it reads "to my director" and they are all in different writing so he didn't do it himself.

Quite right!
