It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to supply parts as long as they are needed by Ford owners.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, we suggest that you take it to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure now will help to prevent costlier repairs later on, increase the value of the car, and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of only $2.60 you can have your generator put in first-class condition. A new universal joint will be installed for a labor cost of $3. Overhauling the carburetor costs $1.50; steering gear, $3.50; radiator, $7.50. A complete overhauling of the rear axle assembly runs between $5.75 and $7 for labor. An average price of $22.50 covers the overhauling of the motor and transmission.

These prices are for labor only because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The cost of these parts is low, however, because of the Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

THE FRIENDLY HAND
By James Whitcomb Riley
When a man pin't got a cent,
an' he's feelin' kind o' blue,
An' the clouds hang dark and heavy,
an' won't let the sun-light thru,
It's a great thing, O my brother,
for a feller just to lay
Of his hand upon your shoulder
in a friendly sort o' way.

Oh, it makes a man feel curious,
an' it makes the tear drops start,
An' you feel a sort o' flutter
in the region o' your heart;
For you can't look up an' meet his eye; you don't know what to say,
When his hand is on your shoulder
in a friendly sort o' way.

Oh, the world's a queer old compound,
with it's honey an' it's gall,
With its cares an' bitter crosses;
but a good world after all;
An' a good God must have made it—
leastways, that is what I say,
When a hand is on my shoulder,
in a friendly sort o' way.

Grange Program for This Week
Talent, Thursday, May 16, 8 p.m.
Live Oaks, Friday, May 17, 7:30 p.m.
Central Point, Friday, May 17, 8 p.m.
Sams Valley, Saturday, May 18, 8 p.m.

Sams Valley Grange
(By Mrs. Margaret Wilson)
One of the main features of Saturday's Grange program was the talk and poultry demonstration by Mr. Westerfield, well known poultry expert. The demonstration was given immediately after the members had enjoyed the regular basket dinner at the Geo. Russell poultry farm, after which all assembled again at the Grange hall.

The young people sprang a surprise on the older members by opening up Grange before they reached the hall and forcing them to work their way in. Many were surprised to find themselves grown rusty thru lack of practice. The older members appreciated the joke immensely.

After an interesting talk by Mr. Westerfield, the regular business was transacted, among which was the decision to discontinue the day meetings until October. The time for that meeting to be set at the next regular meeting.

The marketing committee was requested to investigate a pool order for salt, also to look up markets handling grain sacks and twine.

The membership committee was requested to look up new members and delinquent members.

It was decided by the degree team to put on the first and second degrees for a class of candidates for Central Point Grange at Central Point, on June 7.

Eagle Point Grange
(By Gertrude Haak)
Eagle Point Grange held its regular business meeting last Tuesday evening with a large attendance present.

Henry Conger and wife of Jacksonville were visitors.

One of the principle items of the business program was the report of the Grange hall building plans committee. This committee has spent several months gathering data concerning the finances available for a new hall; also making building plans which would harmonize with the prospectively amount of finance in sight, and the ability of the members to pay.

There was much discussion of the subject, both for and against the committee report, but no definite steps were taken.

The report of the marketing committee shows many articles offered for sale by the farmers thru the Grange marketing exchange.

The master and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mittelsteadt, are the regular delegates from the Grange to the state Grange convention to be held at Marshfield in June.

Mrs. Gertrude Haak was elected alternate delegate. According to reports many members of our Grange are planning to attend the state Grange convention this year. And for those who can possibly spare the time and the small expense, no vacation could afford a good granger greater pleasure or greater benefits. The lecturer's conference, the home economics conference, the deputy's conference, the fire relief directors meetings and all committee meetings, as well as the state Grange business sessions and lecture hour program are open to all fourth degree grangers. There is so much for us all to learn about the many sides of Grange work, and at the state convention one is afforded a wonderful opportunity to acquire the knowledge most needed, and in the intervals between business one has a royal good time.

During the lecture hour last Tuesday night the members were pleased with two musical numbers. A soprano solo by Mrs. Thelma Luy honoring Mother's Day and a contralto solo with violin obligato by Mr. and Mrs. Mittelsteadt.

The debate on the equalization fee, with C. F. Davies, captain, and E. G. Fowler on the affirmative and I. R. Kline, captain, and Mrs. Gertrude Haak on the negative side, proved an interesting "look in" on certain phases of farm relief legislation. While the McNary-Haugen bill is considered a dead issue, yet a study of the various legislative measures brought before congress from time to time concerning farm relief, enables us to have a more intelligent understanding of farm problems.

The judges awarded their verdicts in favor of the affirmative. Henry Conger of Jacksonville, gave an interesting talk, which led to much discussion, and the question of a Grange public market.

The next regular meeting of this Grange will be held on Tuesday, May 21, at 8 p. m.

The home economics committee will have charge of the lecture program. We understand they are planning a surprise for the members.

Visiting grangers always welcome.

Eagle Point Juvenile
Will hold its regular meeting next Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Please don't forget to bring your broomstick, also yourself.

We have been wondering whether the Blues or the Reds will be ahead at this meeting. Call up your friends on the telephone.

Jacksonville Grange
A good business meeting was held last evening at the Jacksonville Grange. Obligations were given by the worthy master, John Neidermeyer, to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Knips and Mr. and Mrs. Langley. The degrees are to be conferred at the next meeting by the Central Point degree team.

The educational feature of the lecture hour was a lecture by W. L. Brown, professor of horticulture of the O. S. C. His speech was of particular interest to parents who had children of high school age. The gist of his speech was vocation guidance for the high school boy and girl, the topic being "A Square Peg in a Square Hole." Facts were illumined by incidents from the life of Abraham Lincoln, Captain Byrd and others. Professor Brown left his audience with several facts worthy of further attention and thought.

As another feature of the program, Lewis Conger gave an account of his trip to Corvallis with Professor Thompson and several other boys of the agricultural class of the Medford high school. Lewis was very enthusiastic over the many activities on the trip which were his good fortune to see. He received special commendation from Professor Thompson for his unusual interest in the educational aspect of the trip.

A social hour and a delicious lunch followed the business meeting.

Lake Creek Grange
Lake Creek Grange held its first regular meeting of the month on Thursday evening, May 9, with an unusually large attendance. The third and fourth degrees were conferred upon eight candidates, Norval Wiley, Mike Sidley, Lawrence Messal, Lester Messal, Lou Walsh, Hazel Wilhite, Mrs. Edith Jones, and Donna Monka.

The impressive degree work was greatly appreciated by a large audience. Much credit is due all members of the degree team and the two leaders who have been responsible for the splendid manner in which the work has been handled. Because of illness, Mrs. Alma Meyer was unable to complete the work which she carried on so faithfully as long as her health permitted. Left without a leader, the team was very fortunate in being able to secure Claus Charley as drill captain. Under his competent direction, it has been possible to resume practice and carry the work through in a most satisfactory way.

Members also feel indebted to Mr. and Mrs. T. Scammon of the Eagle Point Grange who met with us when the drill team first organized and gave us valuable aid and instruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Mittelsteadt of the Eagle Point Grange were welcome visitors at our meeting Thursday evening. Mr. Mittelsteadt, who is master of the Eagle Point order, gave a short talk commending the drill team for its work, mentioning especially the floor work and tableaux.

He also announced that a short business meeting and long social hour will be held at the Eagle Point Grange on next Tuesday evening, and extended a cordial invitation to Lake Creek grangers.

Mrs. Mittelsteadt very kindly assisted Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Monka with the songs during our degree work.

The agricultural committee has used the money received from the Jackson county fair for its exhibit last fall to buy seeds. These seeds it is distributing among the grangers, hoping to receive some good products for the fair next fall.

Mrs. Alma Meyer gave a very instructive and interesting explanation of the significance of each of the four degrees conferred in subordinate granges.

A few numbers in observance of Mother's Day were given by the children. They included a song, "O, Beautiful for Motherhood," by children of the Butte Creek school, and recitations on Mother's Day by Helen Brown, Eldred Charley, Irene Charley, and Gwendolyn Charley.

At the next meeting, May 24, the three graces will give a program which promises to be a very good one.

The next Grange dance at the Lake Creek hall will be given May 18. Everybody welcome.

From "Value of the Grange as a Community Organization"
By Geo. A. Palmiter, master Oregon State Grange.

"The principles of the Grange are very broad and benefits accruing through the efforts of the organization are not for the membership only but are enjoyed by all the people of the district, state or nation as is shown by naming a few of the important benefits we now enjoy because of the organized and persistent efforts of the granges. Rural mail delivery, parcel post, extending money order privileges to rural postoffices, securing pure food laws, and railroad regulations, aiding in the establishment of agricultural colleges and extension service in the various states and many other things which people now enjoy, which I believe bears out our statement that the Grange is one of the best community organizations and is deserving of the support of all the people engaged in agriculture.

"The Grange is also a social and educational organization and allows of the opportunity of social contact whereby local problems and conditions can be discussed and through the lecturer's program, which should never be omitted from any Grange meeting, much valuable information is dispensed, and each member is given the opportunity of self improvement if they will take part in these programs and discussions.

"The statement has been made that the Grange has proven a high school and college to thousands of people who otherwise would never have had the chance for improvement."

What Famous Users Say About Richfield

ART GOEBEL

Shortly after we broke the non-stop Coast to Coast record with Richfield Gasoline, we made a comparison of four well-known motor fuels. We discovered in this test that Richfield, in addition to giving us greater power and speed, would enable us to remain in the air two hours longer per one hundred gallons than any of the other fuels. Naturally, we used Richfield in our most recent victory, the Los Angeles to Cincinnati non-stop race.

One of America's foremost pilots...winner of the Dole-Hawaii flight; first to shatter the Army's five-year old transcontinental record and winner of the Los Angeles to Cincinnati non-stop race

Goebel adds his tribute to those of dozens of other leaders in the field of motordom, who endorse and use Richfield products—such men as Harry Miller, Fred Duessenberg, Anthony Fokker, Allan Loughhead, Harry Hartz, Captain Wilkins and Ralph Snoddy—men whose achievements as designers and pilots are internationally recognized.

Richfield's qualities—proved in grueling competitive events—are the same qualities you need in your own motor car—instant power, speed and acceleration without loss of mileage. What gasoline do you use?
