

UHLE HAS OLD STUFF ON BALL IN NEW BIRTH

Comeback Being Staged Under Bucky Harris—Athletics Hold Tie—Babe Adds to Consecutive Hitting in 13th Game.

By Herbert W. Barker. Associated Press Sports Writer. If you don't believe the old saying about the benefits of a change in scenery, consider the case of George Uhle, now throwing up his right-hand stunts for Buck Harris' Detroit Tigers.

For ten years Uhle did all his work for the Cleveland Indians and very good work it was for the first eight of them. After a sensational season in 1926, when he won 27 games and lost 11, Uhle did back in alarming fashion. He won only eight games against nine defeats in 1927 and only 12 against 17 reverses last season. Apparently at odds with their quondam star pitcher, Cleveland officials traded him to Detroit during the winter for Ken Holloway and Jackie Taylor.

Under Buck Harris' soothing influence at Detroit, Uhle has come back with a bang this year. Beating the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 3, yesterday Uhle chalked up his sixth victory without a defeat, the best record in either major league.

Despite their defeat, the Athletics held on to a tie for first place, for the Yankees obligingly lost their third straight, this time to Cleveland by a 4 to 3 count. Hadlin gave the champions only three hits in the first eight innings and stuck to his guns in the ninth to quell an uprising that ended with the tying run on base. Babe Ruth hit safely in his 13th consecutive game. Behind fine pitching by Danny MacFayden, the Boston Red Sox bunched three hits off Grady Adkins in the fourth inning to down the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 1.

Rain washed out the St. Louis-Washington game.

Cubs Back.

In the National League the Cubs bounced back into first place with a 6 to 4 triumph over the Boston Braves, while the lowly Phillies were beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 10 to 9.

The Braves hopped on Clarence Jonnard for two hits in the first inning and with two Cubs errors and a base on balls, scored four runs. Charley Root then relieved Jonnard and held the Braves scoreless the rest of the way which the Cubs were pecking away at Sox Seibold for the winning tallies in the third and seventh innings.

Barney Friberg's double with the bases filled in the ninth enabled the Phils to win an uphill struggle from the Cardinals. The Phils trailed by five runs in the eighth but Cy Williams' pinch-hit home-run with one on accounted for two runs in the last half of that frame and four more came across in the ninth.

At New York, John McGraw's Giants were blanked by Dolf Luque and the Cincinnati Reds dropped into seventh place in the standings. Luque held the New Yorkers to six scattered hits and added insult to injury by hitting out a home-run in the sixth.

The Pittsburgh Pirates eluded four Brooklyn pitchers for 18 hits and an easy 12 to 4 decision and thereby moved up into a tie with Boston for third place, while the Dodgers were sinking deeper into the cellar. Larry French, young southpaw, pitched steady ball for the Corsairs.

SCISSORS EXPERT PINS MALCEWICZ

TULSA, Okla., May 14.—(AP)—Stecher, Nebraska scissor artist and former holder of the world's heavyweight wrestling crown, took an appreciative stride forward in his comeback campaign here last night when he defeated Joe Malcewicz, the Utica, N. Y., panther.

Stecher lost the first fall in 51 minutes of cautious grappling when, in his anxiety to bring Malcewicz to the floor where he could apply the full force of his body scissors, he became careless of his shoulders and allowed them to rest upon the mat.

In the second fall, which came in 12 minutes, Stecher crashed down upon Malcewicz, his knee sinking in the Panther's side as they landed and his scissors brought a quick finish. When Malcewicz returned for the last fall he was obviously in pain and succumbed to another body scissors in one minute.

WOOD TOES PROVE TOO POWERFUL IN MATCH WITH HAND

Winning the last two falls in fairly short order, Sailor Jack Wood, local pride, defeated Ralph Hand, former Gold Hill wrestler, in his six-round special event with Jackie McCoy of Seattle, he surprised fans and took four rounds with little trouble. The first two rounds were declared to be a good draw. Pat won the bout by leading the fight to his heavier opponent, who did not seem anxious to mix gloves with the Medford leather-pusher. While he suffered no decisive punishment, McCoy was not able to return even half the blows he received from Padelford.

In the preliminary, Larry Connelly, a local man, sustained a blacked eye, a bloody nose and a badly bruised face as the result of mixing gloves with Joe Corbett of Roseburg. While Conolly was the larger man, he had no science, and most of all, did not know how to protect himself, making his face an easy target for Corbett's flying fists.

As a curtain-raiser, two young flyweights, announced as "Ace Dudkins" and "Mickey Walker," fought three one-minute rounds, going after each other with the determination of grown-ups.

The crowd nearly equalled in numbers the attendance at the O'Grady-Gorman fight here a short time ago.
