

LAKE OF WOODS SEASON OPENING SET FOR SUNDAY

Welcome news to the Medford, Ashland and other valley people who have private cottages at the Lake of the Woods, and others who would like to visit that high mountain pleasure place, is that the road from the Klamath side to the resort is now open, has been since early this week, and is in fairly good condition, that the Lake of the Woods season will be informally inaugurated Sunday, when everything will be in operation by the resort company except the restaurant.

open and equipped for occupancy, the grocery, boats, fishing tackle, etc., are now ready for all comers, and, while the restaurant will not function until later on, visitors need not worry about obtaining plenty of food.

This news was brought back to the city by Manager James Grey and C. E. Terrill, who have returned from a trip to the resort since last Monday night.

Former Sheriff Terrill and Mrs. Terrill, who have operated the grocery and boat concession on this side of Diamond Lake for several years past, will be in charge of the grocery at the Lake of the Woods this season.

BELLINGHAM BEAUTIES VISITORS HERE TODAY EN ROUTE HOME BY AIR

"We shall always remember Medford as one of the bright spots on our air trip to Hollywood," said Miss Ruth Rivers of Bellingham, Wash., who arrived in Medford this forenoon by plane en route to her home, accompanied by the Misses Edith Carhart, Muriel Trickey and Margaret Layne. Miss Rivers stopped in Medford last Tuesday as Queen Ruth and the Misses Trickey and Layne were Princesses Muriel and Margaret, of the Northwest Tulip festival, held last week in Bellingham.
"I am just plain Ruth Rivers now and my queen days are over," she said as she and her party were eating lunch at Franklin's at noon. "But I have been having such a good time I am loathe to leave them. Everywhere we have been, they have all been so good to us, and it has been just like one big picnic. We only left Bellingham last Monday and here we are due to be back home tomorrow."
Airplane riding has found a whole-hearted enthusiast in Miss Carhart, who chaperoned the three girls on the trip, and she declared moving in the air has almost become as natural as riding in a motor car, but she grows it will be hard to again become accustomed to the speed of ground vehicles.
Next Monday the girls will all go back to various positions they hold in Bellingham, with the exception of Miss Layne, who lives in Sedro-Wooley.

INSPECT FOR BLIGHT
URGES COUNTY AGENT

Fear blight is making its appearance in several orchards throughout the county, the agent should be on the watch for any infections in their orchard to the end that no serious cutting of trees will have to be done.
The second bloom of Bartlett's will soon be on and this period is when most new infections are likely to occur.
A careful inspection of orchards for the next month will be a program very much worth while for all pear growers to follow.
L. P. WILCOX,
County Agent.
