EAGLE POINT GRANGE COMMUNITY MEETING

(Contributed.) Talk about a circus. Well, there may have been some fancy acting in Al Barnes circus, but believe me, it wasn't a drop in the bucket compared to what Al Mittelstead's Grange is going to put on next Wednesday night.

And what's more, there will be no charge at the gate and no charge for reserved seats. Just a big community night, to which all Grangers and the community are invited.

Supper at 7:30. Each one is asked to bring a covered dish. That is all we ask, and you know what a spread that means.

Something doing every minute, during supper hour and afterwards. One of the big attractions will be a boxing match between the Master and the Overseer. Talk about a Mexican cock-fight, why—but never mind, you'll just have to come and see it.

It is rumored that a special election will have to be held after this big event to fill some vacant chairs in the Grange.

Plays and stunts will be in charge of the 13 officers of the Grange, and will be continuous from 7:30 until midnight. Then goodnight.
