

57 RESIDENTS GIVEN MENTION IN 'WHO'S WHO'

"Who's Who in Oregon," a volume containing the names of citizens of civic industry and prominence, has been mailed and contains the names of 57 residents of Jackson county. A biography accompanies each name.

The compiler of the interesting book, E. E. Brodie, editor of the Oregon City Enterprise, in the preface, explains that many names are missing, because the leading citizens failed to turn in their biographies, though they were requested to do so "as many as three times."

The Jackson county list is: David Wood, county manager; R. J. Palmer, merchant; C. T. Baker, secretary chamber of commerce; A. C. Allen, author; John H. Carlin, attorney; J. B. Coleman, county assessor, who is listed as a financier, and Floyd J. Cook, listed as "manufacturer and inventor."

Dillard, civil engineer, Ashland; J. C. Hopper, financier, Ashland; Dr. L. D. Inskeep, and William E. Greenleaf, Central Point, reader and Shakespearean authority.

DORIS JONES LEADER HI COMMERCIAL CLUB

The election of Commercial club officers for the school year of 1929-30, was held at the high school Wednesday afternoon. Most of the officers were closely contested. The successful candidates were: Doris Jones, president; Billy Harriman, vice-president; Mary Snider, secretary and Ruth Hooker, treasurer.

The Commerce club has just been reorganized for the coming year, under the direction of Mr. Knox, commercial advisor. The commerce club of two years ago was known as the Junior Chamber of Commerce, but disbanded due to the fact that the name was confused with Junior high school clubs.

DECISION OF YREKA ON BASEBALL PENDING

Following a meeting held yesterday at Ashland to form a southern Oregon baseball league, the conferees are awaiting the final decision of Yreka, Calif., which is expected today. Klamath Falls agreed to enter the league, and will probably play in this city a week from next Sunday.

The Medford and Ashland teams will clash again next Sunday at the ball park, and a better game than last week is expected. Both teams have been practicing this week and their team work will be better.
