

ATHLETICS FALL BEFORE TIGERS BATTING ORGY

Quinn and Orwall Unable to Stem Tide of Detroit Hits — Cubs Plaster Giants With Five Home Runs, to Win, 10 to 9.

By William J. Chipman
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The long trail ended for the Athletics and the Giants yesterday when the Tigers and the Cubs spent their respective afternoons in getting a big revenge for recent humiliations, but no great cheer was heard to go up from the camps of the Browns and the Yankees at the general state of affairs in the American league. The New York entry gained one full game on the flying Mackmen as a result of the day's proceedings and the Browns held their ground, but neither received any guarantee that Professor Connie Mack would not go forward again at an early date.

The Athletics were due to lose a game some time, and it had to be the veteran, John Pious Quinn, who succumbed to Detroit bats. After the death of all the pitchers retired from the field of action, Mr. Mack tried the daring experiment of exposing Oswald Orwall to enemy fire, with the result that the Tigers sealed their victory by 8 to 4 to the accompaniment of home runs by Hellmann and Shea and fine pitching by Victor Sorrell.

With Ruth and Gehrig still on the shelf, the Yankees were not so ferocious on the offensive as they have been known to be, but they had enough to squeeze out the decision over Red Faber and the White Sox by 4 to 2.

The Yankees now have seen four successive starting pitchers finish their games.

The Browns suffered a heart-breaking reverse at Washington when the Senators, themselves with no particular destination, turned loose a six-run rally in the ninth to win 8 to 7. The Senators got nowhere, and the Browns fell one game nearer the Yanks.

Jimmy Zinn turned in five-hit pitching to defeat Charlie Rufing and Jack Russell at the home of the Red Sox. The score was 4 to 9.

Turned back in three games on their home field, the Cubs did five home runs at Giant pitching to save the last game of the series by 10 to 9.

The victory continued the Cubs in third place. The Giants retained the fourth rung of the ladder as the Pirates again got even with the Phillies, this time by 5 to 6.

The Cub home runs were delivered as follows: Wilson, 2; Grimm, Grace, Hornsby, one apiece; Douthett and Terry, hit for the circuit for New York.

The Cardinals got only an even break against the Robins, winning the first game by 3 to 1 and permitting Brooklyn to take the second by 11 to 8. The Cards remained comfortably in first place, but both the Pirates and the Cubs gained a bit.

St. Louis won the first game in the seventh when Jim Bottomley's homer with Douthett on base sent Watson Clark to defeat and credited a victory to Jess Hatties. Gink, Hendrick and Babe Herman featured the Robins attack in the

Oswego Bone Crusher Pits Speed Against Extra Weight

Bob Kruse.

Bob Kruse of Oswego, near Portland, is regarded as Oregon's best contender for the world's heavy-weight championship, now held by Gus Sonnenberg, and to bear up his contention he has been winning the majority of his matches since he returned last year from Australia. He has plans of again supporting his contention in his match Friday night at the Amory, where he meets Moose Norbeck of Portland.

Norbeck outweights Kruse several pounds, but the latter's speed is expected to overcome this obstacle. Two preliminaries will precede the match, and will present Curly Woods of Medford against Joe Corbett of Roseburg and Young Gotch of Gold Hill against Larry Conly of Medford.

Handrick hit two home runs, each with two on, and Herman got four hits out of four times at bat.

The Braves shaded Cincinnati by 4 to 1 in the remaining National league struggle.

Irish Comedy

A short, good-natured Irishman, with a brogue and smile as broad as his shoulders, will be at the late tomorrow when "Finnegan's Ball," a comedy hit of the year, will begin a limited run. The actor is Charles McHugh.

Chas. McHugh has played but few other than Irish parts, and that of Danny Finnegan, the diminutive fighting Irishman in this comedy is said to be one of the finest of them all. Mack Swain, Aggie Herring, Blanche McHaffey, Cullen Landis are in the all-Irish cast.

PURDUE GUILTY HIRING TALENT CLAIMS COACH

CHICAGO, June 5.—(AP)—The Big Ten athletic turmoil grew today as Ernest Case, basketball coach of Frankfort, Ind., high school, advised he was prepared to go before Commissioner John L. Griffith with proof that Purdue, as well as Iowa, was guilty of subsidizing athletes.

Coach Case said he also would prove to Commissioner Griffith that Purdue revealed his credit mixup with Iowa because he refused to recruit for Ward "Biggy" Lambert, Ballmaster basketball coach.

Charges, presumably coming from Purdue, were made recently that Case had sent two of his star basketball players, Doyal Plunkett and Bob Stradling, to Iowa in exchange for free teaching credits.

Nelson Kellogg, Purdue director of athletics advised the Associated Press over long distance telephone that he would be glad to have Case outline his charges.

"We are anxious to know if any one connected with Purdue is guilty of proselyting or subsidizing athletes," Kellogg said. "And if Case has such information, now is the time to give it to Commissioner Griffith. But as far as I know there is no basis for such charges."

RAIN GREAT BENEFIT ASSERTS PROF. REIMER

At the Southern Oregon experiment station near Talent this afternoon, according to Prof. Frank Reimer, the rainfall of the past two days up until 2:30 p. m. amounted to 1.14 inches.

The wonderful beneficial feature of so much rain falling so early in June means that it has soaked in the ground seven or eight inches, and is of untold value to the grain crops of the valley, assuring great crops of wheat and barley, and a second crop of alfalfa.

FAREWELL LUNCHEON FOR REV. LAWRENCE

Rev. E. P. Lawrence, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, who recently accepted a call to Caldwell, Idaho, was given a farewell luncheon by the Ministerial association this noon at the Hotel Medford.

Between 18 and 20 were present at the affair, including members of the association and their wives. The program consisted of informal expressions of appreciation on the part of the local ministers for the splendid co-operation given the organization by Rev. Lawrence.

As a farewell gift, the ministers presented Mr. Lawrence with a work organizer, or letter book, which they believed he would find helpful in his new study.

RECORD RAINFALL PERCOLATES THRU CEILINGS OF CITY

The record-breaking short rain period for June so far still continued today with heavy showers, one of which came about 1 p. m. that was exceptionally heavy, accompanied by hail, and further showers are forecast for tonight and Thursday.

In all, during the 24 hours ending at 5 a. m. today, 50 of an inch of rain fell in Medford, which, added to the 46 of an inch that fell during the 24 hours immediately prior to that time, made 1.36 inches that fell during the 48-hour period ending at 5 a. m. today. Much rain fell after the latter hour, which the weather bureau had not measured up to the hour of going to press this afternoon.

The average rainfall for the month of June in Medford for the past 50 years is .75 of an inch, and this month's rainfall so far is almost double that. The total for the season up to this morning was 12.4 inches.

Heavy showers fell during hard rains yesterday afternoon and last evening, and a steady rain kept up during most of last night.

The heavy showers of the past two days have tested weak roofs on residences and business structures, with the result of many leaks developing and causing considerable damage by allowing water to leak into structures, weakening plastering and causing it to collapse.

During the city council meeting last night water oozed through the city council chamber ceiling for a long time, and the plastering began to fall in spots. One large piece fell to the floor with a loud crash some time after City Treasurer Berrian had moved away from under it, and almost knocked a corner off City Health Officer Inskeep's foot.

City Superintendent Scheffel was kept busy during the council meeting with a mop and broom, mopping up water from the floor so that cold councilmanic feet would not also get wet.

In the offices of Hanna & Enright in the Jackson County bank building plastering fell to the floor, also much water.

CHILD MUSICIANS DELIGHT HEARERS

A delighted audience of music lovers filled the Isis theater to listen to the concert given by the Hollywood "Miracle Baby Artists," Joan and Jeanne Haimbeck. Only a few times in a generation is it given to man to listen to real genius such as these girls possess.

Opening their program with the difficult Bruck Concerto played by Miss Joan and followed by the Shadow Song from Dimorak sung by Miss Jeanne, the young artists immediately won the hearts of the audience. The program was of pleasing length and the numbers, both classic and popular, afforded something of special interest to all. Preceding the concert a group of dance numbers was presented by the following pupils of Miss Ruth Luy: Miss Barbara Ann Braxton, Frankie Rinabarger and Ethel Chord, while Miss Barbara Holt and Miss Dorothy Paley, pupils of Mrs. E. E. Gore, were heard in piano solos.
