CARD DEFEAT PUTS PIRATES IN TOP SPOT

Bucs Handed Lead Without Effort When Giants Trim Cardinals, 6 to 4—Boston Hands White Sox 17 to 2 Drubbing.

By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer.

After compiling a losing streak of one consecutive game, the Athletics returned to the winning column yesterday as their fellow Pennsylvaniaans, the Pirates, climbed into the National league lead without lifting a bat. The Buccaneers turned this trick by sitting idle in the rain while the Giants thumped the Cardinals by 6 to 4 at St. Louis.

The Athletics defeated the Browns by 5 to 2, and, of course, gained a full game over the St. Louis cardinals who fell into third place. The Yankees worked arduously for 12 innings to defeat Cleveland by 6 to 5 at the Ruppert stadium. Both the Yankees and the Browns now are six and one-half games behind the Athletics, but the champions have an edge over St. Louis in percentage because Dan Howley's men have played more games and lost more.

The Macklin victory gave Rubie Walters another opportunity to display his mastery over the St. Louisians, who collected only four hits off his delivery.

The pitching perfection which has marked recent games at the Yankee stadium was missing yesterday when Walter Hoyt had to have the help of Fred Hettrich to nullify the Buckner through successfully. John Miljus saved Joe Shante from a bad situation in the seventh but himself succumbed in the 12th when two scratch singles, a pass and a sacrifice manufactured the winning run.

The Sox ran up the amazing total (for them) of 23 hits and 17 runs to defeat the White Sox by 17 to 2 at Fenway.

Washington continued its improvement by defeating Detroit, 6 to 2. Fred Marberry halted the famous Tiger attack with five hits. Action in the National league was diminished by rain which prevented Pittsburgh and Boston from playing. John McGraw employed his old device of making two second string pitchers do the work of one first line man. After the Cardinals pitched Carl Mays for three runs, Bill Walker was sent in to oppose Clarence Mitchell. The relief man hung on until the Giants gave him a lead, and then held it. Chick Hafey's 13th home-run helped the Cardinals to rout Mays.

The chief item of interest in Cincinnati's 21 to 4 decision over the Phillies was Chuck Klein's 14th home-run, which enabled this hard-hitting Philadelphiaian to retain the inter-league lead.

The Cubs seemed ready to lose another one when a sudden rally for four runs in the ninth gave them a decision over Brooklyn by 4 to 3.

DERN SUBDUES KRUSE WITH AERIAL SMASH

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6.—(AP) Ira Dorn, Salt Lake, heavyweight wrestler, took two out of three falls from Bob Kruse, Oswego, here last night. Dorn won the first fall in 32 minutes, by knocking Kruse out on a flying clammer. Kruse took the second fall in five minutes, nine seconds with a succession of standing wristlocks. Dorn took the final fall in two minutes when he hoisted Kruse in the air, threw him over his shoulder and smashed him to the mat. Dorn weighed 185, Kruse 184.

In the preliminary, Ray Jeffries, Portland, and Joe Reynolds, Los Angeles, wrestled to a draw, each winning a fall.

WRESTLING

Bob Kruse, Oswego wrestler, may receive a decided setback in his wrestling ambitions when he meets Moose Norbeck at the Armory tomorrow night. If Moose has his way about the matter, he is in Rosburg several days and there last evening said Kruse was due for a well deserved defeat, especially after a match at Astoria, where Kruse used questionable tactics in defeating Norbeck.

WRESTLING

Moose wrestled Sailor Jack Wood of this city in Rosburg last evening and it was not particularly hard work to defeat the local man for one fall in ten minutes. He is well muscled and has years of wrestling experience behind him. He believes Kruse's comparative inexperience, although the latter has wrestled several years, will make the match much easier. Norbeck is operating an athletic show and for the past six weeks has been meeting all comers.

Kruse, however, is of a different opinion than Moose and believes in his just another match to win. He is particularly anxious to defeat Norbeck to retain his prestige in the wrestling world.

BRISBANE'S TODAY

800, more modern, that lived only 110,000,000 years ago.

More interesting than the brontosaur or the mosasaur and their doings is the fact that human beings undoubtedly will be living and working here 100,000,000 years from now. What sort of creatures will they be after so long a period of evolution?

"Only 12,000 years from the late stone age now, we have done a good deal. What will men accomplish in the next fifty or a hundred million years?"

Wall Street did not feel so very happy yesterday. Pierce men, in the United States Senate, thought Wall Street ought to be investigated, and stock gambling discouraged. Anybody that bought stock and sold within 90 days should be taxed substantially.

Such talk is annoying, when you are watching the ticker. However, it does not affect real values, although it may affect temporary price quotations.

Select your real value, pay for it, don't gamble, and you need not worry.

In New York yesterday the directors of the Guaranty Trust Company voted to their stockholders $20 a year profit per share, and announced a dividend of a "million" of about $90,000,000 at present market prices.

The business of lending money is comfortable and profitable.

The new British cabinet may include one woman, Margaret Bondfield, member of the labor party.

Many believe that President Hoover's cabinet should include at least one woman. That may come later.

The United States should have at least one woman ambassador to an important country, if only to prove that women have more common sense than men.

Eighty-four years ago a little girl was born in San Francisco, under the Mexican flag. She died Tuesday, San Francisco, when she first saw it, was a little Mexican girl called "Verba Buena."

Now it is a great metropolis.

She was the first "white child" of Anglo-Saxon parents born in San Francisco.

It is hard to realize how many things have happened in this country since that little girl was born.

CONCRETE WORK STARTS ON NEW PRE-COOL PLANT

Construction work on the new $50,000 pre-cooling plant of the Medford Ice and Storage company on South Fir street, is progressing rapidly, and the pouring of concrete has started. The plant will be completed and ready for operation by July 20.

Storage engineers are now working on plans for the installation of a conveyor system, that will permit the passage of a box of fruit from any part of the plant to a refrigerator car with but one handling. This will require the use of a system of belts and gravity rollers. It will eliminate all rough handling and expedite the removal of fruit from the unloading platform. The conveying system will be the most modern in the valley.

The work of storing ice in the new ice warehouse, is proceeding at the rate of 118 tons per day. The warehouse has a capacity of over 10,000 tons. It will not be filled to the caves this year, owing to a lack of time, but there will be more than an ample supply of ice for the fruit shipments.

The ice company is mobilizing its forces and machinery, for the coming season.

Through arrangements with the Southern Pacific and the Pacific Fruit Express, past years' delays in "spotting" and unloading of fruit cars when loaded will be eliminated.

JUNIOR HIGH P. T. A. ENTERTAINS FOR INCOMING CLASS

The local junior high school held its annual picnic at the new open house to the graduates of the city grammar schools in the city last night from 8 o'clock to 10:30. Sponsored by the P. T. A. of the intermediate school, the affair was planned to welcome and initiate the youthful graduates into the new routine. It also served as a rally to enroll the mothers of the future junior high students in the P. T. A. of the school.

Under the direction of Mrs. James J. McNeil, newly elected president of the Junior High P. T. A., who delivered an informal address of welcome to the mothers and children, the association acted as hostess to the visiting mothers. Shouldering their responsibility with eager willingness, the junior high school students spared no pains to show their young visitors the grounds, the class rooms and the building in general, explaining the changes they were to expect in the curricula.

Entertainment was furnished by the Ewe Tension dancing class, who generously contributed a group of numbers, by Betty Brown, well known local musician, who played piano solos, and by Evelyn Heroman of the junior high school, who appeared in a clever black-face monologue.

CLOUDS THREATEN CONTINUED RAINS IN ROGUE VALLEY

There is no letup in sight yet to the unprecedented early June weather period, as following yesterday's showers and the more or less steady rain of last night, today was cloudy and threatening, with light falls of rain at times and indications of a heavy shower breaking out any minute, and the forecast is for probable showers tonight and Friday.

The total rainfall in Medford and vicinity since June 1 to 5 a. m. today amounted to 2.18 inches, almost three times as much as the average entire month of June rainfall for the last 50 years. Of this amount, 27 of an inch fell during the 24 hours ending at 5 a. m. today, making the season's rainfall so far 13.23 inches.

Evidence continues to accumulate from all parts of the valley that this big early June rainfall is of untold value to the field and garden crops and orchards, as the moisture has permeated deep down into the soil.

Little damage has been caused by the hard showers, and accompanying hail in some sections, the general pound and down of vegetable plants and silencing them a trifle and making the gardens too muddy to work in at present, compared with the great general good that will show in these crops later on because of the plentiful moisture.

Reports were heard in the city today that the continued rains have slowed up the straw berry crop, making picking of berries and cultivation difficult because of muddy conditions, and the flattening down of the plants.

The early afternoon a heavy shower of yesterday was accompanied by much hail in certain Medford neighborhoods, which did little damage, but at the county agent's office no reports had been received today of hail damage in the rural districts.

With all this rain the weather continues quite mild, although cold enough to make fires comfortable in homes, especially in the mornings.
