Tourist travel, as a result of the rains of the past week, has shown a decided slump, according to local state traffic officers. They state that on their patrols of the Pacific highway they see few motorists, in comparison to the period of bright sunshine that preceded the present inclement weather. The majority of the tourists are encamped at auto camps and many stay at hotels along the road, waiting for better weather.

A great deal is being said about the weather, but very little is being done. However, we predict glorious picnic weather for this week end. Get it at DeVoe's—everything for picnic and fishing parties. 77*

Sometime ago Medford was agitated by newspaper articles which declared that salmon were being killed and mutilated by the hundreds at Savage Rapids dam. These reports had been carried back to the near creek village by a couple of Medford sportsmen, so this week the superintendent of fish screens, who lives in Medford, came down to the dam and showed the fish to the proper side of the river so they could go up the fish ladder. He found no dead salmon and no mutilated ones, which of course was no statement for an official from the upper valley to make.—Grants Pass Courier.
