

DUTCH ACT TO QUELL UPRISING CURACAO ISLE

Warships Ordered to Scene of Bandit Operations at Willemstad—Military Police Overcome Saturday—Three Killed.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, June 10.—(AP)—The Dutch authorities moved promptly today to deal with Curacao, Saturday night when a situation created at Willemstad, a force of 500 men described as Venezuelans, overcame the military police and seized the store of arms in the police barracks.

While the reasons for the attack were somewhat obscure, the Dutch colonial office was of the opinion that the raid and the seizure of the police arms were part of a movement by the attackers to be launched against the government of Venezuela.

WILLEMSTAD, CAPITAL OF THE ISLAND OF CURACAO, IS APPROXIMATELY 40 MILES FROM THE VENEZUELAN MAINLAND.

BOTH EIDER ON TOUR.

"Oh, you ask if I'm ever thinking of flying over the ocean again? Well, we can settle that now, for there's nothing so assuring as having the earth under you, instead of miles and miles of water. Of course, my flight with George Haldermann was interesting and thrilling, but I wouldn't want to repeat it. I still remember those 45 minutes we spent on top of the wings of our ship. The minutes seemed like hours and during that time, I guess I swore a dozen times never to try such a foolhardy venture again.

"So you think I was on pins from the time I started," she continued, speaking to her interviewer, "but I wasn't. The days and weeks of preparation had me so excited that I was thankful we were finally off on our big venture—the big venture for myself as well as all members of my sex. While we failed in our mission, I still feel the fate was with us in sparing our lives in what had cost the lives of others.

"Before the big flight, I was crazy about flying," she said as she took an autographed cigarette from a leather case and began smoking. "But now, with the girls' big air derby this fall, I'm getting, I dare say, nutty over aviation. I sleep, I drink, I eat only for the sake of flying. It seems nothing else matters to me.

"This trip I am on now means more to me than you would think for it is one of my first long trips across the country, and what I learn here will come in mighty handy next September when I fly from Los Angeles to Cleveland, with the best women flyers in the land competing. There will be those two girl endurance flyers, Amelia Earhart and possibly ten or eleven others. Some of them have had more experience than I, but I expect to be in the air most of the time, flying over mountains and valleys preparing for the contest.

"All of the girl flyers are terribly excited over the flight, especially myself. I've always used a compass in flying, but on this trip I just have to put a little horse sense into this," she said as she thumped her forehead, which like the rest of her face, had been liberally treated with cold cream and powder as a protection against the weather.

In further conversation, Miss Eider declared moving picture work was interesting, but that aviation was far more thrilling than taking orders from directors and going through a set routine in front of a camera. She is also of the opinion women are taking a more important part in aviation, especially during the past year, but she admitted they would never be for serious competition for the men, who have been in the business longer and are better fitted for the work.

Held for Trial

Thomas Lebew

UKIAH, Cal., June 10.—(AP)—Thomas Lebew, confessed slayer of six-year-old Teresa Johnson on May 23, was held for trial in the Mendocino county superior court today when arraigned before Justice of the Peace John A. Hoffman.

Adding as his own attorney, Lebew, through questioning Sheriff H. R. Hyatt, charged he had been kept in the county jail for four days and nights without sleep, and that his food and water had been drugged.

As a result, he denied remembering signing a confession, he said, and indicated he would repudiate the two confessions officers said he made.

REPORT IN FAVOR JONES RESOLUTION FOR PROHI STUDY

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—The Jones resolution to carry out President Hoover's recommendation for a joint congressional committee to study the reorganization of prohibition enforcement agencies was ordered favorably reported to the senate today by its judiciary committee.

The committee would be composed of three senators and three representatives. Specifically, President Hoover recommended that the committee study matters pertaining to the proposed transfer of the prohibition bureau to the department of justice.

The resolution was introduced by Senator Jones, republican, Washington, author of the law increasing the maximum penalties for prohibition violations, shortly after the president's special message recommending such action had been received at the capitol.

FRENCH FILM ACT IS INTERFERENCE

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Protest against the action of France in requiring purchase of one French film for every four American films imported was made in the senate by Senator Shortridge, republican, California.

Shortridge declared the action was an "intolerable interference" with American commerce and that "if our great moving picture industry is discriminated against, we shall find ways and means of convincing France of the wisdom of her act.

"A protest against her attempt to force American producers to buy French films at arbitrary prices and regardless of their exhibition value," he said.

DEMOCRATS AID EARLY VOTE ON FARMER RELIEF

Minority Members Will Cooperate in Relief and National Origins Decisions—Refuse Agreement for Tariff Vote.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Senate democrats agreed today to cooperate with republicans for an early vote on the farm relief and national origins relief measures, but decided against entering any agreement to fix a definite date for a vote on the tariff bill in the fall as demanded by the administration as a basis for all summer recess.

The decision appeared to make doubtful the much discussed program for an all-summer recess and is expected to lead instead to an adjournment until early in August while the senate finance committee is getting the house tariff measure in shape for senate consideration.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, announced, however, that the minority party was ready to cooperate to dispose of the program recommended by President Hoover during the extra session. This declaration was regarded as insuring a final vote on the tariff bill in the fall without the definite agreement asked by the republican leaders.

SAMS VALLEY GRANGE HOST SATURDAY NIGHT

Sams Valley Grange was well prepared for the many Grangers from Central Point, Eagle Point, and Rogue River who attended the special meeting there last Saturday night.

The beautiful and well balanced refreshments were relished by all and especially by the 23 new Grangers of Jackson county initiated at the meeting.

DRY VIOLATORS GIVEN PENITENTIARY TERMS

DENVER, June 10.—(AP)—Declaring that Leadville, Colo., tried to prove itself bigger than the United States government in failing to abide by prohibition laws, United States District Judge J. Foster Symes today sentenced to the penitentiary six residents of that city.

In passing sentence Judge Symes said: "No man can snap his fingers at the United States with impunity and if any other liquor law violator comes into this court from Leadville, he will get this limit."

Yankee Toreador Scores a Hit in Seville Bull Ring

SEVILLE, Spain, June 10.—(AP)—Sidney Franklin, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who went into the bull fighting profession after a visit to Mexico, scored a triumph in the principal arena here yesterday, killing two bulls.

The spectators gave him a tremendous ovation, carrying him on their shoulders out of the bull ring and shouting "vivi el Americano" (long live the American).

YOSEMITE BEARS IMPOLITE AVERS LOCAL PARK MAN

Some great tales about the impolite bears biting or scratching tourists, and of activities about Yosemite National park, were brought back to Medford by Ike Davidson, foreman of construction of Crater National park, who for the past two months has been on transfer duty at Yosemite National park, where during this time four out of nine buildings, a 100,000 gallon water tank and a bridge across the Merced river were gotten under way.

Mr. Davidson, who arrived here Sunday, reports that Colonel C. G. Thomson, the superintendent of Yosemite and former well known superintendent of Crater National park, has been so busy since taking up his duties there that he has forgotten what a wolf club looks like.

He also told of tame deer wandering around by the hundreds, also elk, and had just gotten fairly warmed up when the interviewer thought it best not to test Ike's reputation for veracity too far, and departed. He might start in any minute on the subject of snakes or tell of big buffalo roosting in the back trees close to the administration buildings.

Mr. Davidson will remain here for some time and probably rejoin the Yosemite building program—how long he does not know until he has a conference with Superintendent Solinsky on the latter's return to the city tonight or tomorrow from Crater National park.

Ike did not know whether Colonel Thomson still smoked the Fly Caster brand of tobacco in his pipe, but did remember that at times he smelled some awful odors in Yosemite, so the colonel has probably not changed the brand.

Wyoming Man Highly Pleased With Medford

L. Jacobs of Sheridan, Wyoming, was a guest of his son, Harry Jacobs, proprietor of Mullins store, and spent Saturday and Sunday in Medford. L. M. Jacobs, Sr., has been in the mercantile business all his life, owns a store at Sheridan and is traveling on the coast, looking for a location for another store.

He was much pleased with Medford, the valley and prospects for development here along all lines.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP)—Highly erratic price movements again characterized the stock market today. Prices opened irregularly higher, turned heavy before midday, rallied briskly in the early afternoon and then became spotty again as fresh selling developed in some of the public utilities.

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent but the supply was very nominal. Various utilities and specialties gave good resistance to the late selling movement, which affected adversely the stock market, merchandise and aviation issues. Commonwealth power rose to 208, but soon fell back below 200. National Distillers Products gained 4 1/2 and the preferred 8 3/4 points.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 2,600,000 shares.

SOULARD ORCHARD IS PURCHASED BY S. W. RICHARDSON

One of the largest orchard deals in the valley for some time was consummated today when the Soulard orchard, owned by Mrs. Melvina Herbert, was purchased by S. W. Richardson and he takes immediate charge.

The orchard three miles east of Medford, consists of 102 acres of which 85 acres are commercial orchard of 18-year-old pears. Most of the other land is under cultivation and the property is well improved and equipped.

This is one of the most substantial orchards in the valley. Mr. Richardson will increase the pear acreage this fall and otherwise improve the property.

The deal has been pending some time, and was made by C. S. Rutherford, realtor, who returned this morning from Portland, accompanied by Mr. Richardson. This is the fourth orchard sold by Mr. Rutherford this year.

Mr. Richardson, who lives on the Old Stage road three miles north of Jacksonville, owns and controls four other orchards in the valley, comprising 65 acres of commercial pears, and from the properties he expects to market 400 tons of fruit this year.

Mr. Richardson has been in the valley seven years, and shows his faith in its future by his investments, and says, "Any man either in business or operating an orchard, who does not have faith in the valley and the future of the fruit industry, should move on."

SENTENCE JENNINGS TO YEAR IN PRISON

Luke Jennings, Beagle rancher, arrested some time ago on a charge of ranch poisoning and convicted in circuit court last week, was sentenced to one year in the state reformatory and fined $500 this afternoon by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton. Jennings will appeal to the supreme court. He claims the alleged mash was not mash, but only corn being held for stock feed. No still was found on his place.

MEXICO CITY, June 10.—(AP)—Dispatches from Tampico today said Joseph H. Ross, an American, whose home in the United States is unknown, was killed in a fight with two men last night. His assailants, described as "objectionable individuals," attempted to force their way into the South American Cross hotel, of which he was manager.

In a day the average adult breathes 400 cubic feet of air.
