TALENT GRANGERS
ARE ENTERTAINED
BY YOUNG PEOPLE

(By Mrs. Marlon Tryer)
TALENT, Ore., June 11.—(Special)—Talent Grange held its first meeting of the month Thursday evening, June 6, with a good attendance. Harry Lowe, who some time ago was elected by this grange as delegate to the marketing committee, held at Myrtle Point, stated that he would be unable to attend. John Stewart was selected to represent this grange in his place. One new candidate's name was read. The program put on by the young people of the grange was enjoyed by all, which repaid them for the work they had done in preparing it. The next grange meeting will be held June 20. The lecture hour will be turned over to the old-time grangers, and all are expected to make talks on what they did in granges at that time. The master requested all members to be present at all meetings, as it would soon be time to pool fertilizer. The master also stated that it would be impossible for the marketing committee to see each person individually, and requested all to be present at all meetings to receive the real benefits from the grange. Mr. and Mrs. Marlon Tryer and daughter, Laura, spent Sunday afternoon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brandt in Medford. Mrs. Cliff Bond was a week end guest at the home of Mrs. Jeldness Jones in Medford. Mrs. Elmer Kincaid was taken to the Sacred Heart hospital Saturday morning. She returned to her home Sunday evening. Mrs. E. T. Newbery and daughters Mrs. Elsie Williams and Edna Newbery, left Saturday morning for Portland to attend the Rose Festival. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hutchins are driving a new Chevrolet coupe.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 11.—(AP)—Convicted of stealing eggs and under a one-year jail sentence, John Hayworth, a ranch foreman of Athena, Ore., committed suicide by taking poison.

Answering Him.
"When shall I be a man?" he said.
As I was putting him to bed,
"How many years will have to be Before Time makes a man of me?
And will I be a man when I Am grown up big?" I heaved a sigh,
Because it called for careful thought
To give the answer that he ought.
And so I sat him on my knee,
And said to him: "A man you'll be
When you have learned that honor brings
More joy than all the crowns of kings;
That it is better to be true
To all who know and trust in you Than all the gold of earth to gain
If winning it shall leave a stain.
"When you can fight for victory
sweet,
Yet bravely swallow down defeat,
And cling to hope and keep the right,
Nor use deceit instead of might:
When you are kind and brave
and clean,
And fair to all and never mean;
When there is good in all you plan,
That day, my boy, you'll be a man.
"Some of us learn this truth too late;
That years alone can't make us
great;
That many who are three-score
and ten
Have fallen short of being men,
Because in selfishness they fought
And toiled without refining
thought;
And whether wrong or whether
right
They lived but for their own delight.
"When you have learned that you must hold
Your honor dearer far than gold;
That no ill-gotten wealth or fame
Can pay you for your tarnished name;
And when in all you say or do
Of others you're considerate, too, Content to do the best you can
By such a creed, you'll be a man."

National Radio Program.
The National Grange Radio program, which was broadcasted by the National Broadcasting association over the Red Network last Friday evening, June 7, was enjoyed by many Jackson county Grangers.

Some of the speakers on the program were National Master Tabor, National Lecturer James C.
Farmer, Governor Jones of Texas, president of the Farmers' Union; Brother Giacchi, Brother Gardner, high priest of demeter. Delightful music was rendered by the Hartford, Conn., Grange chorus.
Some of the numbers given by this Grange chorus were negro spirituals. This Grange chorus acquired national reputation last November when it sang before the National Grange convention to the accompaniment of its own splendid orchestra. The orchestration, as it came over the radio the other night, was especially fine.

Andrew Hyde, secretary of agriculture, who was to have spoken, sent a message, as did A. S. Goss, master of the Washington State Grange who is also a member of the executive committee of the national Grange.

Next week one of our Grangers, a thinker, philosopher and logician will give a brief summary of some of the speeches heard over the radio during this program and comment on the same.

Eagle Point Grange.
Last Tuesday evening our Grange met with a good attendance present in spite of the hard rain.

The marketing committee gave an interesting report and Mr.
French gave a talk on co-operating with the farm bureau.

It was announced that the 1st and 2nd degree would be conferred at our next regular meeting, June 18.

The lecture hour consisted of an old-fashioned spelling match that was thoroughly enjoyed.
We are glad to report that Mrs.
Meda Strahan, one of our members who has been so dangerously ill, is reported to be improved at this writing.
Guy Prueff, another member who suffered an operation and had a serious relapse, is also reported as improving.
