Another Prince Gone.
The Right Age to Marry.

Lindbergh broke half of the young female hearts marrying. Now the Prince of Wales, it is said, will marry Princess Ingrid, of Sweden. Nothing left for the dreams of young ladies.

Pictures of the princess show that the prince has made a good choice; if he HAS made it.

The wedding would not add much of the excellent Swedish blood to Britain's royal family, for there is little Swedish blood in Swedish royalty.

However, the young lady inherits the blood of Napoleon's brilliant marshal, Bernadotte. There isn't any better blood than French blood.

If you doubt it, try to beat LaCoste or Lenglen today, or go back into history and try Bayard or Duguesclin.

The engagement uniting the royal families may be announced next Friday at a ball given for the princess, or on the prince's thirty-fifth birthday.

Thirty-five, for men, is a good age to marry, although 45 is a better age.

Thirty-five for women, 45 to 55 for men, would be the best from the eugenists' point of view.

So at least said the green philosopher. Modern sense says the best time to marry is when you fall in love, that when you marry young you keep out of mischief, if you stay away from Reno and Paris.

Why should men marry after 40 and women after 30? Because children get intellect and health from the mother. They should be born when the mother's health and intellect have reached highest developments and before either begin to fail.

Children inherit intelligence chiefly from their fathers, when their fathers HAVE it. Men that develop fully, about one in 1000, full intelligence is not developed until 45 or 50.

Picking up his newspaper yesterday, John D. Rockefeller read that the Rockefeller Foundation had spent for public purposes in 1928, $21,690,738 in "practical and experimental medical work," fighting disease.

BROOKHART THREATENS NEW PARTY

Lowan Advocates 'Progressive' Candidate and Active Progressive Party Unless Debuture Approved By Hoover for Farm or Tariff Bills—Time for Fight to Finish.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP)—Selection of a "progressive" candidate for president and the formation of an active progressive party was advocated in the senate today by Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, who stumped the west for Herbert Hoover, unless the export debuture proposition was approved by the administration as either a part of the pending farm relief or tariff bills.

The suggestion that the debuture plan ultimately might be attached to the tariff measure has been advanced by a number of other senators and is known to have considerable sympathy among conservative democratic leaders. The lowan declared that he now desired to say to "progressive members of the senate on both sides" that if the proposition was rejected the time has come to organize for a fight to the finish. "If the debuture," he added, "in the form I have here suggested for its present form cannot be put into the farm bill, I think the bill should be permitted to pass without it."

LOWE INSTALLS COUNTY EXHIBIT IN LOS ANGELES

Jackson's Products Attract Attention in Garland Bldg.—Russian Colony Interested—Ad Brings Exhibit Visitors.

That Jackson county virtually has its own exhibit in Los Angeles at the present time, which is attracting wide attention, was the word brought back to this city yesterday by D. M. Lowe, the well known local horticulturist, who installed it.

"When I went down there," said Mr. Lowe, "the daily check-up showed one out of every 222 passersby stopped to look at the exhibit then maintained by the Oregon state chamber of commerce in the Garland building at the corner of Ninth street and Spring.

"After the Jackson county exhibit went in, the check-up showed one out of every eight stopped and looked, while hundreds came in for information. We put in apples and pears taken from cold storage, exhibits of valley wheat, barley and oats, 112 bundles of various grains and grasses, as well as home-made jellies and preserves put up by Mrs. Lowe.

"We also ran an ad in the papers calling attention to the exhibit, which brought excellent results. While there I made a flying trip to Nevada and found there were 120 Russian families there who wanted to come to Oregon. We made arrangements with Balfour Guthrie company whereby they may be financed on ten-year payments. They are looking for cheap land and may settle somewhere in eastern Oregon, although they are interested in this section.

"I made a special effort to interest people of some means—that is, farmers who want land in a well-settled, rich and prosperous region like Jackson county. Seventy-six per cent of the new settlers secured by the state chamber of commerce have settled south of Roseburg. I am sure this exhibit will bring many new people to southern Oregon.

"And for the next two months this state exhibit will continue to be almost exclusively a Jackson county exhibit. Local people who intend to visit Los Angeles this summer should not fail to see this exhibit at the corner of Ninth and Spring."

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(AP)—H. L. Barlow, police fingerprint expert, today said that William L. Tallman had been positively identified as the man present in the apartment where Mrs. Virginia Patty was found murdered June 4.

The statement followed comparison of photographs of fingerprints taken in the apartment with those received late today from the United States marine corps at Washington, D. C.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 12.—(AP)—William L. Tallman, young radio operator, was sought by police in this city today following reports that a man in water-soaked clothing, answering the description of the suspected slayer of Mrs. Virginia Patty in Los Angeles, had appeared in a lumber yard at Astoria.

A Pekuri, night watchman for the Astoria Lumber company, reported to police that a man had sought refuge in the lumber yard last Saturday night. Pekuri identified the man from newspaper photographs as Tallman.

The watchman said the man's clothes were drenched and that he devoured food ravenously. Police with Tallman, talked closely with Tallman.

Tallman boarded the steamship Admiral Benson at San Pedro June 4 shortly before the body of Mrs. Patty, beaten to death with a brick, was found in an apartment in Los Angeles. The owner of the apartment identified photographs of Tallman as the man who had rented the apartment under the name of "W. C. Johnson."

Police thought Tallman might have jumped from the Admiral Benson as it passed within 100 yards of the Astoria waterfront, and swim ashore.

The night watchman said the man told him he had been drenched while walking in the rain. He carried a small bundle of clothes and the watchman permitted him to remove his soaked apparel and dry it by his office stove.

Then the man departed after telling Pekuri he was going to seek friends at Portland.

IDAHO OFFICIAL KIDNAPED NEAR ORO FINO HOME

SHERIFFS officers here said they believed W. B. Kinne, lieutenant governor of Idaho, had been rolled and taken prisoner by highwaymen today, following the discovery of his overturned automobile with a bullet through one door, abandoned in a ditch. The sheriff of Clearwater county late today was following the trail of the robber suspects.

The lieutenant governor, who lives here, was in Spokane, Wash., yesterday and was returning home when the suspected attack is believed to have occurred. The overturned car was found about noon, 2 miles from Orofino.

DIVORCE PLEA TO BE FILED BY RHINELANDER

Scion of Socially Prominent Family Again Seeking Separation From Negro Wife—Has Been Disinherited, Is Admission.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 12.—(AP)—Harley Harmon, attorney for Leonard Kip Rhineland, disinherited son of a well known New York family, disclosed early today that he has prepared a divorce complaint which young Rhineland plans to file against his wife, Alice Jones Rhineland, daughter of a New Rochelle, N. Y., negro, within the next two weeks.

Harmon, who is district attorney here, admitted that Rhineland had lived in Las Vegas and a nearby mountain resort since January 1, under an assumed name. Rhineland, who had successfully hidden his identity by the acquisition of a mustache and 21 pounds in weight since coming to Nevada, reluctantly admitted his true name when confronted with news service pictures of himself. He explained that he had sought to avoid publicity while establishing the six months residence necessary to file a divorce action in the state.

Under the name of Lou Russ, Harmon admitted his widely known client had been a resident at the Nevada hotel and in a cabin at the Charleston mountain resort, 25 miles north of Las Vegas. He also operated in real estate through which the attorney and others who knew Rhineland as Russ said the young man had made a considerable income.

Cruelly, based upon the "humiliation my wife has caused me by her actions," Harmon said would be the basis of the divorce complaint. It will be filed in the Las Vegas district court. The disclosure of Rhineland's marriage several years ago to the daughter of the New Rochelle bank driver, was followed by their enforced separation by his socially prominent family. A subsequent suit for annulment of the marriage couple permanently separated. Last March the proposed filing of a separation suit by Mrs. Rhineland in New York was indefinitely postponed as the announced result of Rhineland's increasing her separate maintenance allowance to $400 monthly.

The former New York society youth, under the name of Russell, has been building a home here in which he said he intended to live. His attorney quoted Rhineland as declaring he did not care if he heard no more from his family, explaining reluctantly that he had been disinherited by a letter from his family's attorneys about a year ago.

CARKIN NAMED SECRETARY BY NEW TAX BODY

SALJEM, Ore., June 12.—(AP)—The new state tax commission, created by the 1925 legislature, called its first meeting here Tuesday afternoon and organized. Earl Fisher, who has been state tax commissioner for several years, was elected chairman, and John H. Carkin of Medford, in addition to the other duties of his position, will serve as secretary. The third member of the commission is Charles V. Galloway of Portland, who prior to his affiliation with the Illinois bank, had for a number of years been state tax commissioner.

In the assignment of duties under the new super-tax commission act, Fisher was given charge of the assessment of public utilities, Galloway the equalization of local assessments, and Carkin the administration of the new state revenue measures. These are the state income tax, the excise tax and intangible tax acts. The referendum has been invoked on the income tax, and it will be voted on in November, 1930, so it cannot become operative until after that date. An attempt was made to invoke the referendum on the excise tax act but it failed.

Distinguished guests of the city were today knighted to the Order of Royal Rosarians amid old world pomp and ceremony. The knighting took place in the natural amphitheater of flower-strewn Washington park.

WILL ROGERS SAYS: BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF. JUNE 12.—The best news in the paper today was no joke. The Rockefeller Foundation for the health and betterment of all parts of the world spent twenty-two million dollars last year and one hundred and forty million since its organization in 1913 and it's been worth one million dollars as an inspiration to other tremendously rich men to do fine things. The whole viewpoint of the people in regard to our rich men has changed in the last few years. Now we judge a man's greatness on how he has spent his money. I guess there has never been a time in our history when as many folks were making money as now. Just to be rich and nothing else is practically a disgrace. Yours, WILL ROGERS.
