more ways than one. Galveston decides that Miss Lisl Goldbarber, Austrian brunette, with blue eyes, is the most beautiful girl in the world. In fact, she is crowned "Miss Universe."

The most beautiful girl to be found in the United States, Miss Irene Ahlberg, only got second prize and $1000.

"Queen of the Universe" seems rather a large title. Miss Goldbarber would probably be amazed if she could see the young ladies on some planet one million light years away from this corner of space and those far off interstellar young women, perhaps 1000 times as big as Miss Goldbarber, and each with 1000 eyes, perhaps, would be surprised to see her.

A young prince, cousin of the Spanish king, one of the headdress (nothing to do with whiskey in this case), is said to have cancelled his engagement to the widow of an American steel king. The young lady, charming in all ways, and very young for 50, was not willing to settle more than $200,000 on the young prince.

That young gentleman of a family that "never forgets anything and never learns anything" does not forget that he cannot live now on $200,000.

Old fashioned judges might think it hard to spend $10,000,000 on a building, without upsetting one important court tradition, which is democratic simplicity. It is to be hoped that fancy imitations of European ceilings and other expensive ornamentations will be missing when the building is finished. The Supreme Court requires no "fancy" background.

At a cost of $9,740,000 a new building will house the United States Supreme Court "in keeping with the dignity of that tribunal."

When, and if, Ramsey MacDonald comes here to see President Hoover, it is suggested that he will discuss the advisability of recognizing Russia's government and thus solidifying peace.

In Mr. Hoover, Mr. MacDonald will find a man who has traveled and will give him an intelligent hearing. It would not have been so, had the head of the British labor party called upon some of our earlier presidential Presidents.

Even now, some of our "best financial minds" will question the propriety of talking to the head of any labor government.

Mr. Requa, selected by President Hoover to preside over a gathering to discuss oil control, says that if the government gives oil men an opportunity to "co-operate and conserve" and oil men fail to do it, the government will then step in and compel the oil men to show common sense.

It will be too late after the nation is the time for such action: national oil reserves have been exhausted and this country finds itself obliged to pay foreigners whatever they choose to ask for oil and gasoline.

Automobile owners had a taste of that at a time when the British controlled rubber and the price of tires.

The League of Nations calls a special session to amend a certain statute, and permit Uncle Sam to enter the World Court.

Anything to get the old gentleman in. Once seated, with the vote ten to one against him, it will be easy to make him useful.

Montana was ousted upon the ground that the other schools in the northern section were forced to travel too far to play the Grizzly hoop team.

With the arrival today of southern division officials, the three-day session of the Pacific coast conference managers' association was formally begun.

Eight battalions of the French Foreign Legion, prize troops of the 3rd and 4th regiments, were being rushed by motor truck today to succor remnants of a French native troops detachment at the desert post, Al Yakhubi.

Two thousand disoriented Moslem tribesmen have invaded the post on three sides, and some four were felt for the detail, its numbers already depleted by an ambush at the foot of the Atlas mountains June 2.

Widely published reports that Secretary Davis of the labor department would resign his post within a short time and be succeeded by Edward A. Flynn, of Boston, were denied today at the White House.

Mr. Davis, in becoming a member of the Hoover Cabinet, agreed to serve for one year to complete activities which he had initiated within the department. It was said today at the White House that no change had been made in this arrangement.

DETROIT YOUTH KILLED BY COP CALLED RUNNER

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Seymour Lorman, assistant secretary of the treasury, in a statement today, said Customs Patrolman Cox, who shot Archibald Eugster at Detroit, did it "in the regular line of his duty" when run runners tried to recapture a boat seized by customs officers.

"We have received a final report from the customs agents with reference to the shooting of Archibald Eugster, an alleged run runner, by Patrolman Cox, customs border patrolman," Lorman said. "A customs boat manned by two customs patrolmen was stationed near the mouth of the River Rouge in the city of Detroit. They discovered a run runner going into the River Rouge and pursued her. The run runner had a crew of four men. The government boat had two men.

"Just before the government boat overhauled the run runner, the run runner was beached and the men escaped into the brush. Shortly after that the run runners returned and tried to recapture their boat and its cargo, and in the struggle that ensued, Eugster was shot by Customs Patrolman Cox."

GOLD HILL DANCE UNTIL 2 PLANNED

There will be a dance at Gold Hill next Saturday night and it will continue after midnight until 2 o'clock in the morning, according to an announcement made today by Luke Kincaid, proprietor of the Gold Hill pavilion. The dance will be strictly with the law, according to Mr. Kincaid, who said this afternoon Gold Hill has a population of 520 bona fide residents.

He recently took a census of the city, has the names of all residents on file and this week referred the list to the sheriff's office, he said. The pavilion will be operated as usual and the music will be given by the regular orchestra. Mr. Kincaid has plans of making general improvements in the hall, including the installation of a complete water system in a short time.

A recent state law, aimed at late January, took away the authority from towns of 500 population and under to regulate dances within their limits, and set forth no dancing will be allowed from 12 to 6 a. m. in cities in the small population class. However, in cities larger than 500, the city council can exercise its power, and Gold Hill, according to Mr. Kincaid, has sanctioned the holding of the Gold Hill dance.

DROP MONTANA IN HOOP CONFERENCE

SPOKANE, Wash., June 12.—Working into the wee small hours of this morning, graduate managers of the northern division of the Pacific coast conference finally decided to exclude the University of Montana from the 1929 basketball program, but did not complete next year's schedule.

Montana was ousted upon the ground that the other schools in the northern section were forced to travel too far to play the Grizzly hoop team.

TITLED FLIERS LEAVE LA GRANDE FOR EAST

LA GRANDE, Ore., June 12.—Eight of the best of their flight from Portland to New York City, Viscount Jacques de Sibour and Viscountess de Sibour were to leave here today for Salt Lake City, the next scheduled stop. They are on a tour of the world by air.

DENY REPORTS DAVIS WILL LEAVE CABINET

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Widely published reports that Secretary Davis of the labor department would resign his post within a short time and be succeeded by Edward A. Flynn, of Boston, were denied today at the White House.

BANKER DELEGATES SWIM SANS COVER

SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 12.—Seven prominent San Francisco county bankers went swimming "nude" in the Sacramento river near Clarksburg, Sheriff James Monroe of Yolo county threatened arrest, discovered they were delegates to a bankers' convention and let them go.

COLONEL LINDBERGH ABOARD HONEYMOON YACHT

A fleeting glance of the sea going aviator, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, was had when he docked his yacht Moutette at York Harbor, Me., to pick up fuel and supplies.

GRANGE TO STUDY STATE INITIATIVE AND HITS 'GRAFT'

MARSHFIELD, Ore., June 12.—The Oregon State Grange, in annual session here, today instructed its state master, George Palmer, to appoint a grange committee to confer with the Farmers' Union and the Oregon State Federation of Labor relative to initiatives in the Oregon initiative and referendum law.

The grange also adopted a resolution that the grange legislative committee assist "in finding some way of abating the graft on the extra clerk hire at the state legislature."

The session went on record as protesting against "false and vicious advertising of cigarettes on billboards, by the press and by radio or any other means detrimental to health, and we further discourage smoking of cigarettes by women and girls."

KERMIT ARRIVES WITH PANDA SKIN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Kermit Roosevelt and his panda skin arrived on the S. S. Presidential yesterday morning. Roosevelt, the son of the late president, buried the giant panda in India-China for three months before they began a specimen, he said last night before leaving for the east on the overland limited.

Roosevelt, incidentally, defined a panda. "A panda," said he, "is something like a cross between a raccoon and a bear."

"The small panda is rather a common little beast, but there is no other specimen of a complete giant panda in the world."

SURVEY LANE COUNTY FOR FULL TIME UNIT

EGGENE, Ore., June 12.—A survey to determine whether a full-time public health unit will be established in Lane county will be conducted under the auspices of the Lane County Public Health association next month, Beth Konkel, executive secretary of the association, said today.

Breezes Caress Editorial Knees on Tennis Court

WESTPORT, Conn., June 12.—John Chapman Hillier, author and editor, has ideas on the beauty of the average male's legs in comparison with the average female's. He plays tennis in shorts with the breezes having access to his knees, and the style is being followed by many other male summer residents. If merchants were up-to-date, he thinks they'd have their shelves full of right now of flannel and linen shorts for men.

Steady Cabinet Formed

PORTLAND, Ore., June 12.—Frank G. Leonard, former governor of Idaho, met here today with members of the Oregon state committee for cabinet form of government. Among those attending the conference was Dr. Hector Mac-

Relief from Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderin attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry evacuating colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.
