JACKSONVILLE DANCE WILL CONTINUE TO 2

Another big chamber of commerce dance will be staged at Jacksonville this evening, dancing beginning at 9 o'clock and continuing until 2 o'clock the next morning. Jacksonville does not come under the midnight closing order recently passed by the state legislature, aimed particularly at cities under 500 population.

As it stands, Jacksonville is claimed to have a bona fide population of 621 people, giving the city council the right to regulate dances in the city limits, and not the county court, as in towns under 500 people.

CHILDERS SELLS PIGGLY WIGGLY STORE BUILDING

A deal was closed this morning through the Charles Wing agency, transferring the ownership of the Elmer Childers building on East Main street to an outside interest for the consideration of $30,000. The building, a reinforced concrete structure, 40x100 feet floor space, was purchased subject to lease, the Piggly Wiggly store occupying the entire location.

The sale of this building, which was constructed by Elmer Childers two and one-half years ago, has been pending a week and was finally consummated during the noon hour today.

Last month the adjoining Emil Mohr building was purchased by Ida Alice Coppin of Medford for approximately $10,000.

RECOMMEND RAMONA TO MASTER OSWEGAN

Jack Romona, husky Los Angeles wrestler, is expected to arrive in Medford tomorrow for his match Tuesday night at the armory with Bob Kruse of Portland. Romona comes to Medford recommended as one of the best men ever in Medford, and experts to defeat the Portland wrestler who, in 19 matches in the past winter, has only lost two. Ladies will be admitted free.

Romona is a heavyweight championship contender and is well known throughout southern California as being a scientific wrestler who can get rough if he is crowded to such tactics by his opponent.

As a special event, Sailor Jack Wood of Medford will wrestle 30 minutes with Wild Joe Ferguson of southern California and Arizona. Ferguson is a fighter as well as a wrestler and as a result of many fistic encounters, has acquired a face that only a mother could love. He is said to be murder looking than Bull Montana ever thought of being.
