Attractive Home Wedding
 A pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. McCollum, when their daughter, Ruth Mary, became the bride of Clarence Florin Olson of Ritzville, Wash. Rev. E. P. Lawrence, pastor of the Presbyterian church, read the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few friends before a background of ferns and roses.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Esther McCollum sang "O Promise Me," accompanied by Miss Ruth Severance. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a white georgette crepe dress and carried a shower bouquet of pink rose buds and lilies of the valley. Miss Esther McCollum was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a green chiffon dress and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and Cecil Bruner roses. Ivan McCollum acted as best man.

Directly after the ceremony the wedding party went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Griffiths, where a wedding breakfast was served. Pink sweet peas and roses were used to center the tables.

The bride is a graduate of the State Normal school at Cheney, Wash., and for the past two years she has taught at the Griffin Creek school.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Edith Olson of Ritzville, Wash. He operates a large wheat ranch in eastern Washington near Ritzville, where the young couple will make their home, after spending a few weeks' honeymoon at coast resorts.

Mrs. Olson and daughter, Miss Emma Olson, mother and sister of the bridegroom, were here to attend the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Randall of Houston, Texas, with their daughter, Edith, are visiting his brother Leo Randall of 508 North Grape street and D. D. Randall of Berkeley Way. Mr. Randall is favorably impressed with the Rogue River valley.

G. A. R.'s Meet
 At Carbis Home.
 The Chester A. Arthur post of the G. A. R. held their regular meeting Thursday, June 13, at the home of Mrs. Fred Carbis, on Crater Lake avenue. Seven members of the post were present, William Lyman, commander, L. H. Tucker, Judge Colvig, William Hayes, Mr. Wood, Rev. Wallace, Mr. Onby.

After the business meeting a committee of the Daughters of Veterans was appointed.
 Mrs. George Webb, Mrs. Carlson, and Mrs. Ella Rogers served refreshments.
 Three wives of veterans who were present were Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Tucker.
 The youngest veteran is Mr. Woods, who is 84. Rev. Wallace is 89.

Miss Edna and Beth Wisely left Sunday to spend the summer in Los Angeles, Calif.
Betty and Suzette Stennett
 Entertain at Luncheon
 Misses Betty and Suzette Stennett entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon Monday, honoring Misses Dora Crawford and Marjorie McNair.
 After the luncheon the young folks enjoyed a "line party" at Hon's Cafeteria.
 Covers were laid for Dora Crawford, Marjorie McNair, Dorothy Gove, Evelyn Herman, Marjorie Mollendahl, Louise Elrod, Helen Henson, Evon Shepherd, Cecil Humphrys, Elizabeth and Frances Ferry, Joan DeLosh and the hostesses.

ors in high score. Miss Kellher was assisted in serving by Mrs. Leonard and daughter and Miss Leola Hayes.
 Mrs. J. W. Young will be hostess for the regular meeting of the Building Bridge club Thursday afternoon, at her home 518 South Oakdale.

DeCarlo-Gilmore Wedding
 Event of the Week
 The wedding of Miss Hazel Gilmore of Ashland and Mr. Leland DeCarlo of Pinehurst, Ore., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gilmore, in Ashland Sunday, June 9.

The arch between the two rooms was decorated in blue and yellow, where the bridal party stood while the ceremony was performed by the Baptist minister.
 Those from Central Point who were invited were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warner, all grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burns and daughter, Besse, Miss Fern Hathaway and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bohmert.

Miss Gilmore and her parents formerly lived in Central Point, where they have many friends, who extended congratulations. Mr. DeCarlo is a carpenter and is engaged in building a large warehouse at Pinehurst. They will make their home at that place.

Mrs. M. L. Cormany left for Portland Thursday evening to visit with friends and take in the remainder of the rose show. From there she will leave for Montana and North Dakota to visit with her son and daughter. She will be gone about five or six months.

Mrs. S. Smith Hostess
 A. R. at Edgewood Park
 Mrs. S. S. Smith was hostess to the Crater Lake chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution at her lovely country home at Edgewood park, Friday, June 14th. Assisting her as hostesses were Mrs. R. T. DeLosh, Mrs. R. E. Green, Mrs. C. A. Meeker and Miss Jean DeLosh.

The business meeting was held beneath the beautiful trees overlooking the river, Mrs. B. G. Harding, the regent for 1929-30, presiding.
 This being Flag Day, exercises in keeping with the day were held. Joan DeLosh, a member of the C. C. R., gave the flag salute. Mrs. G. D. Dahl read a poem, "Old Glory."

A short impressive memorial service was conducted by Mrs. J. H. Cochran in memory of Mrs. Lydia Rogers Smith and Mrs. Julia E. Bishop.

Master Donald Leroy
 Celebrates Birthday
 A birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Chamberlain at 1211 Niantic street in honor of the third birthday of their son, Donald Leroy. He was well remembered by his little guests.

The invited guests were: Manfred Douglas, Dolores and Phyllis Poutre, Bobby Newland, Imogene Nugent, George and Bobby Hamilton, Martha Watson.
 Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Word has been received by her parents, that Miss Jean Vilm who has been teaching school in Marysville, has accepted a position at the Yosemite Park for the summer and has also signed a contract to teach in Marysville next year.

Young People
 Enjoy Picnic
 A party of about thirty young people of the Christian church enjoyed a picnic on Friday night near Dodge bridge. A large bonfire was built and many interesting games were played. A large feed was enjoyed about 10:30 after which the picnickers returned to their homes.

Mrs. C. L. Goff and two daughters, the Misses Marjorie and Dorothy, returned to Medford the past week from Eugene, where they spent the winter. The girls are both students at the University and have charge of the Lithia Springs playground at Ashland this summer.

St. Ann's Altar Society
 Plan Picnic
 At the regular meeting of St. Ann's Altar society several miniature aprons were returned containing pennies of waist measures.

After the business session a picnic was planned for June 25 at Lithia Park, where Ashland and Jacksonville ladies will be guests of Medford Catholic ladies. Further announcements will be made in the press next week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Quick of Glendora, Calif., friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Millard, are looking over the Rogue River valley.

Miss Edith Perkins, of St. Cloud Minn., arrived in Medford this week to spend a short vacation at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Lewis Brown.

Portland Couple
 Weds in Manila
 From the Manila Times, Manila, P. I., comes the following clipping of March 3:
 A pretty wedding took place March 2 at the Cathedral of St. Mary and John, when Miss Kathleen Wright became the bride of Lieut. Lee Ferrand Sagnet, U. S. N. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. A. P. Wright of Portland, Ore., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sagnet, also of Portland.

The altar was banked with palms and the main aisle was festooned with white condons de amour. Chaplain T. P. Riddle, U. S. N., performed the ceremony.
 The bride, who was given in marriage by Lieut. K. E. Brimmer, was lovely in her gown of white satin made with a light bodice and a bouffant skirt long in the back. Her long veil was arranged in cap fashion and was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and white cadens.

Mrs. E. B. Perry was matron of honor and wore a dress of peach moire and a large black hat. Her bouquet was of Alfonso roses.
 Lieut. W. P. Burford acted as best man.
 Mrs. J. C. Kinsky sang.
 As the bridal party left the altar they walked under an arch of crossed sashes held by Yeutenants P. M. Hook, H. C. Doan, P. H. Fitzgerald, G. Dufek, J. M. Hieles, J. B. Ginder, J. H. Lewis and B. Bourke, who were ushers.

Mrs. Sagnet attended the University of Oregon and is a member of Delta Zeta. Lieutenants Sagnet is a member of the class of 1922 of Annapolis, and is at present attached to the S-25 of the 16th submarine division.
 Lieutenant and Mrs. Sagnet will leave soon for China.—Portland Journal.

The bride was a former Central Point girl.
 Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Folkenberg of the F. and F. violin and piano studio in the college building are leaving for Portland to attend the Oregon State Music teachers' convention to be held in that city June 17 to 19, also to attend to other business. Mr. Folkenberg spends part of the summer in selecting old and new violins that his students may have the best they can afford.

Flag Day Observed
 by Daughters of Veterans
 In observance of Flag Day the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War had an open meeting Friday afternoon, June 14, at the home of Mrs. Luke Ryan, of the Civil war veterans and their wives and widows. The following unusually fine program was given: America, by everyone; History of Flag Day, Mrs. Knutson; piano solo, Donald Nellson; song, Elizabeth Ryan; piano solo, Patricia Carlow; reading, Mrs. Ryan; song, Herbert Neilson; reading, Mrs. Rogers; song, Herbert Neilson; Elizabeth Ryan, Robert Ryan and Phyllis Neilson; reading, Phyllis Neilson, piano solo, Allen Rogers; remarks by Daddy Lyman and Judge Colvig; diet, piano and

Mrs. Jack Porter of Gervais, Oregon, whose marriage was an event of Saturday afternoon at a "garden wedding" at the bride's home. Mrs. Porter, who before her marriage was Miss Rosalie Jones, is the daughter of Jessie Creighton Jones and the late W. A. Jones of Salem.

Under an arch of ancient fir trees, suggesting the vaulted roof of a cathedral, Miss Rosalie Jones, daughter of Jessie Creighton Jones and the late W. A. Jones of Salem, was married to Jack Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Porter of this city. The ceremony took place at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, June 15, in the garden of the bride's home at Jonesmere farm, located at Gervais, Ore., in the presence of relatives and friends, the Rev. W. C. Kantner officiating.

Summer garden flowers of varied shade and hue lined the garden walk of the terrace and flanked the approach to the improvised altar a few feet in advance of the hedge, carrying the note of color of flowers caught in the vines. The altar of white satin was erected beneath an arch of columbine, nastilla, ocean spray, ferns and white roses. The couple were attended by Miss Hester Davis of Salem, sorority sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and William Heath of this city as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Creighton Jones. She wore a gown of ivory crepe chiffon, made with flowing, flounced and irregular hem line. A beulah of antique lace caught behind the low neckline and the bride's slippers were white satin.

The refreshment committee, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Guyer, served ice cream, crushed strawberries and cake.
 Everyone voted it one of the best meetings ever held.
 Mrs. Kenneth C. Downing of Spokane, Wash., is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley D. Hanson, 1400 East Eleventh street.

St. Mark's Guild
 Has Picnic
 The St. Mark's Guild held a picnic in the Lithia park at Ashland Friday, June 14th. A splendid picnic lunch was served. The afternoon was spent socially in the park, playing games, etc.

P. E. O. Enjoy Luncheon
 At Sitter Home
 Chapter A. A. of P. E. O. met for luncheon on June 12th at the home of Mrs. R. W. Sleeter on Siskiyou heights.
 Miss Woodman McDonald and Miss Marjorie Kelley and Miss Hording of Grants Pass were guests.
 After the business meeting was adjourned, the president, Mrs. W. E. Robinson, gave a most interesting description of the state convention of P. E. O. held at Seaside at which 100 delegates were in attendance from various chapters in Oregon. She announced that Klamath Falls would be the next location to the state convention of P. E. O. E. in June, 1929.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Kelly were the social committee for this last regular meeting of the year.
 Mrs. Edith Olson and daughter, Miss Emma Olson, of Ellaville, Wash., who were here to attend the Ooba-McCollum wedding, returned home Friday.

Out-of-Town Visitors
 Enjoy "Our Great Country"
 Mrs. Edith Olson, who stopped over for a few hours Friday in Medford where their old-time friend, Gerald Scherer of the Scherer Motor company, drove them around Medford and the valley. Mr. Flaherty is in the auto accessory business in Medford and was very much pleased with the feature of Medford and Grants Pass were present. Each post in the council the slogan, "This is a Great Country," was sure the best he had ever heard.

 Mr. and Mrs. Flaherty left by motor for Portland and Yellowknife park on their way back home.

Mr. and Mrs. White are among the newcomers to Medford. They are from Harrison, Ark., and are pleased with the city and valley. Miss Beulah, sister of Mr. White, who accompanied them, leaves today for Portland.

Report by Jane Swindler
 Portland Rose Show
 Everyone is awakening to the message which flowers always bring to those who have tuned in, even though it be in a careless, half-hearted way. Going north, immediately after the close of Medford's most successful rose show, one could not fail to be impressed by the one long flower show which stretches from the California line all the way north, terminating in Portland's staidous auditorium.

Wild flowers of many varieties, and every color and form, lined the highway on either side; farmyards and service stations catching the spirit, commercial growers with smoky acres of blooms, and every town along the way, with flowers in every yard—everywhere flowers and more flowers such as only Oregon can grow. And then we entered Portland with its miles of Caroline Testout roses and the city auditorium, a veritable madhouse.

Medford and Grants Pass representatives were warmly welcomed and assigned 12-foot spaces along a side wall. There were 16 garden clubs represented, but it was the first time southern Oregon had attempted what many thought to be impossible. The Medford flowers reached Portland Friday morning and we arranged them Friday afternoon, and by Saturday morning they had adjusted themselves and were quite at home. Tall delphiniums, Oriental iris, peonies and foxgloves for a background—baskets of yellow iris at either end, in front, and small flowers artistically arranged between.

All night men labored and by 8:20, when the night valley flowers were brought in, order had come out of chaos. The formal gardens by professionals were arranged in the center of the auditorium and on the stage; beds of iris and others of roses, rock gardens, lily beds, pools beautiful in themselves and all combining together and making a beautiful picture, as a garden should. And in the wings on either side, long tables awaited the hundreds of roses which began to arrive from all kinds of gardens shortly after 7. We must coin new adjectives if we are to describe Oregon roses, for wonderful, beautiful, exquisite, etc., are not sufficient. Rose—just rose—pink, red, white and yellow, with all intermediate ones; roses grown in hot houses with stems four feet long; roses carefully debudded and protected, and roses grown by children and amateurs of all degrees. A real job for the judges and would they ever be able to make any decisions?

The Grants Pass Garden club had received but two instructions, and they followed them to the letter. They had plenty and a great variety and packed them as directed. Their wild flowers were the only wild flowers in the entire show, and most rare of all were the beautiful Lady-slipper pitcher-plants. The flowers of the pitcher-plant interested flower lovers greatly, for they are seldom seen though the leaves have become quite common. With the beautiful scillas, wild lilies and wild cypripis for a tall background, and a large vase of lovely gladioli in the center of the table, the display was almost a solid mass of flowers of every color. The dainty maiden hair ferns and dianthus bordered the display at the front.

Promptly at eleven the tables closed and the doors were opened to all except the judges and those directly in charge. It took hours of examining and eliminating to pick out the best rose in the show, and to award the various ribbons, but finally a beautiful Gen. McArthur was selected from one of the baskets, as the most perfect of the roses in the show.

The doors were opened to the public at two, and returned to that the Medford and Grants Pass displays were both in better company than we had realized before. There were four garden exhibits along our wall. Seaside received first for its miniature display a replica of a point overlooking the ocean. Medford came next with its blue ribbon for the best display staged by a club fifty miles from Grants Pass. The Edmonds club took its red ribbon for second place among the amateur clubs, and Grants Pass had won the red ribbon in the longer distance class.

The floral parade Monday afternoon was wonderful, with its 700 odd floats all decorated with red flowers and its many picturesque bands. The parade Thursday afternoon was interesting too, and here Grants Pass scored again, with its Cays Men and carried off more honors. This booster organization never looked more fierce and successful, woman was heard to remark, "When do those awful people live? I never heard of them before." I could it she believed it all when told that when at home they were all perfectly respectable and good-looking business men of various ages. This was the only representation which Southern Oregon had in either parade.

 What we have done once we can do again, but next year we should do much better. Let us all plant more and better flowers, especially roses and lilies. To give the results of our third June rose show we know that we are in a fair way to make ours equal to those given in Portland. All we need is hearty cooperation on the part of everyone. More growers, better flowers and more who are willing to exhibit and then during the shows more enthusiastic boasting and fewer people who tell you for weeks afterwards, "I intended to exhibit or to attend the flower show but I didn't." Portland gave its success in starting these rose festivals not to the efforts of one man or one organization, but to the hearty and untiring cooperation of the people of Portland.

Mrs. Rosa Effort returned Friday from Portland, where she has been for the past several months. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Schenover, and her granddaughter, Shirley, who will spend several weeks visiting relatives here. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Baucher. Mrs. Schenover was formerly with Ethel Effort and is well known here.

Ever Benson Pupils
 Present Revue at Yreka
 Pupils of the Ever Benson Dancing academy again appeared in revue at the theatre in Yreka on a two-night engagement Wednesday and Thursday, June 12th and 13th.
 As it was last year on an engagement at Klamath Falls, all dancers and parents, as well as orchestra and pianist, enco, by the way was Medford's Betty Brown, were loathe to return from so realizable an enjoyable experience.

The audience on both nights was highly appreciative of the dancers' efforts. A change of program each night was planned by Mrs. Benson, but requests for repetition of certain numbers presented the night before were so insistent that the dancers were obliged to lighten the program the second night.

Three new numbers were also added on this occasion: "Crazy Kit," a character dance presented by dancing teachers and members of solo form by little six-year-old Gretchen McAlister, who has already proved her exceptional ability as a dancer.
 The "Vandy Duet," the sanest and most popular number, presented by Ly Marie Beck and Marjorie McNair, with Noel Benson in the center, which drew an enthusiastic applause. The versatility of these children is indeed remarkable.

The beautiful French minut was gracefully rendered by Marjorie McNair and Noel Benson, who lent character and color to this number, assisted by the bewitching music "The Lass with a Doll-like Air."

 Owing to the unavoidable absence of five pupils who appeared in further programs, it was necessary to break in others to take their places. However, numbers were carried to the finest success by Verma Peterson, Thelma Cole and Helen Wood in the Gipsies, Verma Peterson as the Englishman, whose general bearing and facial expressions all the way through "Columbine" quite pleased were hard to beat.

Marjorie McNair represented the Spanish with all his materialism to perfection.
 "The Hesperus" was danced by Verma Peterson, as girl, and Helen Wood as boy, and most gracefully rendered.

The Japanese dance had more substitutes on this occasion with one addition, a Chinaman in the center of the Eastern Gipsies.
 All the children are very deserving of much credit for their efforts on this occasion.

Special mention should be made of the extremely pleasant cooperation between parents, pupils, musician, and instructor in every possible respect. Everyone was busy, satisfaction and happiness reigned supreme.

Mrs. Benson has closed her academy in Medford until about the time the public schools reopen. She is, however, conducting a summer school in Ashland this season, and also intends to go to Los Angeles and San Francisco later on for more material in the Teachers' convention.

Ashland Art School
 Soon to Open
 The Ashland, Oregon, Summer School of Art must not be confused with the Ashland normal school art department. It is a very different proposition.
 Miss Belle Cody White of Pratt Institute, New York, has been coming here for five summers, bringing with her a carefully chosen corps of teachers and offering eight selected courses, a choice of four of which are a full-time course and carry eight college credits.

The school will be the sixth annual session of the Ashland art school and anyone who can possibly spare the time and very small amount of money required would do well to enroll for this summer course, which begins July 8 and closes on August 10.

Miss Ella Cady White is the director and will have this summer as her assistants Stanley G. Brenner, Marguerite Hansen and W. Ray Fenton.
 The faculty, coming from various art centers of the east and west, is chosen with special reference to the subjects each is to teach.

The needs of the modern teacher, the artist, the craftsman, the student, have been carefully considered.
 Each Sunday's Mail Tribune will have added information concerning the school and teachers but anyone interested further please read Miss Vivian Norman Larto, 964-L.

Miss Eunice Davis
 Visits at Home
 Miss Eunice Davis spent several days during the past week in this city visiting her parents on Cottage street and many other friends and relatives in the vicinity.
 Eunice and brother, Dana, and friend, Miss Inez Darling, drove down from Seattle for a short visit prior to acceptance of a government position by Dana that will keep him closely employed for some time.

The trio left Tuesday for Seattle, where Eunice is employed doing newspaper work. Miss Darling is a high school teacher.
H. N. O.'s Met Wednesday
 For Bridge
 The H. N. O. Card club held one of their charming parties Wednesday evening at the home of one of the members.
 The next party in two weeks will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson on Washington street and in four weeks they will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harwood, 304 Conklin avenue, in Grants Pass. This will conclude the meeting until autumn.

Former Medford Girl
 Visits Friends Here
 Miss Dorothy Hoffman, who formerly made her home in Medford but who moved to Eugene a year ago to attend Oregon university and who has completed her first year's work there, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis in Cottage street. She has been in the county, which drew an abundance of friends in Medford, who will be glad to know that she expects to spend several weeks in this city.
