Mrs. Hoover's Guest.
New York Heat.
Wee Willie's Name.
Charity Is Cold.

Inviting all the wives of congressmen, as custom orders, Mrs. Hoover invited, among others, the negro wife of a negro congressman, Mrs. De Priest, to have tea in the White House.

Senator Blaise is not to be congratulated on his reference to the incident.

He should remember that Mrs. Hoover had arranged a series of teas at the White House, which is public property for "the wives of all congressmen."

Deliberately to strike from her list one woman whose husband is a member of congress because she happened to be of African descent would have been to show contempt for the constitution of the United States.

Mrs. Hoover leaves that to bootleggers and their "respectable" customers. She is to be congratulated upon the fact that she does so.

Seven consecutive days of heat in New York City have killed eight, including one policeman who died on duty.

Ninety degrees plus humidity is a dangerous temperature in New York.

One hundred and fifteen degrees in the dry air of the Mojave desert, 2500 feet above the Pacific, is not disagreeable.

For absolutely ideal weather at this time of year, and to see what is perhaps the most beautiful part of America, take a train to Seattle and the northwest. Remember that all of the Pacific Coast is a summer resort.

A gangster or racketeer killing in these days is nothing to write much about, but what do you think of the name "Wee Willie Doody"?

That name interests the police in connection with the killing of a druggist.

Names like "Searface Al Capone" you can understand.

But what did the gunman do to be called "Wee Willie"?

To say charity is cold, puts it mildly. It is too late to ask the opinion of John Nelson, recently inmate of "a home for old folks." He was 70 years old, too young, he said, to be

We used to see some sweet, wholesome wags, but who ever heard of a sweet, wholesome film? 'Oh, I suppose he thought 'cuss he'd bid the hatchet he could say what he pleased to her,' said Mrs. Lida Hanger, when the read a some woman spoke her husband with a bogus smile.

SEES REAL RELIEF IN FARM BILL

In Radio Message to Farmers of Jackson County Clay D. Parker, Manager of Local Farmers Exchange, Deplores Effort To Shake Rural Confidence In Benefits of Co-operative Marketing.

In answer to a request from several members in Jackson county interested in the farm relief bill just passed in Washington, as well as the great public interest in the matter of co-operative farm organizations, Clay D. Parker, manager of the local Farmers Exchange Co-operative, delivered an interesting talk on the subject over KMEM last night.

Mr. Parker's address was in part as follows:

Farm Relief and Its Relation to Farmers' Co-operative Marketing. "Now that national government has officially recognized a program the whole object of which is to aid the farmer reap the fruits of his own industry, a great hubbub is being raised that the method is all wrong. Prophecies are numerous that the method of administering relief through farmers' co-operative organizations will defeat the very aim of the bill. This is a natural reaction because a direct farmers' cooperative marketing program is bound to cause trouble for all of the present commercial selling and distributing agencies.

"The present control of the marketing situation as to farm products is bad; it needs correction. There is no reason why producers should be in condition of actual want for life's necessities and at the same time be paying a profit to hundreds of commercial selling organizations that enables them to enjoy highly satisfactory incomes.

"Despicable Charges Made. "Among many predictions that are being made is the despicable charge that farm relief administered through the farmers' co-operative organizations is a gigantic scheme to further shackle the farmer—in fact a scheme to reduce the farmer to serfdom."

"I call your attention to one thing, and that is the fact that practically none of this hue and cry of wolf is coming from the real farmer.

"The farmer is so near being a 'serf' now that our national government has laid the foundation of a policy that recognizes the true worth of the farmer to our nation. Co-operative Marketing by Farmers. "What is co-operative farm marketing?"

"It is a bunch of farmers putting their crops together so that they can do a good job of selling and so they will get the best price. "The producer, more than anyone else, is interested in getting the best price.

"Farmer-owned, farmer-controlled co-operative marketing organizations will not and should not operate to destroy similar reliable marketing agencies. Each one needs the other for the farmer's best interests.

"In many of the highly specialized farming districts, co-operative marketing of produce and buying of supplies has been practiced for many years by farmer-owned and controlled co-operatives.

"All Skinned in a Bunch. "There have been many failures, some of them colossal. But in practically every case of failure the organization, although it may have been a so-called co-operative, was NOT a farmers' co-operative, owned and controlled by farmers.

"The big failure was farmer co-operatives only to the extent that the farmers were induced to cooperate to the extent that they all got together and signed a marketing contract with organized capitalized concerns and were all skinned in a bunch, instead of being skinned separately.

"These were not true farmers' co-operatives.

"The big source of trouble for farmer co-operatives up to date has been lack of capital or the means of procuring it.

"Hoover Comes to Aid. "Every year this has been getting worse. Our national government now proposes to furnish the capital to the farmer on good security at a reasonable rate of interest and at the same time leave the control in the hands of the farmer.

"A true farmers' co-operative marketing organization has absolutely no fixed single or total expense charge per package. The charge is determined at the end of the season. It is simple as A B C. The total expense is divided by the total number of boxes, barrels, barrels or sacks and the resulting figure is the charge per package.

COP HATER IS SOUGHT IN CHICAGO

"Wee Willie" Doody, Baby-Faced Desperado, Adds Two More Shootings To Long Crime List—Innocent Expression Masks Ruthless Killer—Foe of Men In Uniform.

CHICAGO, June 21.—(AP)—"Wee Willie" Doody, cop hater and desperado treating a trail pawling the road the snuffing, quick-firing "Terrible Tommy" O'Connor traw, had two more shootings to add for today.

They call him "Wee Willie" because of his stature; they call him "Baby Face" because of his soft, clear complexion and the innocent expression of his eyes. But the police and federal authorities see behind the child-musk Chicago's most ruthless killer, most brutal gunman and an incorrigible foe of men in police uniform.

Already indicted for the wounding of T. L. Jackson, ace of Chicago postal inspectors, for the killing of Charles Levy, chief of police of Berwyn, and for the shooting of last Tuesday night of Leon Raymond, an Oak Park druggist, Doody today was sought for the shooting and serious wounding of a restaurant owner and a policeman.

The latest outburst attributed to "Baby Face" started last night when a gunman, supposedly intending robbery, entered the restaurant of Milton Valsopoulos on the south side. As Valsopoulos approached him, the desperado whipped out two pistols and fired. Valsopoulos, wounded, fled forward and grappled with his assailant, as a customer seized him from the back. When the customer went out to seek a policeman, the gunman wrenched himself free and fled, pausing in the doorway to fire several more shots at Valsopoulos. The latter may die, doctors said.

Commanders Auto Reaching the street, the gunman jumped into an automobile stopped by traffic lights, forced the driver to get out, and sped away.

An hour later a man answering Doody's description entered the drug store of George Denbo on the northwest side and stole $35. When Denbo tried to parley with the man, the latter replied: "No back talk. I just shot up a joint on the south side, and I'm in a hurry. I've killed a couple like you and don't want to knock off any more."

As the rubber sped away, Denbo ran out and called to Police Sergeant Clarence Falk, who was with his motorcycle across the street. Falk passed the car within a mile.

"I surrender," the fugitive announced, stepping out of the car at Falk's command.

As the policeman fumbled with his holster, the gunman whipped out a pistol, struck Falk on the left ear with its butt and fired two shots, one of which struck Falk in the back.

The car later was found abandoned. Several picked squads of police, and a special squad of federal agents, have been assigned exclusively to search for Doody.

SPANIARDS TRY FLIGHT VIA AZORES

Major Ramon Franco And Three Companions On First Lap of Hop To New York—May Attempt Direct Line To Metropolis From Azores—Flew Across Atlantic In 1925.

CARTAGENA, Spain, June 21.—(AP)—Major Ramon Franco, celebrated Spanish aviator, who flew across the South Atlantic in 1925, took off here today at 4:50 p. m. (10:50 A. M. E. S. T.) for the Azores Islands on the first lap of a flight to New York.

The plane has 11 gasoline tanks holding 4100 liters (about 900 gallons) and an average speed of 100 miles an hour.

The itinerary, as given out here, calls for the following stopping places: The Azores, Halifax, New York, Newfoundland and back again to northern Spain. The entire trip from Cartagena said that the major might fly directly from the Azores to New York without stopping at Halifax, but this presumably depended upon the situation on reaching the North American coast.

Major Franco took off from Alcazar air field, near Cartagena, with three companions. The Spanish fliers are scheduled to make their first stop at the Azores which they should reach by 8:30 a. m. Saturday, Madrid time (2:30 a. m. E. S. T.).

Major Franco will spend the day at the Azores. He plans to take off for New York at 6 p. m. Saturday (noon E. S. T.).

Will Rogers Says:

SANTA MONICA, Cal., June 21.—The big contest that's been going on for months is over. "Congress vs. the People." The people win, congress is finally going to adjourn. Who says there is not justice in the world? I don't know about the farmer getting his relief, but it certainly will be a relief to Mr. Hoover to get that gang off his hands.

The tariff was left unsettled. Smoot's bill to make it unlawful for anybody to eat sugar not made of Utah sugar beets goes over till another session. William Howard Taft is making arrangements to stop away on the next aeroplane hop. Lindbergh's honeymoon is over. He went back to flying again. WILL ROGERS.
