Local and Personal

Jack Wood, local wrestling promoter, nearly caused a riot when he visited a carnival at Klamath Falls last evening, accompanied by one or two Medford men. Apparently there had been some trouble in connection with a carnival company's week's engagement in Klamath Falls, and when Sailor Jack arrived on the scene, several of the sponsors of the carnival thought he had been engaged to "clean up" the athletic show, causing men to be posted about the show, but a thorough investigation was made by the manager of the carnival, W. A. Mullen, who quickly learned Wood had arrived only on a friendly mission.

CALIFORNIA HEAT WAVE SUBSIDING

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—(AP) Sizzling temperatures throughout California were on the wane today, the weather bureau here announced this morning, and with fog creeping up the coast from the southern shores, further relief was expected.

A wave of heat, increasing in intensity, held the coast in its grip for the last two days.

It was indicated that high temperatures would continue to prevail in the interior.

There were many sections in the state yesterday that endured temperatures of 100 degrees or over. The highest temperature was recorded at Needles, where the mercury hit 114 degrees.

The heat wave struck only as far north as Eureka, where the temperature was only 62. At Portland the mercury hovered around 74, at Seattle, 70, Spokane 76 and Walla Walla 80.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—The recovery in stock prices, which has been under way all week, was continued today under the leadership of the railroad and aviation shares. Industrials and public utilities also pointed upward, although week-end profit taking retarded the advance. With many traders away for extended week-end trips, the volume of business was relatively light.

Selling pressure was renewed against American Waterworks and the stock dropped two points.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 1,350,000 shares.
