Uzendum Spanish Basque, and Max Schmeling, powerful German, pounded each other thru fifteen rounds in New York, while gentlemen and ladies enjoyed themselves IMMENSELY.

There is joy, for many, in watching a fight, when you can't be hurt.

At the end of fifteen rounds, Mr. Ruyon, sport historian, reports, "Paulino's countenance was completely mashed in. Both of Paulino's eyes were almost closed, his face was a red smear. He was drunk with dizziness.

The non-sporting historian observes, with mild interest, that Americans, in these days of wealth, prosperity and bootleg cocktails, seeking a heavy-weight champion, must pick men born abroad.

When Rome began sliding downhill, real fighters for the forum and the army were imported from the north and east. The Romans had become good watchmen of fights, because to be good fighters.

Mr. Miller, new president of the Loft company, big candy concern, announces an increase of almost 100 per cent pay for girls that sell candy.

Instead of $14, they will get $37 a week.

Mr. Miller thinks this will enable the girls to look neater, increase their interest in work, also the company's profits.

It will do that and something more important. It will give the girls enough to live decently. And as many of them are destined to have babies, it will provide a better next generation.

Disease germs are real. The Rockefeller Institute can show them to you, under a microscope, rushing frantically around in a single drop of human blood.

The germ of sleeping sickness looks like a red hot coiled spring. The germ of the most horrible blood disease looks like a dragon with a big head rushing to and fro in its little lake, the blood drop.

The "modern disciples of God" and others might change their minds about medicine if they could look through one of those microscopes.

The World war veteran started fifteen years ago yesterday at Sarajevo, where the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, was assassinated. That spark started the warfare that killed nearly 20,000,000 human beings, cost 350 billions of dollars and threatened to wipe out civilization in western Europe.

Two Bosnian students murdered the Archduke and his wife "to free Serbia from the Austrian yoke." In Jugo-Slavia they are national heroes, martyrs and memorial services praising them were held at their graves yesterday.

Except when Cain killed Abel there was never a murderer on this earth as disastrous to human beings as the murder of that otherwise unimportant Austrian archduke.

WHY STATE LOST FARM AID PLACE

Too Many Candidates After Portland Chamber of Commerce Manager Injects Self — Congressional Delegation For Rittner — Co-operatives Fail to Co-operate.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 29.—(AP)—Failure of Oregon co-operatives to agree upon one candidate for appointment to President Hoover's farm relief board, means that this state will not be represented on the board. At least this is the statement which will appear in an article in the Morning Oregonian tomorrow, written by John W. Kelly. It says in part:

Oregon candidates for appointment to the federal farm relief board "do not fit into the picture." Already various aspirants and their endorsements have been surveyed by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde at the instance of President Hoover, and the statement has been made, as quoted.

Such information obtained from an authoritative source at Washington, D. C., while proposals are now on foot in Oregon to have the number of candidates from this state reduced to one and all hands go behind the compromise.

If, as the Washington intelligence hints, no man from Oregon will be appointed on the farm board, there is, however, reason to believe that if concerted effort is put forth, the new board can be convinced of the advisability of locating a headquarters at Portland. There will, of necessity, be several zone or regional headquarters established, and Portland's chances should be good.

From what can be gathered, members of the Oregon congressional delegation are not sanguine of the state capturing one of the eight places on the board; at least, they are not optimistic as they were a few weeks ago. The delegation originally was a unit, for Roy W. Rittner, grain grower and ex-state senator of Umatilla county, the senators, McNary and Stelwer, went to the White House personally and presented Rittner's name and testimonials. Representative Hawley of the first congressional district took time from piloting his tariff bill to endorse Rittner, and Representative Butler of the second district and Representative Korsh of the third district did likewise.

After the delegation had pledged itself to Rittner, W. D. B. Dodson, manager of the Portland chamber of commerce, who was in Washington on other business, and numerous others advocated R. H. Kipp, manager of the agricultural marketing department of the chamber, then this was followed by the activity of R. A. Ward, E. J. Dixon and other "co-ops" in bringing out Paul V. Marks of Oregon State college, and there were messages for Jardine or Oregon State college and Lloyd T. Reynolds, state senator from Marion county. About this stage in the proceedings the members of the delegation began to lose heart. In other states the whole state was behind one candidate, but Oregon was embarrassed by its plethora of aspirants, which did not make the situation any easier for the delegation.

Within the past few days all of the Oregon aspirants, together with their endorsements, were given personal scrutiny by Secretary Hyde. For more than two hours the secretary discussed one after another he was apparently acting under instructions from President Hoover in sifting possibilities. There was no criticism of the aspirants, individually or collectively, but when the secretary of agriculture had scanned, studied and analyzed the list, he is reported as remarking that none of the Oregon "fits into the picture."

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP)—Two more branches of agriculture, dairying and fruit growing, were given recognition by President Hoover today in selecting the personnel of the newly created federal farm board.

Places on the board, to which will be entrusted the task of carrying out the provisions of the administration farm relief law, were offered to W. S. Mosier, secretary-treasurer of the Twin City Milk Producers association of St. Paul, Minn., and Charles O. Tamm of the California Citrus League. A definite arrangement with them has not been reached as yet, however, and it was reported from Los Angeles that Mr. Tamm would probably decline the appointment because of the pressure of business affairs.

As the situation stands, three of the eight appointments have

FUEL FAILS SPANIARDS OFF FAYAL

Seaplane Buffeted by Storms For Week Ere Rescue — Mystery of Plight Told — All Spain Joyous, as Flyers Travel Homeward.

MADRID, June 29.—(AP)—All Spain poured into the streets of cities and villages today in one national joy for the discovery this morning of the four Spanish aviators who had been lost and disappeared since they failed to arrive in the Azores islands last Saturday.

Aboard at sea through storms, hunger and fatigue in their Dornier Wal seaplanes, Major Ramon Franco and his three comrades on a round trip flight from Spain to New York, were picked up by two British airplanes from the aircraft carrier Eagle.

Five nations sent in vain ships and airplanes to search for them through a week of anxious waiting, which turned slowly to despair, before the Eagle discovered the aviators close to the very spot where the Spanish government thought they had landed last Saturday.

A mysterious and untraced message, purported to be from Major Franco, then said the flyers were landing on San Miguel island, nearest of the Azores group to Santa Maria, where they were found by British airplanes scouting without hope but on a chance of finding them.

On board the Eagle for Gibraltar tonight, Major Franco himself explained the mystery of their disappearance in the first direct appearance given of the flight. He said they passed over the Azores in the dark and the clouds Friday night and when they turned back they made for Fayal, Major Franco explained, "but owing to a strong headwind we ran out of gasoline about 40 miles from that point."

A strong north-easterly wind drifted us to the south and on the following day, the 23rd, we were about 100 miles from Fayal," he related.

"The wind shifted to the southwest and drifted us toward the island of Santa Maria. From the 24th to the 27th, winds of varying force and direction drifted us about. On the morning of the 27th the situation was extremely dangerous."

At dawn today the aviators were located by the Eagle's planes. Major Franco praised his own airplane, saying "the behavior of the airplane and engines was magnificent."

MOLINE, Ill., June 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Phoebe Omble, Memphis, Tenn., aviator, today flew to an estimated height of 25,400 feet, claiming the altitude record for women. Mrs. Omble was in the air one hour and five minutes. She took off at 2:45 o'clock and landed at 3:50 o'clock, reaching the high-point point in her flight over Iowa City, Iowa.

$679,500 PAID FOR ORCHARDS

Sales for First Six Months of Year Comprise 17 Tracts and 1175 Acres— Orchard Transfers For Year May Exceed Million Mark—Bartlett's to Cannery Will Bring Golden Flood in August.

Sale of orchard land in the Rogue River valley for the first six months of this year will approximate $679,500, with prospects that the sales for the entire year will total over a million dollars. A couple of large deals are now pending.

The sales range from $112,000, paid ten days ago by W. F. Hiddle and J. E. Edgerton for the Three Oaks orchard property, to $15,500 for the Dr. Heckman tract near Central Point early in the year.

The chief sale of last week was the purchase of the Gold Crest orchard by E. J. W. Hearty of New York City, president of the E. J. W. Hearty company, pre-cooling plant operators and fruit distributors, for $75,000.

The 17 orchards involved in the sales are all highly developed and bearing orchards, and in most of the deals the purchaser also secured this season's crop. The deals comprised 1175 acres of bearing orchards.

The list of the orchards and amounts is as follows, and includes sales since January 1, last: George Ross orchard, 100 acres, $50,000; Gold Crest orchard, 50 acres, $75,000; two orchards owned by Mrs. Herbert, 135 acres, $120,000; Corbin Edgell orchard, 40 acres, $35,000; W. H. Crandall orchard, 40 acres, $20,000; Dr. Heckman, 15 acres, $15,000; F. K. Belknap orchard, 20 acres, $27,000; Gold Ranch and Oakview, 40 acres, $50,000; Jewett orchard, 80 acres, $25,000; J. B. Andrews, 40 acres, $20,000; Herkeley orchards, 200 acres, $25,000; Harry Butler, 40 acres, $20,000; R. L. Wilson, 15 acres, $20,000; Betty Bew orchard, 60 acres, $30,000; Peter Engle orchard, 30 acres, $25,000, and Three Oaks, 160 acres, $112,000.

The sales in practically every instance were made to experienced fruit and orchard operators, for further development and by men with heavy investments in this section.

Coupled with the healthy condition of orchard property is the estimate that 12,000 tons of the estimated Bartlett crop of this valley, of between 18,000 and 19,000 tons, has been sold to the canneries. This means that upon delivery to August over $1,000,000 will be paid to the growers.

The Bartlett crop prices ranged from $75 to $82.50. Some of the growers held on for $85 per ton, and are still negotiating for sales.

MODERN GODIVA SPORTS TIGHTS ON EPIC RIDE

Imitates a Lady Who Rode Naked on a White Horse to Reduce Taxes, and Some Criticise — It Was a Pageant.

COVENTRY, Eng., June 29.—(AP)—An estimated 300,000 persons lined the main thoroughfare of this old city today as a beautiful golden haired girl rode on a white charger through the heart of the town, attired only in flesh colored tights. It was a holiday pageant and procession of Lady Godiva, enacted for the benefit of the Coventry hospital.

Hundreds of Americans and other tourists crowded the streets to watch the ancient story of the Saxon lady who rode naked through the streets of Coventry about 1040 A. D., to gain from her husband, Leofric, earl of Mercia, the remission of oppressive taxes on his people, again unfolded in picturesque pageantry.

Miss Muriel Mellor, the modern Lady Godiva, faced the approximately 400,000 eyes and hundreds of cameras without flinching, but there was an undertone of criticism of the whole program in some quarters. The presence of numerous clergymen, councilors, aldermen and other dignitaries, however, silenced the opposition.

Godiva's horse, "Peaceful," was led by Benedictine nuns and headed a procession four miles long. History repeating episodes in the life of ancient Coventry, portraying a wide range of historical subjects and including Mary, Queen of Scots; Sir John Falstaff and the gunpowder plots.

BANK EMPLOYEE ADMITS THEFT

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 29.—(AP)—Fred W. Kinsey, for 10 years a bookkeeper in the Capital National bank, was being held in the county jail here today on a $5000 bail on charges of having embezzled $6,621.50 of the institution's funds.

Indicating that he will plead guilty to the charges, Kinsey said he started embezzling the funds when he became short $400 in the treasury of a lodge. He was discharged from the bank on June 1, but the shortage was not discovered until last Friday. He willingly confessed to the charges when accused of the theft, bank officials said.

LONGVIEW WIFE DIES IN CRASH

LONGVIEW, Wash., June 29.—(AP)—Mrs. C. A. Kelly, 36, of Skamokawa was killed and her husband is in the Longview hospital with possible internal injuries, as the result of an automobile accident on the temporary Ocean Beach highway, eight miles west of Longview this evening. Few details were available, but it was indicated that her car was traveling toward Longview when it was crowded off the highway and rolled down a steep embankment.

MABEL OUT OF DRY JOB AND QUIET

Militant Lady Will Write for Syndicate and Tell World Why — Resignation Attributed to Curbing of Powers — Prison Aid Her Hobby.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, who has been much in the public eye for two years because of her aggressive prosecution of prohibition law violators and her militant political activities in the last presidential campaign, went quietly out of office today to engage in private law practice.

Before leaving, Mrs. Willebrandt made known her intention to issue a statement "to all the newspapers within a short time" and revived gossip as to the cause of her sudden withdrawal from the department of justice at a time when she was expected to assume the direction of prohibition enforcement as well as prohibition prosecution.

Mrs. Willebrandt has never said anything of the cause of her resignation other than that she had received an attractive offer to resume private practice, which she felt she could not refuse. It was denied at the time, both at the White House and at the department that any other factor entered into her departure.

Rumors prevailed, however, that Mrs. Willebrandt was not satisfied with the program for her activities after the proposed transfer of the prohibition bureau to the justice department from the treasury. The former woman assistant attorney general did not look kindly upon having added responsibilities without having complete freedom of action and there were various reports that this had been denied her.

During the eight years that Mrs. Willebrandt has been head of the division of the justice department in charge of prohibition enforcement and supervision of the federal penitentiaries, one of the chief aims of her work has been directed toward improving the prisons and providing better care for the inmates.

It was her insistence upon the carrying out of her prison reform ideas that caused her clashes with John Spook, warden of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, which received much publicity and resulted in removal of the warden. The prison system, she insisted, should be operated scientifically and in an effort to carry out the idea she secured the services of Sanford Bates, prominent penologist, as superintendent of federal prisons.

Among the first things she will do in private life will be a series of articles for a news syndicate, setting forth her experiences in the department of justice and it was because of the contract for this work that she declined to comment when she left her office today.

BOISE HOPES TO SEE LINDBERGH

BOISE, Idaho, June 29.—(AP)—While Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as yet has not answered the invitation sent him to attend the Western States Aeronautics conference in Boise next week, the management of the conference is hopeful that he intends to be present.

They point out that the colonel's literary is bringing him gradually westward and northward on his honeymoon air tour, and they are confident he will reach Boise in time for some of the sessions at least, in view of his interest in the purpose of the gathering.

Secretary Ray L. Wilbur of the department of the interior and Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation, will be in Boise during some of the sessions, though not coming primarily for that purpose. They will reach here July 9, the second day of the meetings.

Casualties of the Air Service

MINEOLA, N. Y., June 29.—(AP) Corporal Elmer Barry died today in the Nassau county hospital from injuries received yesterday when the army observation plane in which he was riding with Lieut. Maxwell Balfour burst into flames and fell 2000 feet to the ground. His condition had originally been reported as fair but he suffered a relapse after midnight. Lieut. Balfour will recover.
