

MILLER NAMED SUCCEED BEAN ON COMMISSION

Albany Man Gets Chairmanship Oregon Public Service Body - G. O. P. Leaders Backed Candidate - Held Place 1893-1910.

SALEM, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—Frank J. Miller of Albany, formerly a member of the Oregon public service commission for eight years and connected with the department for a much longer period, was yesterday appointed by Governor Patterson to serve again on that commission. He was named to succeed the late Louis E. Bean. At a meeting of the commission Friday afternoon Miller was elected chairman, also succeeding Bean in that capacity.

In appointing Miller, Governor Patterson complied with advice given him by Republican political leaders of Portland, Albany and Eugene, and is believed also to have followed his own inclinations. Among those calling on the governor before the appointment was announced were John L. Day and Floyd Cook of Portland and Senator Willard Marks of Albany. Miller also was with the governor during the afternoon. Friends of Miller declared, however, that Miller did not seek the appointment, but had been prevailed upon to accept it if it were offered him.

Miller became secretary of the state railroad commission, out of which grew the public service commission, in 1893, and served in that office until 1910. In the latter year he was appointed a member of the commission to succeed Oswald West, who had been elected governor. Miller served as commissioner until 1918 when he was defeated for the Republican nomination by Fred A. Williams.

Miller did not retire entirely from public life. For the last several years he has served as a member of the board of normal school regents. This board, by an act of the 1925 legislature, was absorbed into the state board of higher education.

dramatic finish had been staged in the flight which many of them had wanted to see terminate since late last Tuesday, after the record was set, the plane with its pilots had been safely trundled into a wire cage between two hangars, especially constructed for the occasion.

There was an effort made to break through the police lines which quickly formed, the thousands giving vent to their feelings by raising a mighty cheer for the fliers, whose ears, deafened by their roaring motor, could not hear.

The controls seemed to be jammed. Chief Pilot Mendell explained as he climbed from the plane. "For the sake of the record I thought we had better come down. I had no trouble landing, but the tail was so heavy I had to hold the stick back with both hands to bring her down on an even keel."

Then came the praise for the lower unit. "I never saw a motor run prettier," he said. Mendell looked hale and hearty, while Reinhart, a bit more pale, stumbled as he attempted to walk away from the plane. Both fliers said they found themselves strangely weak on their feet.

Mrs. H. Reinhart greeted her husband with a vigorous embrace before the pilots, in the face of protests, were whisked away to a hospital for physical examination and a complete rest.

Good Condition. Dr. Frederick Rhodes, who examined them, said that their condition was "much better than might have been expected."

and kept as determined to push on the fullest of our powers. Long Grind. "As to the flight, it was a long grueling grind, but we feel as though it was well worth every effort that was made, and we are pleased with the interest which the people have shown toward us."

Inspection of the 229-horsepower Whirlwind motor which carried the bi-plane to its astounding record showed that it was in excellent condition. The nine-cylinder air-cooled power unit was taken apart late yesterday by W. E. Thomas, Wright Aeronautical corporation expert, and after being thoroughly looked over, he pronounced it as "ready to fly again."

It was estimated that the Angeleno had flown approximately 19,760 miles in the journey which had taken it only a few miles from the airport. The average speed was 70 miles an hour, with the motor consuming 3,935 gallons of gasoline.

Paul Whittier, millionaire pilot and Shadrach Hubert had charge of the refueling ship which kept motor and men supplied with the assistance necessary to keep them in the air in their monotonous flight.

A new Buick air sedan today was en route here, a gift to the fliers from the makers of the plane Angeleno. It is powered with a Wright Whirlwind motor, gift of the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

Cash contributions amounting to more than $3,000, and possible contracts for screen and stage appearances, as well as for newspaper and magazine articles, awaited the pair when they had completed their rest.

The flight was backed by Williams Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, who owns the plane; William G. McAdoo, Jr., A. E. McManus, Jr., manager of the Culver City airport where the flight was staged, and Paul Whittier, pilot of the refueling ship.

PHOENIX BIBLE CLASS PLAN COMMENCEMENT

(Contributed) After four full, happy weeks the Phoenix daily vacation Bible school has come to a close. Ninety-four boys and girls celebrated the completion of the term with a "rattling good" picnic on Warner creek.

After the picnic, the school closed with a ball game and the exciting close of the volley ball tournament and the game between the pupils and teachers and lunch with ice cream and lemonade, the crowd resorted to the inviting swimming pool of Evan Reames for water sports.

But they have saved the best to the last. Teachers and pupils extended a cordial invitation to the general public to attend their commencement exercises on Sunday night, July 14, at the Phoenix Presbyterian church. The time is set at 8 o'clock.

Have you ever attended an evening service of worship conducted by a half hundred children? The Phoenix Bible school will have a complete charge of the services, and will be glad to show you what they have been doing during the last four weeks. The program will include numbers by the children's chorus, call to worship, chorale, prayer, memory drills, sermons, a two-act play and the granting of diplomas and prizes.

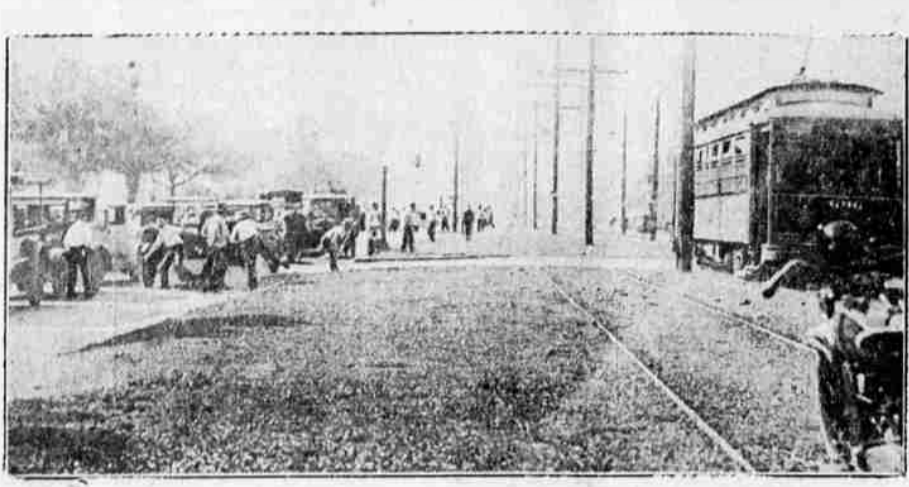

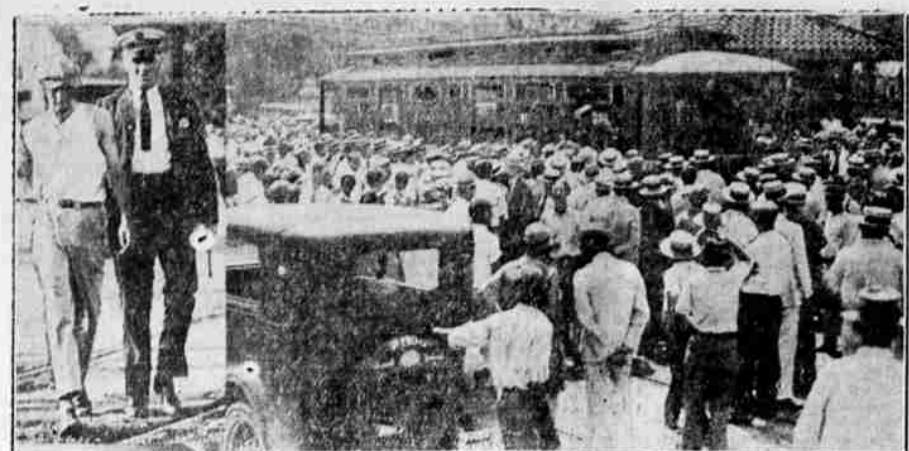

Come to Phoenix and bring your family and friends to this service by the boys and girls. It is at 8 p. m. Sunday, July 14.

M'GRAW STAGES RALLY TO BEAT BRUINS 4 TO 3

Ten Innings Necessary to Subdue Cubs - Athletics Take Twin Bill in St. Louis - Cardinals Demonstrate Helplessness.

By William J. Chipman Associated Press Sports Writer Favorites in the two major leagues had nothing but a breeze yesterday, save the case of the Giants and the Cubs who played each other. The young men of John McGraw rallied in the last two rounds to pull this one out by 4 to 3 in 10 innings, and the Pirates gained a full game on the Bruins by the simple process of giving the Phillies their daily beating, 6 to 4. The Pirates now lead by three games.

Concussions of the day spread gloom in St. Louis by leading the Athletics to a double victory over the Browns by 10 to 9 and 2 to 2, and at the same time added a technical half-game to his lead over the White Sox by 12 to 2. The Maclean margin now is eight and one-half games, seven of which are in the lost column which baseball folk regard as money in the bank.

The Giant-Cub game was the most stubbornly contested battle of the day, with Larry Benton stading three Chicago rivals by a whisker at the finish. Burleigh Grimes gave the Phillies 13 hits at Baker bowl. But as usual, was stingy with runs. Two three-run outbursts by his support were sufficient to bring him his 15th victory. The game was unique in that no batsman cleared that right field wall.

The Cardinals gave Brooklyn fans an intimate demonstration of why the champions no longer are in the race. The St. Louisians combed Dazzy Vance for five runs in the first half of the ninth, but broke a 2 to 2 stalemate, but promptly proceeded to give the game right back to Brooklyn in the home half. Three St. Louis errors, four passes and three hits enabled the Robins to score six runs with one out to win by 8 to 7.

The Cincinnati Reds fought their way to within a few percentage points of an escape from the cellar by furling the Braves for the third successive afternoon. The Reds rallied behind Dixie for two runs in the ninth to tie, and won by 4 to 2 with a single marker two innings later.

The Tigers rallied for four in the ninth to win a weird game from the Red Sox by 12 to 12, and the Indians shaded Washington at Cleveland by 3 to 2.

While angling for another Boston crab, the Indian tossed Barackman into the ropes. The Seattle man's chin hit the floor and he lost the match in 22 minutes. The third was won by the Indian in one minute and a half.

LEGION JUNIORS EAGER TO PLAY EUGENE CHAMPS

The boys of the American Legion Junior ball league have been working hard every night at the Jackson school grounds, under the coaching of Verne Shangle, and are confident of winning their first inter-district game with Eugene, which will be played either at Portland or Roseburg. There seems to be some misunderstanding as to where the game will be played and the young ball twirlers are anxiously awaiting word from the northern city.

Word comes from Eugene that they are confident of winning, but so is Medford. Local baseball fans who have watched the boys work out, say they have one of the best ball teams of boys of their age that they have ever seen. So the game should be a real battle. Several of the boys with some arms are now O. K. Coach Shangle says the boys have an infield as smooth working as many teams he has seen of much older players.

The state is divided into eight districts and the districts will play until all are eliminated but two. It is planned to have the state championship game at Salem during the American Legion convention. The state champs will play for the regional title and the winners in the region, of which there are 12 in the United States—six in the east and six in the west—will meet in two tournaments in August, and the winners will be brought together in the Junior world series in September. The winners of the Junior world series will be guests of the National and American leagues at the big world series.
