

LAKE CAFETERIA WILL BE OPENED BY NEXT SUNDAY

CRATER LAKE, Ore., July 16.—(Special.) Next Sunday will find the new cafeteria running full swing, according to announcement made Monday morning. The crew will arrive a few at a time, for the next four days. Visitors will be able to secure light lunches, sandwiches and so forth and will find the accommodations up to the minute in every respect.

A. S. Rosenbaum of Medford, and a party of friends spent a short time at the rim Sunday. The saddle horses which were added to the other concessions this summer are proving very popular. Although many people prefer to walk down the trail to the lake, they find the horses most adequate on the return trip. Numerous trips and parties have been arranged for trips into the nearby canyons and meadows.

Other Medford residents visiting at the lake Sunday were: Miss Hattie Gearhart, Miss Dorothy Riddell, Eula Jacobs and Dan Herring.

Miss Bernice Cameron of Medford motored with friends to the lake Sunday.

H. D. McCaskey and party spent Saturday afternoon viewing the lake from the rim.

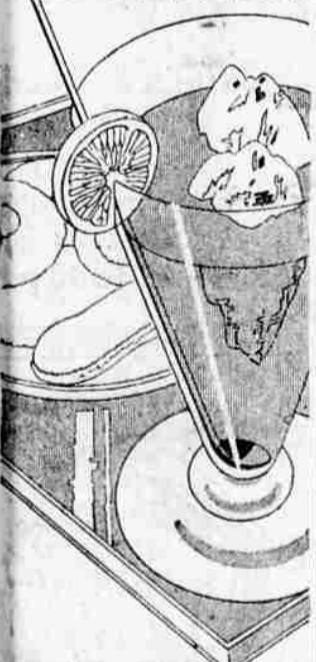

Vernon Vawter motored from Medford to Crater Lake Sunday afternoon and spent a few hours visiting with R. W. Price before returning to Medford. Mr. Vawter was accompanied on the return trip by Mrs. Vawter who has been a guest at the lodge for the past week.

BAGLEY CANNERY BUSY ON BIG CHERRY CROP

ASHLAND, Ore., July 16.—(Sp.) The Ashland cherry, late in ripening this year on account of the delayed season, is a splendid crop and is just now demanding the attention of growers, and is keeping the Bagley cannery working up to capacity to take care of 7000 or 8000 pounds daily. Royal Anes are handled exclusively by the cannery, and 39 employees are busy at the plant.

Next week, as the cherries are finished up, some raspberries will be handled at the cannery. Sauer kraut is also being made to take care of the early cabbage crop. The heavy season at the cannery will come when the tomatoes are ripe, and no other vegetable will be handled. Tomatoes and pears will comprise the bulk of the cannery product this year.

It was decided to hold the regular bi-monthly meetings during the remainder of the summer. The meeting was largely devoted to a discussion of plans and arrangements for a dinner to be given the fourth Friday of July, two weeks from this meeting. This dinner is the consummation of a membership drive contest between the ladies and the men of the Grange, the losing side to furnish the dinner to the winning side. The contest was finally declared to be a tie, so the efforts of each side are to be united to furnish an evening of entertainment for the Grange.

A program committee composed of Ted Sims, Mrs. Geo. Eick and Catherine Wendle was appointed the home economics committee being detailed to look after the arrangements for the dinner.

Lake Creek Grange. Lake Creek Grange held its regular social meeting on Thursday evening, July 11, with an unusually large attendance of local members and a large group of visitors from Eagle Point.

Mrs. Ward, lecturer of Eagle Point Grange, presented a splendid program during the lecture hour.

Members of the Lake Creek Grange will give a return program at Eagle Point in the near future. The program included two musical numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Middlesteadt; a very amusing reading, "Betty at the Ball Game," by Mrs. Spencer, who gave a clever little song as an encore; a harmonica solo by Mr. Forcet; an interesting reading with local references, "The Family Album," by Mrs. Weidman; two musical numbers by Elsie and Dorothy White; Vernon Monia and William Miller; an amusing reading, "Mother Takes Sonny Boy to the Circus," by Mrs. Weidman, accompanied by Mrs. Middlesteadt; an excellent reading, "Casey's Description of His Fight," by Mr. Davies; two lively harmonica duets by Mr. Stowell and Mr. Vestal.

Byway number was heartily appreciated by the Lake Creek Grangers, who feel that the neighboring Grange showed an excellent spirit in offering to exchange programs.

BABY DEER FINDS NEW FRIENDS IN LITHIA PARK PEN

ASHLAND, Ore., July 16.—(Special.)—Park Superintendent and Mrs. Harris Dean are busy these days caring for two young fawns. The first of the pair was found wandering alone in the hills after the mother was killed and was brought to the park and handed over to the care of the superintendent and his wife. The baby had to be fed from a bottle and grew to be very tame. Game Warden Roy Parr found the second fawn wandering alone in the woods and donated it to the park zoo. The two pen have attracted considerable attention from tourists and it is hoped that they may become one of the points of interest in the park.

The "Honey Dew Minstrels" will give an entertainment at the Southern Oregon normal school Monday evening, July 22. This announcement has been made by Mrs. R. C. McNeal, who is directing the production. She handled a similar event a year ago in a most creditable manner and brings to the work a peculiar understanding which comes from years spent in the south.

The Lithians, in order to raise a deficit on their dance floor in Lithia park, have planned for a general community affair Thursday evening, July 18. A long list of sponsors from outside the lists of the Lithians will attend and will back the Lithians in raising their shortage.

The New Farm Bill. Needless to say, farmers throughout the country are disappointed in the new farm measure which is sponsored to place agriculture on an equality with other industries.

This measure, which is simply the old Jardine idea and which could have been adopted during the Coolidge administration if it had been acceptable to farm leaders, places the burden of taking care of surplus crops on the shoulders of the farm co-operative organizations, funds for this purpose being provided from the revolving fund provided by congress.

There is great danger that a campaign will be staged by high pressure salesmen to "sell" the idea of cooperative marketing associations to farmers along the lines of the Shapiro fiasco of a few years ago, organizing from the top instead of from the bottom, and resulting in greater failure than our own Oregon Fruit Growers' association, which started off with the fruitgrowers of Oregon enthusiastic and zealous for the success of the enterprise, but which proved a "dead" and complete failure. Undoubtedly, so far as the fruitgrowers of Oregon are concerned, the bankruptcy of this state wide enterprise set back the cooperative idea in our state many years.

There is the added danger in this administration farm bill that many Granges may be wrecked by farmers thinking that commodity organizations embracing their own lines of production will be sufficient for their needs, that agriculture can exist and prosper in the near future without a central organization, such as our order, to speak for the farmer as a class, irrespective of the crops he is producing.

We should help, in every manner possible, the new farm board, but at the same time we, as Grangers, must see that our organization is not hampered in its endeavor to place every farmer and his family within our ranks for the benefit of agriculture and the farm home. The agricultural class in Oregon must have an organization through which they can speak and act as a unit, and not in a divided way through commodity selling structures only, thereby frittering away their strength.

With the larger number of farmers within our state who are members of cooperative associations, are members of the Grange, those who are not must be made to see the necessity of having one statewide organization to speak for agriculture. Without one central association, agriculture, so far as Oregon is concerned, is doomed to be controlled and directed by interests whose only thought is the exploitation of the farming class.

$500 FOR TENNIS STAR IF ESCHEWS CIGARETS

LONDON.—(Sp.)—Betty Nuthall, British tennis star who was one of the attractions at the Wimbledon tournaments this year, left interested enough in cigarettes to walk a block for one.

"I have never smoked and never wanted to," she says. "And there is $500 for me if I reach the age of 21 without having smoked."

HE THOUGHT:
"You're not as sweet as you look."
Yes, to be polite,
HE SAID:
"How nice you look today."

Men seldom invited Edna twice... "B.O." is so unpardonable

HE had begged so hard for this date. And now... Harry was still nice to her. But Edna felt the change. Miserably, she wondered why men always lost interest. Then Edna learned the trouble. Today she's showered with invitations. She found it's easy to end "B.O."—Body Odor. Just keep perspiration odorless. Unpardonable—yet tricky. Quick to betray—but slow to warn. "B.O." hurts its victims—while they least suspect it. Hotter weather—more "B.O." Never be caught off guard. We become insensitive to ever-present odors, but we're always perspiring. Pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily. And the hotter it is, the more we offend.

For safety's sake, always bathe with Lifebuoy. Favoring of millions. Mild, yet wonderfully invigorating. Lifebuoy's deep-reaching antiseptic lather purifies. Pores breathe again. You feel fresher—cleaner than ever before. No chance for "B.O." Keeps skins fresh and clear, too. Guards health—by removing germs. Lifebuoy's pleasant, extra-clean scent, which vanishes as you rinse, tells you it purifies. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

Big Lens and Leg Men.

WASHINGTON.—(Sp.)—Able lens and leg men, who take a picture and develop and print it on the spot, reap a harvest as warm weather brings tourists flocking to Washington. The result usually resembles the tintype of the 30's, but that does not prevent the photographer from striking an ecstatic pose and exclaiming, "hee-sew-ti-ful, ma'am!"

CRATER LAKE, Ore., July 16. (Special.)—A woman whose name could not be learned, and whose age was 65 years, climbed to the top of Garfield peak, down to the water's edge and back, this afternoon. This would be quite a feat for a younger person, but for one whose age has reached and passed the half-century mark, it is quite remarkable.

These young men have visited a great number of scenic spots that would interest them, geologically speaking, and will visit several more before returning to their studies. They proved very entertaining and the guests in the camp ground found their southern dialect amusing. No doubt our own speech
