Applaud those who participated in the "Copco Hour" were Miss Elbow Mae Wilson, soprano, George A. Prokham, bass, Mrs. George Anderson, pianist and Earle Davis, announcer. Miss Wilson and Mr. Prokham are the winners of the recent Artery-Kent radio contest and their recordings are always popular with popular approval by local music lovers.

Caused by a spark from the wood stove lighting at a pile of papers under the sink in the kitchen of the William Cooksey home, 822 Cedar street, was the scene of a fire at noon today. The fire department reached the home soon after the blaze started and was successful in containing the fire to the room in which it started. It was extinguished within a few minutes after its arrival.

A two-hour program of Copco movies entertained a large gathering of valley people at a district meeting of the Yeoman lodge held in Ashland last evening. The films which were presented by Messrs. H. L. Bromley and F. E. Ross of the Copco advertising department, covered many recent current events as well as seasonable scenic subjects such as Lake of the Woods, Diamond lake and other southern Oregon vacation resorts. Several good comedies also were included in the evening's program.

Herzog Bromley, advertising manager for the Copco and Mountain States power companies, returned from a vacation trip to Diamond lake and Lake of the Woods. Mrs. Bromley and family will remain at the latter resort for several days, being joined by Mr. Bromley later in the week.
