DEUEL AGAIN AT TOP OF LADDER FOR NET HONOR

For the first time since the ladder tournament of the Medford Tennis club started a month ago the leader successfully defended his position when Kramer "Bud" Deuel, who took first place from Jimmy Edmiston last night, this morning stood off the challenge of the local high school player Deuel won, 6-2, 6-4. In last night's play Deuel displaced Edmiston from the top rung by scores of 6-3, 3-6, 7-5.

Alvin Tollefson, former University of Oregon star, continued his climb up the ladder last evening by beating Ralph Bailey for No. 4 position, 7-5, 3-6, H. G. Wilson will be Tollefson's next opponent.

Harry L. Butler stopped the Medford champion Earl "Popcorn" Hopper last night, 6-4, 6-0, 8-6. Tom Bryant went forward two steps when he defeated Harry Garfield 6-0, 6-0 and W. Prout, 6-1, 6-2. Pruitt held his position when he, in turn beat Garfield, 6-0, 6-0. In the only other challenge match of the day, Deuel defeated Wilson, 6-2, 6-2.

TOO MANY FIRES SAYS CHIEF ROY

In spite of the fact that Medford boasts the lowest fire rate in the state of Oregon and wishes to maintain its low fire rate, Chief Roy Elliott and his crew moved into their new home, one month ago today. "Perhaps it is because the public want us to know they are aware of our existence, even though we have moved into a strange neighborhood," says the chief. "However, we are not carried away by this idea to the extent of being flattered by this type of attention. Fires are too numerous, and give evidence of too much carelessness," he added.

The dry weather was given as another reason for the large number of fires this month. With a whole week of July left, there have been 23 fires in the city this month. Twenty of these were grass fires, which in practically every case was caused by carelessness according to the official and undogged surrounding homes in the residential districts.

This is the highest number of fires reported in Medford this year. June was the record breaking month last year, with 27 fires reported.

DRUM CORPS TO EUGENE FRIDAY

What was pronounced by Drum Major Lloyd Williamson as the best rehearsal of the entire year, was held at the local armory last night when the 19 members of the Eugene drum corps practiced the program they will present at Eugene during the course of the Sunset Trail pageant this week.

A new piece, composed by F. Wilson Waite, taken from the overtures of a number of operas, and worked over into drum corps music, promises to be a sensation, according to Mr. Williamson. The number is flashy and exceptionally well handled by the boys, he said.

The local corps will leave in their own special car tomorrow night, in which a number of local residents will also make the trip north. The drum corps will be escorted by their newly elected business manager, Horace Bromley, who will also take them to Salem to the convention, August 5, 9, and 10. At Eugene, they will march in the industrial parade, and will also furnish incidental music whenever and wherever the entertainment lags.

Mrs. Babs Ruth calls her husband "George," which puts her one up on everybody else. Nobody has been found who calls him "Hetman."

BOY SCOUTS AID IN PREPARATION FOR GIRLS CAMP

BOY SCOUT APPELATE CAMP, July 25.—(Special)—All of the scouts went to the Girl Scout camp Wednesday and helped work on their new dining hall and Bob Root, Wade Hansen, Bob Fowler and Bob Boyd are shingling it today. Five of the Crater Lake boys—Earl Mitchell, John Moser, Robert Root, Marion Smith and LeRoy Dunford—held a meeting around the camp fire last night.

The boys returned from the Crater and Green pasts bike last night and reported a very enjoyable trip. They stood the 40-mile hike very well and came back in high spirits and with no sore feet.

"They said they could see Mount Shasta and miles of the surrounding country from the pass. They visited the Home Lodge and learned much about mining, and Lee P. Brown of the forest service, who accompanied the boys, said they would have brought back the whole mine if he had let them. They obtained many specimens of flowers, trees and minerals that they had never seen before.

The scouts who made the hike were Marion Smith, Marion Palmer, Jack Dedrick and Lavon Dunford. The tenderfoot will put on the whole day's program at the camp Friday. A court of honor will be held by the scouts in Medford at the court house at 8 o'clock tonight and one will be held Sunday at the camp at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The camp will end Sunday at 4:30 and the scouts will return to their homes.

STATE CITIES VIE FOR FAIR QUEEN

A contest, to choose the queen, crown princess, and six royal brides, for the Oregon State fair, which is to be held in Salem, starting Sept. 23, will begin August 5, and continue for six weeks, the person to receive the largest number of votes to be queen, the one receiving next to the highest, crown princess, and so on. There will be candidates from each of the cities in Oregon, excluding Portland.
