YAKIMA CANTS ON PORTLAND MARKET

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 6.—(AP) Yakima cantaloupes of excellent quality, came on the market today. A truckload of the product was brought some 234 miles, to the East Side mart of the Gardeners and Ranchers' association, and quoted at unusually reasonable prices. The grower sold the whole load at $2 to $2.25 a crate of 27 melons. Prices naturally will take a tumble.

Another East Side market price decline was in tomatoes, which were down to 20 cents. Blackberries took the same toll down to $1.50. Peaches were slightly weaker at 50 cents to $1. Green corn lipped off quite a bit when it reached to $1.50 to $1.75 for a sack of six dozen.

Potatoes were scarce and the price tendency was upward. They were held at $2 to $2.25 for a box of 10 pounds. Other prices were unchanged.

Livestock. PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 6.—(AP) Cattle and calves quietly steady to weak; receipts, cattle 50, calves 15. HOGS: Opening around 25 cents lower than Monday's best for killing classes; receipts 450, including 55 dressers. Heavy weight $11.25 to $12.25; medium weight $11.25 to $12.25; light weight $11.25 to $12.25. SHEEP and LAMBS: Quotations steady; receipts 150.

Wall Street Report. NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Easing call money rates checked a sharp decline in today's stock market. Prices of many active shares were carried down 1 to 3 points in the morning selling movement, but most of the losses were cut in half or better, and a sprinkling of issues carried 2 to 6 points above yesterday's final quotations in the early afternoon recovery. Trading was fairly heavy in volume.

Active buying in the coppers, which rose 2 to 4 points, coincident with a decline in the call money rate to 8 per cent caused a spirited rise in the last hour. Late selling of Pan-American Petroleum B and May Department Stores was a feature. The close was irregular. Sales approximated 2,500,000 shares.

JACSON COUNTY MAY HAVE ANNUAL PICNIC FOR POSTAL WORKERS

Should next Sunday's first annual outing and picnic of the employees of the Medford postoffice be a success, and there seems not the slightest doubt that it will be. It will be expanded hereafter to become the annual summer outing of employees of all the postoffices in Jackson county, their families and friends.

Next Sunday's picnic of the Medford postal employees will be held in a delightful spot on the Applegate river about one mile above the Star ranger station, with a fine swimming hole of graduated depth to the deepest part of about 11 feet, and a baseball diamond and splendid shade and other surroundings.

All kinds of sports are on the program to begin at 10:30 a. m., including water events, a tug of war between the clerks and carriers, a deep breathing exhibition by the postmaster, and a baseball game between the clerks and carriers.

It is known that with the post-office attaches, their families and close friends the assemblage will be a large one, as 75 persons have already been signed up, with more being booked daily.

Each family or other group will take along their own picnic supplies, which will be thrown together on the dining picnic tables, to make a grand community feast. Punch instead of coffee will be served at this repast.

Final practice of the American Legion drum corps will be held at the fair grounds tonight in preparation for the state convention to be held at Salem this week. The members will parade in full dress, and put the finishing touches on all maneuvers planned for the parades and exhibitions which will take place on Thursday and Saturday.

Members of the corps will depart for the capital city tomorrow night at 6:20 and will arrive there Thursday morning to be on hand for the opening festivities. Twenty men will comprise the corps for the Salem convention.

Many other Medford and valley Legion members and their families will attend the convention. Private cars will carry many of them north, while a large representation will go by train.

GAME COMMISSION SAVING MANY FISH

Hundreds of thousands of bass, crappies and catfish are being saved this year through the salvaging activities of the state game commission. Two crews of men with trucks have been busy for the past two weeks taking these fish from the overflow places of the inland and sloughs along the Columbia river.

If this operation was not carried on, according to Matt Ryckman, the fish would die. They are caught, after the high water, in landlocked pools where there is a scarcity of food or where the water will evaporate rapidly. Up to the first of this week the fish thus salvaged were put back into the Columbia river but now shipments to various parts of the state are being made. More than 20 applications for crappies, bass and catfish have been made from various parts of the state.

"We will plant these fish only in landlocked lakes where trout do not thrive," said Mr. Ryckman. "Bass will devour small trout and those making applications for shipments of these fish must be sure that the lake they intend to stock is free from trout."

Utah People Purchase Home On East Side. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fouts of Salt Lake City have purchased through D. E. Millard the Lee Williams residence at 804 East Main street and take possession immediately. Mr. Fouts has just recently been retired on pension by the Union Pacific railroad, having served for over forty years as an engineer on Salt Lake City. They came here a month ago to visit relatives and liked the city and valley so much they decided to make their home here.

Rotary Code is Luncheon Topic. W. W. Allen, chairman of the vocational service committee, was in charge of the program given at the Rotary club luncheon at the Hotel Medford this noon. Codes of "Rotary's Message" were given all the members and discussion as to what the different members thought of the Rotary code of ethics. Short talks were given by members of the committee: Chas. Gray, Henry Fluiter, and George Hunt; B. F. Hunter and H. I. Dasey.

Relations between employees, creditors, competitors and customers was the main topic of the discussion. One of the points emphasized was the executive's attitude toward the people under his employment was reflected in dealing with other people.

Visiting Rotarians included W. Cook of Alameda, Cal.; Ira Jones of Minot, N. D.; Carl Hedenbach and Prof. John Gregg of Berkeley, Cal. Lakeside—$30,000 being expended for remodeling and improvements was the main topic of the discussion.

LONG SESSION OF COUNCIL TONIGHT

Because tonight's session of the city council is the first regular meeting of that body in three weeks, although several special meetings for various purposes have been held in between, it is expected to be quite a long one.

Not only is there much routine business to be handled, but it is expected that several important pending matters will be up for discussion and possible final disposal, including the proposed sale of water supply to the Oak Grove and Midway districts, and the proposed extension of South Central street to connect with the Pacific highway or South River-side, through the Barhart property at the south city limits, as authorized by the city planning commission and majority of property owners concerned.

Then too, the new daily inspection ordinance will be up for amending in several particulars.
