Local and Personal

The forecast for the next few days indicates no relief in the fire menace in Oregon and Washington, is the report from the forest service. Everyone is urged to use extreme caution, when on the valley roads as well as in the mountains, with matches, smoking and camp fires. The number of fires so far for this year is about average, but the worst part of the season is in August, according to District Fire Warden Dwight Phipps.

POMONA GRANGE MEET SATURDAY CENTRAL POINT

The Pomona Grange of Jackson county will hold a meeting at Central Point next Saturday evening, when matters pertaining to the conduct of Grange affairs in the future will be discussed.

Two of the important matters scheduled for a hearing at the session, which will be attended by Grangers from all sections of the county, will be the proposed establishment of a public market in this city, plans for a closer affiliation with the Farm Exchange Co-Operative of this city, and a development of the poultry industry in the Rogue River valley.

The Farm Exchange Co-Operative, Clay D. Parker, manager, is now in the healthiest state in its history, with steady gains, and coming as it does under the loan provisions of the Farm Aid bill, is assured a prosperous future.

A light current of sentiment has prevailed among some Grange members for some time for the establishment of a Grange co-operative, but this idea has been generally abandoned, on the grounds that it would be only a duplication of service, and splitting of the business, to the disadvantage of all concerned.

The matter of unified support for the Farm Exchange promises to be one of the live topics of the meeting.

SLIGHT CHANGES DAIRY ORDINANCE

In the mass of business acted on by the city council last night were ordinances making some minor amendments in the dairy inspection ordinance, and ones granting lease concessions at the new airport to three oil companies.

After authorizing the payment of the first month's salary to the dairy inspector, $150, the dairy inspection ordinance was amended to read that the inspector has the right at all times to visit the premises of any dairy and taking therefrom samples of milk to be tested, and providing that instead of milk being sold by the pound at half mill tax fee per pound, it should be sold by the gallon at 5 mills per gallon fee; and for all license fees to be paid to the city treasurer instead of to the inspector.

The concession leases to the Standard, Shell, Associated and Richfield Oil companies provide for a minimum payment of $10 a month each, and each must pay the city 2 cents a gallon for each gallon of gas and 5 cents for each gallon of oil sold.

PLANES ENROUTE SALEM CEREMONY

Five airplanes bound for Salem stopped at the local airport this noon. They left for the north shortly after 1 o'clock and will arrive in Salem tonight to be on hand for dedication of the new city airport there this week.

Nine men were traveling in the huge tri-motored Ford plane belonging to the Standard Oil company and are guests of the company on the flight north from San Francisco. The group is headed by Captain S. L. Chadderton, manager of the aviation division of the Standard Oil company. Others in the party are: Paul S. Dick, vice president of the United States National bank, Portland; Phillip T. Carret, economic research bureau, New York City; M. P. Griffith, Blyth and company, Portland; A. S. Ponting, San Francisco; A. L. French, pilot; R. S. Allen, co-pilot.

Three planes were from the U. S. army base at Crissy field, San Francisco. The 30th an amphibian plane, flew here from the naval base at San Diego.

A large crowd of persons met the planes at the landing field and were especially interested in the amphibian plane.

MRS. M'CASKEY GIVES DELPHINIUM SEEDS

Delphinium seeds from the garden of Mrs. H. P. McCaskey's country home were brought to the Chamber of Commerce this morning and will be distributed to anyone wishing them, Mrs. Cox of the secretary's office announces.

The seeds are of the choicest varieties of Hardacre and Wrexham, Mrs. McCaskey explains. In order to obtain best results with delphinium the seeds should be planted immediately so that they will get a good growth before winter. This will enable them to bloom next season.

FIND NO CLUE CONGER STRONGBOX ROBBERS

Police reporting today that no clues had been found as to the burglar who robbed the H. W. Conger funeral parlor safe on West Main street early in the week, Mr. Conger said today that as nearly as could be figured, the robbers escaped with a little more than $100.

Mr. Conger believes that the robbery took place during the daytime as the safe is usually left open then. He thinks it must have been someone familiar with the habits of the Conger family.
