All angles of the proposed road development of southern Oregon have been discussed freely, but the political aspects, which is what affects the road development. The development has been developing in the same place for three years, because of political aspects.

The U. S. Bureau of Statistics reports that attendance at conventions has increased, except those of a religious nature. This is probably due to law enforcing agencies looking the other way at non-religious conventions.

THE OLD BUM BLUFF
(Klamath Falls Herald)
IF THE PARTY who took my daughter, Mrs. Propa's, pocketbook from Mrs. Propa's store will return the same and its contents to me it can be settled without scandal or court action. The party is well known. R. A. Ensmitt, 217 Pine.

The Timber Products company, new Tomlin Box company, has sent out most announcements of the change in their corporate being. The new name sounds more infatuated than the old. The announcement consists of four pages, and three pages have nothing printed on them. This is socially correct, but not very efficient, and a waste of white paper.

Housewives are busy putting up jelly, before the annual shortage of sugar, and the price thereof tends to the cost of a pair of shoes at the close of the Great Fracas.

Mr. Ashbury Beall, an agriculturist of the C.P.E. district, was a Wed. visitor. Mr. Beall is another farmer who has never been able to make a success of farming by fishing when he should be planting, and motoring to Nova Scotia when he should be harvesting.

An aviator was aloft day before yesterday, who disregarded the advice of Col. Lindbergh not to try and catch a pretzel against the eastern sky.

WELL: WHAT OF IT?
(Pendleton East Oregonian)
A citizen was experienced by Henry Robertson, Jr., Thursday while working in the hay field on the John McQuay ranch. No serious damage was done. Mr. Robertson is considered one of the fastest men in the field.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 7.—Disappearance of one orange provided morning joke for two policemen as the deputy district attorney here today. The officials were sent to an east side grocery and arrested Mrs. Lena Schaller, 52, who was charged with stealing. Her bail was set at $10. She was unable to provide the $10 and was sent to jail. (Press Dispatch)
The crime wave gets another good curling.

Fur coats are showing up in the ads, and are badly needed by the opposite (in more ways than one) sex.

Elmer Jones, American manager for an express company in Mexico and a great admirer of Herbert Hoover, has as a souvenir a valuable rug on which the president used to lie in Mr. Hoover's suite on his recent visit. The president was in the suite five minutes. (Press Dispatch)
Here is a sample of Wisconsin industry that surely entitles Mr. Jones to the postmaster's position in his home town, no matter what the county central committee thinks.

One more shivaree down the Main Street, and late citizens will tear out the modern exterior facing of the CoRC, and install a town pump.

Kindly Pays Respects
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh called at the White House Wednesday to confer briefly with President Hoover. Afterward he said the purpose of his visit was merely to pay his respects to the chief executive.

Rob L. A. Bank.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A man who a short time before entered a branch of the Pacific National bank asking for real estate information, returned today and robbed it of $2000 and escaped. He was unmasked and captured.

GET THE FACTS

A COMMUNICATION from R. Newland, printed in today's paper, fairly represents, we believe, the attitude of a majority of Medford citizens regarding the city's water supply, and the proper policy concerning it.

Mr. Newland wants the FACTS. If Medford can sell water to suburban districts, without in any way jeopardizing its generous supply, then he favors it, but if there is any danger, then he is against it.

This is our view, and has been our view from the start. The only difference between Mr. Newland and ourselves is that we have accepted the statements of members of the water commission, as correct, and he apparently wants more proof before he accepts them.

It was because we believed such a sentiment was general, particularly among those residents, who vividly recall the water situation before the new system was built, and don't intend to allow its repetition, that some time ago we suggested a committee of representative citizens be appointed to make a thorough and impartial investigation of the entire water situation, and determine whether or not the findings of the water commission are correct.

If they ARE correct, then Medford has more than enough water for residents both within and immediately without its present corporate boundaries.

If they are NOT correct, if Medford can't sell water to its contiguous suburbs without depriving its citizens of the water they need, then this paper will be as strongly opposed to increasing water consumption as any of the "gentlemen on the other side."

So let's determine the facts. In this direction, perhaps a better plan than the above would be to leave the matter to the state engineer and have his office make a comprehensive survey of the entire municipal water system.

Until something of this sort is done, we can see no immediate solution of this important problem. With the facts determined to the satisfaction of all reasonable people, however, we are confident the people of Medford will get behind a water policy, based upon a knowledge of what the true situation is, rather than upon fear of what it may be.

What a world! If you shield a criminal you go to jail. A crooked lawyer does it and gets rich.

What's the use! Even if you become great enough to have your face on a dollar bill, you have to be dead.

There's some advantage in being a nobody. You needn't make a practice of telling reporters you have nothing to say.

Romance: A woman who wants somebody to take care of her; a man who wants somebody to tell him what a wonder he is.

Too often the boastful good do no evil for the same reason that a man in jail doesn't eat roast duck.

Americanism: Demanding 20 cents' worth of service with a nickel's worth of meat; howling because the bill is 25 cents.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not in disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be typed and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this newspaper.

SWITCH TO FLAXSEEDS AND SPEND THE DIFFERENCE

Browsing around in the seed store the other day I came upon a curious item, to-wit, Scotch thistle seeds. The man was intent upon adding up my bill, so I discreetly refrained from any comment at the moment. But I couldn't get away from the thistle seeds. Nice, round little seeds, they were, and I could readily imagine what grand sport it would be sowing a handful now and then in one's neighbor's garden. If one were harassed by that kind of neighbor. Finally I got my bill, and when I came to I asked the man what on earth he sold these thistle seeds for. He said there was a constant demand for thistle seeds, for bird feed. That reminded me, so I made a more extensive search, and sure enough, there was the cleanest looking whole flaxseeds at only 20 cents a pound. The druggist usually demands more than that for a whole pound of whole or unground flaxseed, if he has so much or indeed any in stock. At 20 cents a pound entire flaxseeds, raw, in doses of from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, once daily, washed down with any beverage or swallowed mixed with berries, cereal or jelly or whatever you wish, makes what I consider the best available aid to peristalsis, or if this is a bit out of your ken, then a fine substitute for whatever pill or more pretentious physic you think you have to take.

A third item I discovered in the seed store was unhulled corn. I didn't inquire about that because naturally I was feeling a little resentful, having just paid my bill. You know how it is—have you ever paid a doctor bill some time after the killing or curing was done? But I dare say, if I had ventured to hang around any longer, I would have found entire wheat, and even plain wheat bran there, too. In fact I am almost certain I have seen all grades of unhulled wheat there—of course a seed store would have wheat.

A correspondent writes: "I want to thank you for your recommendation of petroleum for constipation. I began to use it two months ago, a teaspoonful three times daily. I now use it but once a day. I think it is wonderful. I had used drugs for years, and owing to . . . I cannot be very active."

I am not sure whether the correspondent means ordinary mineral oil, liquid petroleum, (sold under many different trade names) or soft petroleum, otherwise called petroleum oilment or a trade name. This petroleum oilment is known in England, and perhaps in Canada, as soft paraffin. It is usually yellow in color. A white or colorless article may be had if preferred. The "white" petroleum oilment, paraffin oil of petroleum is probably easier for the novice to swallow, though many persons now take a daily spoonful of ordinary yellow petroleum without repugnance and their monthly misery will run up to as high as 10 or 15 cents in bad cases, whereas it costs as much as a dollar.

If it comes to a choice, probably the least objectionable form of this kind is a daily dose of flaxseeds; next comes wheat bran; then the habit of eating entire wheat, raw or cooked; and as a final resort, a daily dose of petroleum, before one turns to cathartics.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

First Aid in the Home.
I claim that a cut should first be washed with water and soap before disinfecting. My mother claims not. Please tell me who is correct.—E. H.

Answer.—Mother is correct. Apply the iodine or mercuric iodine immediately without washing, then the dressing. If you will inclose with your request a stamped envelope bearing your address you will receive instructions for preparing a pocket first aid kit and how to use it.

Right Off the Tongue.
I am convinced that the polyp (2 inches long) which was removed from my nose, was the cause of my tongue condition. It was removed a year ago but I have waited, for I wanted to be sure. I wrote you about it, complaining of sore throat, blotches on tongue, cracks in the tip of the tongue, etc. Sometimes I woke in the night gasping for air. All these symptoms have disappeared. I hope you will continue your articles for many years to come. I am a graduate druggist, and I am in a position to know that your articles are really educating people and making them think.—Mrs. E. H.

Answer.—Unless the nostrum ring, the shortest headers or the food sharks should find a way to silence me, I intend to keep on for years yet. Your sudden starting from sleep with the sense of gasping for air or suffocation, was the only thing that suggested polyp. Your experience teaches that it is better to have a careful nose and throat examination even though the trouble seems to be in the throat alone.

The Sun's Best.
Kindly tell the writer by what reliable means the efficiency of a lamp said to produce ultra violet rays may be tested. There are many expensive lamps, also cheaper ones ranging from $25 up.—O. S. H.

Answer.—I should not advise the purchase or use of such a lamp, except under medical supervision, and in that case the doctor will specify the proper equipment. Natural sunlight is available everywhere now, and is far richer than any lamp in ultra violet rays. Why not use it if you want ultra violet?

Teacher Knows Her First Aid.
Our teacher said nothing should be done under the victim's head when he is being given first aid. I would like to know if this statement is true.—M. M.

Answer.—Yes, daughter, it is true, whether it refers to Schaefer's resuscitation (prone pressure-respiration) or the treatment of fainting or shock or collapse.
