

LOWER PRICES IN PORTLAND MARKET

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 10.—(AP) Lower prices were chalked up for a number of products at the East Side market of the Gardeners' and Ranchers' association today. Trading was brisk, with supplies smaller than those of Friday.

The large white peaches from The Dalles went down to 59 and 85 cents a box. The smaller red variety sold for 75 to 80 cents. Apparus beans dropped to 2 cents and shell beans to 4 cents. Blackberries were a little easier at $1.35 to $1.40.

Raspberries sold for $2.50. A few strawberries made their way to the mart at $3.

Offerings of tomatoes were small and the price hopped up to 75 cents. Abundant supplies of the last few days had topped the price, so when many of the growers failed to bring in supplies, values advanced.
