NEW HIGH COACH DUE THIS WEEK: OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Murrell Hagee, former University of Oregon football star, named as coach of the Medford high school will arrive this week. He will arrive here about the same time as John J. McEwan, head coach of the University of Oregon gridiron squad, and Frink Callison, former head coach, now in charge of the Oregon freshmen.

Coaches McEwan and Callison are on a good-will tour of southern Oregon cities and while here will talk with members of last year's state champion team, who graduated last June, and are thinking of going to college.

Hagee will spend the time until the opening of school, September 3, getting acquainted with the available football material and getting located. Football suits will be distributed Wednesday, September 4, and the squad start working Thursday, September 5. The high school will play the Alumni Saturday, September 28, and the regular season will start Saturday, October 5, with the Marshfield high school playing here.

The new coach will have the entire second string of last season as a nucleus. The second string saw lots of action last year and are no green, inexperienced lot. They always went into action when the first string had clinched the battle. A young man by the name of Shaw, a six-footer who played tackle on the Dallas, Texas team last year, will enter school this fall, as his folks moved here last spring.

Green, Metz, Sprague, Mason and Applegate will be some of the second string material. Zuckerman, Bill Cunningham, Joe Cave, Jr., junior high school products, will turn out. Zuckerman is a cousin of Jack and Bernie Hughes, with football ambitions; Cunningham is a big boy with rough ideas, and Joe Cave is a lucky lad.

The 1929 team will not be any state champions, but any team with the notion they can trim them is going to have a struggle. One of their chief contenders will be Klamath Falls. This year's squad, functioning as the second team last fall defeated Klamath Falls 21 to 8.

After being dormant for four years, the Grants Pass high school will have a football team. They were the first school to ask Medford for a game last spring. They have a new coach, Leonard Marshall, an Oregon graduate, who coached the Springfield, Ore., high school last year. He arrived in Grants Pass last Wednesday and inspected the high gym.

The Eugene and Corvallis—and probably Salem—high schools will play here. Two games as per custom, will be played with the Ashland high school. The first in this city Armistice day, November 11.

Some of the best players have been cut the last two weeks, passing the ball and fumbling up. It has been bad, however, for that kind of business.

BREAK-UP COMES IN PERSONNEL OF WOMEN'S DOUBLES

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The break up of the 1928 national championship women's doubles combination of Helen Wills and Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman of Brookline, Mass., was revealed today with announcement that Marjorie Morrill Dedham, Mass., will be Mrs. Wightman's partner in the title tournament at Forest Hills next week.

Miss Wills has not yet entered the doubles event although she is expected to do so before the draw is made on Tuesday.

Throughout the season, both in Europe and in the Wightman cup matches here, Miss Wills has paired with Miss Edith Cross of San Francisco, third in the national singles ranking, but in the international series with the English combination was beaten decisively in straight sets. Miss Cross, who shared runners-up honors last year when teamed with Mrs. L. A. Harper, also of San Francisco, has sent in her entry for next week's play in doubles as well as singles but without designating a partner.

With Miss Wills and Mrs. Wightman not defending their 1928 title, the threat of a British monopoly of doubles honors increased as the pair was considered about the strongest that could be put together in this country.

The English will rely upon two formidable teams—Mrs. Phoebe Watson and Mrs. Peggy Saunders Mitchell, Wimbledon champions, and Mrs. R. C. Orcutt and Mrs. Dorothy Shepherd-Barron, runners-up both of which teams won duty matches in the Wightman cup series. Helen Jacobs never has paired with her fellow-Californian and rival. Miss Wills and would not be available as she has entered the doubles with Miss Betty Nuthall, young English star, as her partner.

At Mamaroneck, former big leaguer, now with the Buffalo International club, won 13 games during the first half of the season.

Vance fanned Hoyt Wilhelm four times in one game.

M. M. DEPARTMENT STORE

THIRTY-FIVE years ago W. H. Meeker opened the store which is today the M. M. Department Store. During those years which, viewed in one light, have been all but too short, yet to others have been long, and during which Medford has emerged from an inconspicuous dot on the map of Oregon to the metropolis of the southern part of the state—"The Biggest Little City on the Map"—the management and control of this store has remained unchanged.

This is a record unapproached by any other exclusive dry goods firm in the city, and one which we are gratified to know is appealing to a rapidly growing list of patrons.

Thirty-five years in continuous business, under the same management, with a growth in business which has kept pace with the rapid development of this splendid city and valley, is as good, if not a better, recommendation than the mere price of merchandise.

It is a record which leaves no room to doubt that there is character and stability behind the M. M. Department Store. It is a record which immediately gives you assurance that you are doing business with a firm which places reliability, personal service and fair dealings above all else.

It is a record which indicates to you and others that although the oldest mercantile firm in Medford, we have been progressive and have been able to meet the demands of the keenest competition in service, quality merchandise and prices.

We are prompted to refer to our long and successful career in the business circles of Medford by the desire to inform those who are unacquainted with the past history of the city and its firms that here is an institution which competes in service, merchandise and prices, and in addition gives the customer complete and assured confidence of transacting business with a firm whose reliability has been established through 35 years of successful and continuous operation.

M. M. DEPARTMENT STORE,
C. A. Mecker, President.

You probably feel, like many others have felt to their own disadvantage, that title insurance is superfluous — there hasn't been any question about your title yet, etc. But—when you are least prepared for it a flaw may come to light. Title insurance affords permanent protection.
