

REDS AND CUBS DIVIDE IN FEUD GAME AT CINC'Y

Grudge Meeting Provides No Fireworks—35,432 View Contests—Cubs and Phils Have Same Margin—Ruth Homes Twice.

By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer. The long-awaited grudge meeting between the Reds and the Cubs came off in Cincinnati yesterday, but hardly as advertised. Lured by threats and counter-threats of war would happen when Messrs. Wilson, Kulp and Donohue found themselves once more within the confines of a single ball park, even so roving a battleground as Redland field, 25,432 clients appeared before the turnstiles with cash in hand.

They settled into their seats, or standing spaces, expecting at least a 10-round bout, but really hoping for a battle of the Marne. After all they had been led to hope for, they saw nothing but two very businesslike ball games played by peaceful young men who apparently did not even know how to make a hostile gesture. Red Lucas won the opener for the home team by 6 to 3, his 17th triumph of the season, but Guy Bush turned the tables for Chicago in the nightcap, winning his 10th game by a score of 10 to 1, after being held to a run by Pete Donohue for seven rounds. The crowd, the largest paid attendance ever accommodated at Redland field, was not hostile to the pennant-bound Braves, although Hack Wilson did hear a few deep-throated Bronx cheers from time to time. The fans more than made up for this, however, by the way they cheered Hack's circus catches, and he made several in the two games.

Cubs Stretch Margin. The even break enabled the Cubs to stretch their margin half a game to 13 full contests as the Pirates again bowed to the Giants, this time 10 to 5. The Bruin edge now is exactly the same size as that owned by the wily Mr. Mc Gillicuddy in the great league. The Pirates are only three games ahead of the Giants, who took three out of four.

Yester Sweetland pitched the Philles to a 4 to 0 triumph over the Robins in Brooklyn yesterday, allowing only four hits, and Willie Sherdel shut out the Braves in Boston by an identical score while allowing five hits.

The game at the Polo grounds was marked by Mel Ott's 32nd home-run and by Cy Rigie's manipulation of a broadcasting device which amplified announcements of batteries and player changes to fans throughout the vast park.

After 32 scoreless innings, the master minds of the Yankees devised a plan for getting runs across the plate, at once simple and effective. It was merely to have Mr. Ruth step to the front and hammer the ball out of the lot, which he had neglected to do for some days until yesterday, as box scores of the Yankee games will show.

Ruth Homes Twice. Putting this plan into operation against Wally Stewart in the fourth and the ninth innings at Sportsman's park yesterday, Mr. Ruth snapped the Yankee string of scoreless innings and lifted his personal home-run string from 37 to 38, but failed to win the ball game, which the Browns did at the expense of Roy Sherdel, by 3 to 2. Ruth's two homers broke up a tie which had existed among the Yankee slugger and Hack Wilson and Chuck Klein.

The Athletics also lost yesterday when Al Thomas allowed just four hits, to win by 3 to 0. It was 3 out of 4 for the White Sox over the leaders, who now have dropped six of their last eight. The Mackian lead remains fixed at 13 games because the Yankee record over the same period is identical.

Detroit finally won from Washington, stopping the Senators by 8 to 7 in 11 innings at Navin field, and the Indians divided a double-header with the rejuvenated Red Sox. Cleveland took the opener by 5 to 4 and Boston the nightcap by 5 to 2.

TOLSON READY FOR CUB FIRST BASING

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP) Charley Tolson, big first baseman called from Los Angeles by the Cubs to replace Charley Grimm—injured field captain, today was ready to go to work. He was not certain of getting into today's game with Cincinnati, as Clarence Blair who has played the position since Grimm was injured last week has been playing excellent baseball. Blair got a double in the first game and pair of singles in the second tilt of yesterday's double header at Cincinnati.

PARIS.—(AP) A new system of treating young offenders by sending them to a special reform school, is being started. At the school they will be given medical, psychological examinations and treatment designed to fit them for good citizenship. Boys, for example, will be taught trades for which they seem especially adapted.

YOUNGSTERS SET BASEBALL PACE

Three newcomers in coast baseball who have established reputations. Venon Gomez, (left) southpaw pitcher of the San Francisco Seals; and Ed Leshman, (right) short stop of the semi-pro San Jose Bees, have been sold to the Yankees. Johnny Vergez, (center) Oakland rookie third sacker, is one of the Coast League's leading home run hitters.

OUT & KEELER'S GOLF BAG

By O. B. Keeler. The fourth appearance in our national amateur golf championship of Mr. Cyril James Hastings Tolley—British champion who will compete at Del Monte in the 1929 fixture—recalls with a tinge of reminiscence the fact that the great Englishman, one of the most colorful figures in golf, on two of the three previous ventures failed of qualification by reason of his play on a single hole of the 36 in the medal test.

I saw both of the catastrophes, the first at the Engineers club, Reshyn, N. J., in 1920; the second in 1924 at the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia.

In the first case it was strictly one hole that barred Tolley—the short tenth of the afternoon round. It was a mean little hole, looking much longer than the 155 yards it appeared on the card; it looked at least 175, with a huge bunker along the left side of a fence, out of bounds along the right.

Tolley had a rather easy margin when he got to that hole, the 25th of the medal test. Here he sliced one tee-shot out of bounds, played the next too safely to the left, into the bunker; was too tender with his recovery—out-of-bounds being just across the narrow green—and took four mortal blows to get out of the trap, and then three putts for a ghastly 9, losing six strokes on that one hole. He failed to qualify by three strokes.

At Merion, the big Briton's putts simply would not sink. But with at least eight stopping at the lip of the cup, when he stood on the final tee, he still had a five left to qualify. Somebody told him, however, that it was a four to tie, and the hole is of 435 yards.

So Cyril put his back into a huge drive and pulled the ball deep into the forest.

"I found it," he explained later, "in a most foul place."

But, still under the impression that only a four would do, he tried for the green—and wound up with a six, which tied him with four others for last place. A simple five would have put him in.

On the play-off, Rudy Knepper chipped into the hole from just off the first green for a birdie three, and won the single place, and Tolley was out of it.

Misinformation is a wretched thing in a medal round.

DUCKS CAPTURE BOTH GAMES IN SERIES WINDUP

Portland Completes Successful Week Against Seals—Mahaffey Blanks Invaders in Opener—Angels, Indians Divide.

(By the Associated Press. The rejuvenated Portland Ducks, who suddenly snapped out of a long dormant period in the cellar of the Pacific Coast league, finished a highly successful week against the San Francisco Seals yesterday by winning both games of a double-header, to take the series, seven games out of seven, and the league lead by the largest margin held by any top-notchers in the last four weeks.

The Ducks completed their bang-up series by downing the Seals in the morning by a 4-0 score and in the afternoon by 8 runlets from a double-header, to take the series, seven games out of seven, and the league lead by the largest margin held by any top-notchers in the last four weeks.

The Los Angeles Angels and the Seattle Indians split a double-header in the northern city, the Indians taking the first 6-1 and the visitors the second contest, a seven-inning affair, 7 to 3. Seattle took the series, four out of seven games.

The Mission Reds and the Sacramento Senators traded even in their pair, the Reds winning 8-0 in the afternoon and series by an odd game, while the Solons won the morning contest, 9 to 8.

Hollywood took it on the chin twice at Wrigley field, Los Angeles, at the hands of the Oakland A's, 4 to 0 in the first battle, and 9-7 in the second. The Oaklanders bagged five of the seven games played in the week.

JOE KASBERGER WILL AID COACH NORMAL SCHOOL

ASHLAND, Ore., Aug. 25.—(Special) Joe Kasberger, named coast halfback on the Oregon State college football squad in 1921, and a former director of athletics at Mt. Angel college, has been chosen as assistant coach at the Southern Oregon Normal school to assist the head of the department, R. W. McNeal. Mr. Kasberger has for the past two years been an assistant coach to "Smokey" Keeler at the Willamette university. He will arrive in Ashland September 15th to begin his work.

Mr. Kasberger is a native Oregonian, having been born at the Dalles. He graduated from Mt. Angel college in 1914 and while in school there he played on the major teams in baseball, basketball and football. While attending the Oregon State college, he made an enviable record in football, playing in all the positions of the back field. Since graduating from the State college he was director of athletics at Mt. Angel for two years until the college burned. While in charge of athletics there, he made splendid success in football, basketball and baseball.

The addition of Mr. Kasberger to the faculty of the normal will greatly increase the chances of the school in athletics as Coach MacNeal will be freed from some of the over-crowding of work in his department and will enable him to work out some of his plans that have been impossible in the over-crowding of his work.

Word has been received by Ashland friends of the passing of Mrs. Ella Millon, who for many years was a resident of Ashland where she conducted a boarding house on Granite street. Mrs. Millon was well acquainted with and greatly loved by the older residents of Ashland. She died at the age of 78 years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Thomas of Seattle. The deceased is survived by her three daughters, Mrs. Halie Love of San Francisco, Mrs. Katherine Hedger of Everett, Washington, and Mrs. C. H. Thomas of Seattle. The funeral services were held in Seattle on Friday and interment was made in the Evergreen cemetery.

W. P. Walter, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. with Mrs. Walter and their son Charles, will leave the latter part of next week for Portland, where Mr. Walter will hold an executive position in the Portland Y.

NICE, France.—(AP) Maurice Maeterlinck, famous poet, was credited with having fired the first shot in an organized war on stray cats which made night hideouts in the Beaumettes Hill section where he has his home. It was said that during the day he wrote books and at night threw them at the cats.

TED WELLS FLIES AS DERBY LEADER

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 25.—(AP) Last to leave St. Paul in today's lap of the Portland to Cleveland air derby, Charles (Speed) Holman, veteran Twin City-Milwaukee-Chicago air mail pilot, was first to land at the county airport this afternoon.

Flying over familiar territory, Holman made the lap from St. Paul in 1 hour 49 minutes and 30 seconds.

When he left St. Paul he was 10 minutes behind the leader, Ted Wells, Wichita, Kas., in elapsed time on the trip eastward from Portland.

ALSATIAN COMMUNISTS GET HOME RULE FEVER

STRASBURG, Alsace.—(AP) Home-rule-for-Alsace fever has infected communists of this agitated province.

Vowing that Stalin stands no higher as a communist prophet in Alsace than Poincare as a nationalist, a monster red meeting here recently, decided no longer to accept any instructions from Moscow.

Organization of that apparently fundamental contradiction, "an autonomous-Alsatian-communist" is in progress.

DUBLIN, Aug. 25.—(AP) On the ground that it is repugnant to national feeling and aesthetically defiling, the status of Queen Victoria on the plans before the parliament buildings is to be removed.

Drudgery is an Extravagance. For five hours today this woman patiently toiled over a washboard—bending, lifting, rubbing... doing the things a tireless little electric washer can do in two hours. Hour after hour she's spent watching and fretting over the old kitchen stove. An Electric Range would end this dull routine. Day after day she dusts, sweeps, cleans... doing things a vacuum cleaner would do twice as fast with half the effort. With Electricity ever at hand to set her free from tedious routine, such drudgery is an extravagant waste of time and effort. Hours that now drag slowly by might be enjoyed in doing the things she'd rather do. The woman who wishes golden hours of freedom must first break the shackles of household work. Electricity is ready to help.

Most Oregon vegetable growers could profitably apply more fertilizers, either barnyard manure or green manure, supplemented with standard fertilizers, to their crops, believes the experiment station. An irrigation system also helps to make these fertilizers of greater benefit to the crops.

Cleaning potatoes for exhibit by scrubbing them with a brush is a mistake, advises the Oregon experiment station. As this scrubbing the skin and the seed value of potatoes, exhibits treated in this manner are often eliminated. A good exhibit of potatoes is made up of smooth, bright tubers of medium size; that is, from 7 to 10 ounces. The tubers are free of blemishes and diseases, such as scab and rhizoctonia, and of nearly uniform size. They are wiped off with a clean cloth, but not rubbed hard enough to break the skin.

Putting the poultry flock through a forced molt is easily accomplished, through radical changes in the food, even to the extent of taking both scratch grain and mash away for a period of two days and then feeding them what grain they will clean up, and in a week's time feeding them mash again. The forced molt is a questionable practice, however, warns the Oregon experiment station, particularly late in the summer, as it is difficult to keep the birds laying through the fall. They often go into a second or natural molt in October or November.
