

MAIL TRIBUNE BARGAIN DAYS OPEN THURSDAY

The announcement of the Annual Bargain Days of the Mail Tribune, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 20, 21 and 22, was welcome news to not only the thousands of present subscribers to this paper, but by those who are not receiving the paper now and will want to take advantage of the $2 a year rate in advance rate, which will give them a newspaper six evenings a week and on Sunday mornings—seven days a week.

The number of present subscribers who renew during Bargain Days increases yearly, as also does the list of new subscribers at this time.

The news section of this paper covers every week and corner of the county, gives the news of cities, state, nation and the world—through our full featured wire Associated Press reports and to our excellent list of correspondents and our own news gathering service. This paper carries more features than any other paper in the state outside of Portland, and through its advertising columns, offers a complete and dependable buyers' guide.

A special feature of this paper is its splendid delivery service, whereby a large majority of its subscribers, both in the city and the rural districts, have their paper delivered to their door every afternoon and Sunday mornings.

This year, on these three Bargain Days, anticipating the flood of readers, who will seek the bargain subscription rates, additional clerks will be added to the circulation department. From every news and corner of southern Oregon, people will flock to the Mail Tribune office to avail themselves of the opportunity of making substantial savings in the cost of this paper. From all parts of the southern Oregon country and northern California, mail orders will be rushed in and this issue is planning and preparing for these busy days.

The $2.00 rate actually means a cash bonus of from $2.50 to $4.00 to Mail Tribune readers. The low rate will affect subscriptions paid in advance only, and subscribers are requested to call at this office or mail them in, as agents will not be vested with the authority to receive subscriptions of bargain rates.

Subscriptions by mail must also bear a postmark of one of the three bargain days, September 20, 21 or 22, and those who avail themselves of the special rate must have their subscriptions paid in advance on September 1, 1929, or thereafter.
