

SPECIAL FEATURE JUST KIDS

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

In conjunction with the picture, coming to the Craterian theatre Wednesday night, Kiva Hoffman, expert in the art of make-up and cosmetics, will professionally make up a girl on the stage.

Hoffman is in Medford through the efforts of Jarmin and Woods drug store for the benefit of their lady patrons, and does not represent any line of cosmetics, but to aid in the art of make-up and to assist them with their complexion troubles.

"Every woman is really beautiful," says Mr. Hoffman, "but many do not know it. How can they expect to have a velvet skin, luminous eyes and blushing cheeks when they literally throw their powder on instead of putting it on, wash rouge instead of blending it in, and apply lipstick, in chunks?"

The girl will be given a stage make-up for the benefit and pleasure of the audience and Mr. Hoffman will also make up the women and girls displaying the creations shown at the fashion shows.

STEVENS TO OPEN STUDIO MONDAY

Staring an encouraging comeback from his recent illness, Jas. Stevens, well known baritone, who several months ago, discontinued his regular studio schedule, will again open the doors of his studio at 115 North Oakdale for a full fall term, beginning Monday.

Presenting one of the most enjoyable concerts of his career last spring, on the heels of a recovery which forced him to leave his Portland studio for a rest in Medford, Jim was immediately drawn into the tedious task of preparing young singers for the local Atwater Kent radio audition which, under his careful management, won the plaudits of children the country over.

These accomplishments, in addition to regular studio hours and a course given weekly at the Southern Oregon normal, were not conducive to the recuperation demanded by his physical condition at that time.

However, with several weeks of rest to his credit and a decided improvement in health, no

CHINESE MOON FETE IS SET FOR SEPT. 17

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Harvest Moon Festival, a holiday of the old regime in China corresponding to Thanksgiving day, will be observed this year September 17, which is the fifteenth day of the eighth month of the old calendar.

Moons cakes, made of minced sweet, such as melon seed, sugar, coconut, fat and meat, is the principal article of diet.

In those homes where altars still are maintained prayers for crops, fresh fruit, bananas, pineapples, oranges and gambolers (Chinese pears) is made. After the offering has stood for a time, it is eaten.

However, with several weeks of rest to his credit and a decided improvement in health, no
