

FRICITION WITH FASCISTI AIRED AT THE VATICAN

Italian Ambassador Has 2-Hour Audience With Pope — Surveillance of Clergy Irks Pope Pius — Plan Audiences.

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 21.—(P)—Friction between the Holy See and the fascist government over the status of members of Catholic lay organizations, and the government's attitude toward them, is understood to have been the main topic discussed during a two-hour audience which Pope Pius accorded today to Count de Vischi, Italian ambassador to the Vatican.

Recently Premier Mussolini announced that there were 9,000 watchers exercising a surveillance of activities of the clergy throughout Italy. This brought a vigorous reply from Pope Pius who denounced the diffidence and distrust aimed against the Catholic organization for the young.

It was remarked in Vatican circles that the present situation may result in postponing the visit of the Italian royal family to the Vatican, a long-awaited event which had been destined to seal formally the reconciliation of the church and state.

It was expected the pope would again deal with the subject of Catholic associations during an audience which he will grant Sunday to 10,000 Italian Catholic workmen. He may also dwell on the matter in an audience to be accorded to 10,000 Italian professional men Monday.

O'GRADY IS LOSER BUT GETS DRAW

Last Friday night's main event was called a draw but Bennett won from Gene O'Grady the first fight Gene ever lost. It will go down on the record book as a draw, and no one but those who saw the fight will be any the wiser. It was the cause of one being afraid and the other not wanting to fight. Tommy Bennett was afraid of Gene and Gene was afraid of getting hit. The result was the poorest fight Gene has ever been in here.—Klamath Falls News.

MUSSOLINI REORGANIZES FASCIST GOVERNMENT

Benito Mussolini, Italian dictator (center), has just made the most sweeping reorganization of fascist government since its inception. He relinquished seven of the eight cabinet posts he held, retaining his post of premier and minister of interior. New members of cabinet include: Bino Grandi (upper right), foreign affairs; General De Bono (upper left), colonies; Giuseppe Bottai (lower left), corporations; Michele Bianchi (lower center), public works, and Gen. Italo Balbo (lower right), aviation.

FEDERAL COURT TERM WILL OPEN HERE OCTOBER 1

While no news has yet been received here as to the docket of cases to be tried here at the southern Oregon term of the United States court which convenes Tuesday in October, it is known that the docket will not be so heavy as at first first thought some time ago, as a number of defendants in Klamath Indian reservation cases, for various liquor violations pleaded guilty in the federal court last week and were sentenced or fined.

Nevertheless the docket will be quite large with criminal and civil cases. One important case which will probably draw a number of witnesses or spectators, is that of Bennett Weeks, Klamath Indian, indicted for assault with a dangerous weapon, entered a plea of guilty at Portland last week and the case was set for trial during the Medford term of the federal court.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(P)—The senate today voted to restore to the tariff bill a house provision making Canadian wheat, milled in bond, in the United States for export to Cuba, pay a duty equal to the amount of tariff preference Cuba grants American flour.

WILL G. STEEL OF CRATER FAME TO MAKE HOME HERE

Good news for his many friends and other well-wishers in Medford and throughout the county is that Will G. Steel, "father of Crater Lake," and United States commissioner of Crater National park, will again make his home in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Steel who have resided in Eugene for years past, except of course during the summer when he lives at the national park, came down from the park several days ago and spent a day here looking up a place of residence, and before continuing on their journey to Eugene to pick up their household goods there, closed a lease on apartments at the Carzill, where they and their daughter, Miss Jean Steel, will reside after October 1st.

Good news also is that Mr. Steel's health is improving, altho he is still far from a well man, but he thinks the Medford winter climate agrees far better with him than Eugene's winter climate, hence the decision of the family to reside here.

SISKIYOU ALKY RUNNERS TRAVEL IN SPECIAL CAR

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21.—(P)—A special car loaded with federal prisoners was brought to this city today from Klamath Falls by Deputy U. S. Marshal Cal C. Wells of Medford. One woman and two guards were also in the party.

Pete Bell and Enrico Gaustell, both of Sacramento, who were arrested near Medford on September 17 when a large quantity of alcohol was found in the automobile they were driving, were included in the party. They have been bound over to the federal court under $2,500 bond each by Chauncey Flory, United States commissioner at Medford.

Following their indictment by the grand jury, the following were brought in from the Siskiyou: Paul M. Hendron, robbery of the postoffice at Cannon Beach; and Mrs. Almada Isaacs, Indian, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on Cecil Jackson.

Six other prisoners made up the party.

HEBRON, Conn., Sept. 21.—(P)—Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Lord, 101 years old and a real daughter of the Revolution, died at her home here last night. Her father fought in the battle of Lexington.

EGG YIELD AND ROGUE PACKING DUE FOR AIRING

Salmon egg taking at the United States government hatchery at Elk Creek will be a complete failure this year says southern Oregon conservationists. The number of salmon eggs taken at the hatchery this year say southern Oregon more than 150,000 whereas an ordinary fair year should yield 4,000,000 salmon eggs. Unless eggs can be secured elsewhere and shipped to the Elk Creek hatchery the government's big hatchery will be practically idle until next season.

Southern Oregon residents interested in fish conservation in Jackson and Josephine counties point to the failure at the government hatchery as the result of unrestricted poaching on Rogue River all the past winter and spring and call attention to the fact that neither the State Game Commission or the State Fish Commission did any practical patrol work on the lower Rogue River until the damage had been done by the poachers.

It is alleged that for months neither the Fish Commission or the Game Commission had more than one warden on the entire lower river and that neither warden until just recently, and after the salmon season was over, had either a respectable boat or motor with which to patrol the river.

As the result of continued complaints and appeals to the commissions of people both from the mouth of Rogue River and on the upper river country several raids were made on poachers during the winter, one raid resulting in the seizure of eleven steelhead poachers' nets in the closed season, but it is pointed out that as soon as the spasmodic raids were made the poachers went back to their work on an unpatrolled river.

The much complained of situation on lower Rogue River will be discussed at a meeting of the Jackson County Game and Protective association in the near future.

507 GIVEN LOCAL WORK LAST WEEK

Last week was another heavy one for the local branch of the United States free employment bureau, Manager Chris Gottlieb reported yesterday afternoon. A total of 507 men and women were given employment in orchards and packing houses, but a surplus of labor is expected next week, as 80 per cent of the pear crop is now believed to be picked. Apple picking is expected to begin the early part of next month, with some orchards beginning the latter part of next week.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(P)—The development that much of the information contained in tax returns of corporations sought by senators in connection with the tariff debate could not be gathered without months of delay, led today to the preparation of a form by the treasury limiting the scope of the data requested.

DETAIL PROGRAM FOR MEET HERE OF OREGON BAR

When the Southern Oregon Bar association, with all the artlessness of masculinity, smilingly accepted the invitation of the local Business and Professional Women's club, to entertain their visiting state delegates with a scenic drive around the valley, they neglected to stipulate the time of day most acceptable.

With the burden of business and professional responsibility upon their fair shoulders, the women set the time for their scenic drive at 7:30 Saturday morning, so that no time—at least, the minimum amount, in any case, would be lost from their work.

So in order to prove that they are as wide awake as the women of Medford, both the visiting members of the bar, their wives, and a number of the local barristers will have to waive the pangs of hunger for an hour Saturday morning, when the local women will return them in caravan to their hotels after a stimulating scenic excursion through the orchards, the airport, the golf course, Jacksonville and other interesting points of the immediate vicinity.

Starting off the convention session Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the federal court room, an address of welcome will be given the 200 or more delegates by Mayor A. W. Pipes, and Colonel E. E. Kelly, president of the Southern Oregon Bar association.

A response will be given by William M. Davis, of Portland, president of the state association, who will then proceed with his annual report. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held in the afternoon of the first day, according to A. E. Reames, general chairman locally, for the convention.

Problems involving court procedure will be taken up at a meeting of the judicial council, composed of members of the Oregon supreme court and circuit courts of the state.

A trip to Crater Lake, arranged by the Southern Oregon Bar association will be one of the main features of entertainment for the visitors. The more than 200 visitors will be escorted from Medford in caravan at 11 o'clock Saturday.

Friday evening a dinner dance will be held at the Hotel Medford, to which all the attorneys and their wives will be invited, with the local association acting as hosts. Saturday evening, a banquet will be held and a number of brilliant speakers from the various sections of the state will be heard. Music and other stunts will also be presented during the evening.
