

ROAD SWAP IS SEEN BY PASS AS LOCAL AIM

Editorial Urges Campaign in Ashland to Counteract Move—Gold Hill Spokesman Voices Opposition to Cut-Off.

The editorial wrath of the Grants Pass Courier has again been aroused and under the caption "Swapping Roads," it flays the recent action of Medford and Ashland, uniting on the Ashland road to Lake of the Woods.

The editorial suggests that the Grants Pass chamber of commerce visit Ashland and do missionary work in opposition to the proposed Williams Creek cut-off.

The visit of Williams Creek residents to Klamath Falls to present their need for a road, is commented upon in the new columns.

Now it seems that the Medford chamber has visited Ashland and promised that if Ashland supports the Redwood parallel road for Medford before the state highway commission, Medford will give Ashland its long desired new road to Lake of the Woods.

The meeting took place Friday, and Ashland is reported as being willing to make the swap.

On Tuesday Medford people will visit Klamath Falls to perfect other road arrangements.

The joke of the Ashland-Lake of the Woods promise made by Medford is that Medford is putting her own road into that lake, which will be so much finer than that it is giving Ashland, that no one will go the Ashland way, not even Ashland people.

The joke of the Ashland-Lake of the Woods promise made by Medford is that Medford is putting her own road into that lake, which will be so much finer than that it is giving Ashland, that no one will go the Ashland way, not even Ashland people.

At a meeting of the Grants Pass chamber of commerce yesterday, C. J. Shorb, secretary of the Gold Hill chamber of commerce, and publisher of the Gold Hill News, is pictured as "pledging the support of his community in opposition" to the Williams Creek cut-off as follows:

Gold Hill's opposition to the proposed Medford-Redwood highway parallel road was voiced before the Grants Pass chamber of commerce at its Monday luncheon by C. J. Shorb, secretary of the Gold Hill chamber of commerce and publisher of the Gold Hill News, in a talk in which he pledged support of his section to Grants Pass' opposition to the road plan.

Mr. Shorb declared that in view of the present good highways to the coast and the Oregon Caves he did not see why money needed for more deserving projects should be spent on a Medford parallel road to the Redwood highway depriving both Grants Pass and Gold Hill of the travel now enjoyed.

He asserted that the plan was the selfish move of people on one side of Medford for many years have been trying to route the Pacific highway along Medford's main street.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION ACTS AS BIBLE CENSOR

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—An extraordinary copy of the Bible was issued today by the National Sunday School Union.

Among the changes of phrase, the invitation to Joseph by Potiphar's wife is translated "his master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph and tempted him to do evil," and in the story of the prodigal son "his companions" is substituted "his harlots."

St. John's account of Christ's treatment for the woman taken in adultery is omitted.

MEMBERSHIP OF AID BOARD GETS SENATE REVIEW

Agricultural Committee Examines Presidential Appointees As to Qualifications — Legge First to Testify for McNary.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Chairman Legge of the federal farm board today related his past connections with the farming industry and with the International Harvester company before the senate agricultural committee, which began consideration of the nominations of board members who have been serving under recess appointments since the board was organized early in the summer.

The entire membership of the board was present at the committee session and 15 of the 17 members of the committee were at hand.

In opening the hearing, Chairman McNary explained that it was customary to call appointees for important offices to examine their qualifications.

Chairman Legge was then called to testify. In response to questioning from McNary, he said that he had served as head of the International Harvester company and that prior to his work with that concern had long been connected with agricultural pursuits, principally livestock. He said he held a small fraction of 1 per cent in the harvester company, adding that he had no connection whatever with any grain exchange but that he had a few shares in railroad companies.

Legge also testified he had no connection with importing houses or foodstuffs concerns.

Outlines Program Under further questioning by Chairman McNary the witness outlined the general program of the board.

Asked if the board had been set up to take care of this year's crop, Legge said:

"To some extent. We cannot do everything in 60 days. Some folks think we ought to build a lot of elevators, and so on, but our time has not been long."

McNary inquired whether the board required co-operatives to exhaust their own sources of credit before the $500,000,000 farm relief fund would be used.

Legge said no such rule had been definitely laid down, but at the present time all the board felt it could do was to make supplemental loans except in a few cases.

"If you want us to finance all agriculture you will have to give us $10,000,000,000 instead of $50,000,000," Legge said. He added that many parts of the farm act were not understandable by the board.

BOY LOSES FOOT IN SAW ACCIDENT

A transient youth, 18 years old, this afternoon while working on a woodpile sustained injuries which will probably necessitate amputation of his foot at the Community hospital. The boy was sawing wood with Lee Bechtold of Placenta, Calif., for O. M. Murphy of South Riverside, when his foot came in contact with the high speed revolving buzz saw, cutting his foot lengthwise.

A passing motorist brought the injured youth to the hospital where at present time, he was still in the surgery undergoing probable amputation. Hospital attendants were unable to give his name.

DAVIS UTOPIANS IN ORIENTAL GARDENS

Meeting with an enthusiastic response on the part of local dancers throughout the valley, Earle Davis and his Eight Utopians will greet their patrons in a new home this coming Saturday night, when they will do their stuff beneath the twinkling, mellow lights of Oriental lanterns.

The strains of the Utopian orchestra have not only caught the fancy but captured the hearts of all who have heard them, and are already in demand for a number of big dances scheduled for the winter calendar. One of their first engagements is the big State Bar association convention dance which will be held Friday night at the Hotel Medford. With more than 200 prominent barrettes and their wives from every section of the state gathered here for the convalescence, the Utopians are on their metal to put Medford on the map musically.

Returns From Big Game Hunt

Edison Marshall, former local resident and author, has returned from a hunting trip to Africa, and is back at his home in Augusta, Georgia. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Marshall of this city, were apprised by telephone today.

Marshall spent more than three months in the wilds of Africa, and bagged two lions, two tigers, two leopards, a rhinoceros and two leopards. He said he had a large amount of small game on his jaunt.

In his African trip, Marshall realized one of his life ambitions, and visited the land, where he had the heads of two of his most popular and appealing stories: "The Elephant Remembers," and "The Heart of Little Chikharl." Both received high commendation.

At the time they were written, Marshall had been no nearer Africa, than this country.

Beside the hunt, Marshall gathered much African atmosphere, and his next novel will probably be laid in that mysterious land.

On the trip Marshall travelled with a retinue of guides and hunters, and visited Johannesburg and other African cities.

The author is expected to pay a visit to his parents and friends in this city in a few months.

LINDY RESTING COAST LIQUOR BEFORE RETURN RING SMASHED FROM LONG HOP THRU TIP-OFF

PARA-MARIBO, Dutch Guiana, Sept. 24.—(AP)—After a conquest of time establishing a new air mail line and bringing the United States and the northeastern coast of South America 14 days closer, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh rested here today. His return flight, which will include courtesy calls to several South and Central American countries, will begin tomorrow.

The colonel arrived in Paramaribo at 1:20 p. m. yesterday, completing a 28-85 mile journey since he and his party, which includes Mrs. Lindbergh, took the air at Miami, Fla., last Friday morning. The new air mail extension has taken him from San Juan, Porto Rico, its former southern terminus in the West Indies, over the leeward and windward group and down the South American coast for a total of 19,929 miles.

On the return flight, Lindbergh plans to circle from Port of Spain over the western Caribbean country before returning to Miami, October 10. Eight days will be spent resting at Cristobal, Canal Zone. The entire flight from Miami and return will include near 7,000 miles.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—(AP) E. W. Crockett, 75, wealthy real estate dealer and pioneer resident of Oregon, either leaped or fell to his death from a window in a downtown building today while hundreds watched him horrified.

Crockett's body narrowly missed crashing into a group of passers-by on the pavement below.

Both Burgess and his wife were scheduled to go on trial within the next two weeks.

The Burgesses invited Mrs. Fairchild to their house last summer and then beat her to death, throwing her body into a well. They confessed the slaying, telling authorities they had feared the reputed power of the aged woman's hex.

RUNAWAY TRAIN LITTERS TRACK ON STEEP HILL

Locomotive and 34 Coal Cars in Wild Dash—Cars Reduced to Mass of Wreckage—Two Trainmen Have Narrow Escape

ST. CLAIR, Pa., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Wreckage littered a five-mile stretch of the Pennsylvania railroad between here and Pottsville Junction today as a result of a wild dash down a steep grade of a runaway locomotive and 34 coal laden cars.

The train parted in three as it hurtled down the grade. Twenty-six cars were reduced to a mass of wreckage. Light and power poles were cut down, putting the town of St. Clair into darkness and causing a flooding of a coal mine by stopping the pumps. Orders giving the runaway a clear track prevented a collision with other trains. Two trainmen aboard the runaway had thrilling escapes from death. Fireman H. H. Hawk crawled from his cab to the hand brakes when the train split, leaving him stranded atop the second section of 29 cars that were racing madly down the grade. He was hurled from the train, rolled over an embankment and landed near the state highway, where he was picked up by passing motorists. He escaped with slight lacerations.

Engineer E. J. Gettler finally brought his engine and two of the cars that remained attached to it to a stop at Pottsville Junction.

She looked so dainty —but "B.O." betrayed her

"IT'S a pity," thought Jean as Rita confessed she had had a miserable time at the party.

"Rita is adorable, but everybody slights her. I'd love to tell her why. But I just can't."

Luckily though, Rita's doctor was more frank. Today, there's no "B.O."—no body odor spoiling Rita's attractiveness. She has flecks of albinism since she found this delightful way to keep perspiration odorless.

The mirror may say "dainty"—but that's no proof we're never guilty of "B.O."

"B.O." catches us unawares. It gives us away, hurts us, while we least suspect it. We become insensitive to ever-present odors. But pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily.

What folly, then, to take chances! Use Lifebuoy always. Once you feel the thrill of a refreshing, invigorating Lifebuoy bath, you'll favor it for life. Its marvelous, antiseptic lather purifies pores so deeply. "B.O." stays away.

Millions use Lifebuoy for healthier complexion, too. It also guards health by removing germs. Lifebuoy's pleasant, extra-deep scent, which vanishes as you rinse, tells you it purifies. Adopt Lifebuoy today.
