HOME OF BREAD LIKE MOTHER MADE

Saving Without Self Denial

Sounds rather far-fetched to many, but it's a simple matter — just buy where you get the same things for less — and that's what trading the Groceteria way amounts to.

Last Saturday more than 3500 people bought food from us. They enjoyed it, because they did not have to wait for clerks nor hurry because the store was busy — They inspected and selected at leisure, visited their friends—took all the time they wanted or hurried if necessary—and bought for less—because the cost of the vast army of clerks necessary to wait upon that many people was not included in the selling price of what they bought.

If you are not one of the vast number that save with out self-denial — follow the crowds — come to the Groceteria — get the habit, and besides setting a better table you will add materially to your bank account.
