

Local and Personal

The congestion at local hotels because of the Oregon Bar association convention will not be relieved until today, when the majority of the convention visitors will leave for their various homes throughout the state. A number of them checked out today, not intending to take the Crater Lake trip or attend the association's banquet tonight.

 Providing he doesn't take his bicycle along, Gene O'Grady, local Irishman whose fighting moods seem to be spasmodic, may make himself a popular figure in northern California Saturday night when he heads a card at Yreka. Following the Klamath Falls fight when Gene drew a draw instead of a victory, with the crowd of his opponent, he did not ring up no war with the Pelican city fans he had in the past. Gene is a good fighter—has the sort of stuff of which champions are made in him, but his moods are enough to drive his supporters to drink and destruction. He is anything but a consistent fighter—one time fighting the sort of battle which keeps the fans of their chieftain most of the time, and the next time doing a lot of Gene Tunney footwork. 194

Today's public market was one of the busiest of the season, according to Marketmaster F. M. Corlies. Every one of the 30 booths was taken and all were filled with a large variety of home-grown produce, dairy products, dressed meats, fruits and berries. A supply of huckleberries from the coast was one of the features, and enjoyed a good patronage. There was also a large sale of fresh meats.

Interesting Items and Anecdotes Concerning Visiting Members of State Bar Association

For a person who doesn't dance, Judge G. F. Skipworth of Eugene has the most musical face of any member attending the State Bar association convention here. All through the dinner dance at the Hotel Medford last night, he kept perfect time with Earle Davis' Eight Utopians—sometimes even going so far as to enounce upon the parking space allotted to other legal exquisites beneath the Tivoli band.

An interesting line of hunter took place in the morning session of the convention yesterday when Attorney Gus Newbury, following the address of welcome by Colonel E. E. Kelly, expressed the regrets of the mayor that he could not be present.

"Have you any expression that you would like to give?" asked State President "Pike" Davis, from the chair.

"The only expression I ever give is on my face," retorted the local attorney.

"That is one that no member of the bar in attendance would care to accept," returned the president. "If I were capable of giving any other, it would probably disclose too many of the sad spectacles of your past," countered Gus.

Justice Thomas A. McBride and former Supreme Judge Martin L. Pipes of Portland flitted outrageously with both the music and the ladies at the dinner dance last night, but would not venture further than to ask the dancing crowd with the partners who took them up on it.

Lawyers are a great deal like any other family of human beings. They can give the "crazeberry" to that paternal body, the supreme court, themselves for decisions handed down, but if any outsider raises a word against them, he has the entire State Bar association on his neck.

Curiosity on the part of local residents as to why W. M. "Pike" Davis, just president of the State Bar association, was mentioned, prompted an investigation on the part of the press. It originated with the attorney's frequent expression: "I come from Pike—you've got to show me." For the further enlightenment of readers, Pike is the name of a county in the state of Missouri.

That Mrs. H. M. Bell, wife of the supreme justice has the greatest collection of shirt buttons known in history, is the testimony of a number of the attorney's present.

A divorce complaint, charging infidelity, was filed by V. C. Bates against Eino Hale, in circuit court yesterday. The couple have one child and were married at Redmond, Ore., in 1925.

Three ex-Oregon football players will assist Frank Callison, coach, in training the team of the local school. They are Larry Thom, who is a visitor from California to Springfield and other northern Oregon points. The visiting player had played for two seasons and Kenney and McCutcheon earned their stripes as reserve guards.

M. P. Young of the Willow Springs district has chosen grapes of different kinds for sale at the ranch, or will deliver on call to 14-FF-2.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Allison left yesterday for their home in Sebastopol, Cal., after a short visit in Medford with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Fowler of 24 Vancouver avenue. Mr. Allison is the publisher of the Sebastopol Times.

 Alan A. Bynon of Portland, former deputy United States district attorney, was one of the belated arrivals here yesterday to attend the Oregon State Bar association convention.

Among the Californians registered at Medford hotels are Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Crowder, Mrs. T. H. Rauney and Bert Crowder of Red Bluff, H. E. Kleinsorge of Sacramento, James Price of Ontario, O., E. Stevens of Santa Rosa, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller of Oakland, E. C. Cepstal and Herbert Myers of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. E. Meal of San Diego, H. K. Bothe of Alameda, Mrs. M. L. Cande of San Jose, Mrs. E. C. Richey of San Pedro, James Wilson of Glendale, and the following from San Francisco: A. H. Jacobs, J. R. Fleming, H. D. Fisher, T. H. Conrades, H. Beaton and L. M. Hart. Representing the Arrow Aircraft company, Joe Lewis and Larry Thomson were visitors in Medford this forenoon en route from California to northern Oregon and Washington points. Mr. Thomson arrived by airplane while Mr. Lewis is traveling by car. The latter left this forenoon for Springfield, Ore., where he will be joined by the former, who was scheduled to leave for that afternoon. The two men are establishing agencies.

Obituary

CAMERON—Mary A. Cameron passed away at the home of her son, Michael Cameron, 729 South Grant street, at 10 p. m., Friday, Sept. 27, 1929. She was born Sept. 15, 1848 and was aged 81 years, 12 days. She came with her husband, Angus Cameron, to Medford from Santa Monica, California, about two years ago.

Besides her husband, she leaves seven children: Mrs. Clara Rust and Mrs. William Hall, Prichard, Michigan; Mrs. Claxton Cook, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Clinton Knopf, Trail, Ore.; Mrs. Henry Milligan, Orland, Calif.; Peter George, Santa Monica, Calif.; and Michael George of Medford, Oregon.
 Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. D. E. Millard at the Congregational church at 2:00 p. m. Sunday. Interment will be in Medford cemetery.

CHAMPION TYPIST NOW IN TORONTO FOR SPEED TRIAL

Several letters and telegrams have been received by Mrs. J. H. Jones of 512 Pennsylvania avenue, from her daughter, Miss Edna Helen Jones, who is now in Toronto, Canada, to take part in the international typing contest to be held this evening at 8:30. A telegram received yesterday afternoon from Miss Jones stated that she had "smashed" her hand, but that it would be all right, and would not hinder her typing.
 The student body of the local high school, of which Miss Jones is a graduate, sent a telegram last night wishing her success in the contest.
 A letter was also written by Miss Jones while passing through North Dakota, saying that she was having a "lovely time." She further stated that train officials had made it possible for all the typing representatives on the train to practice whenever they wished. Although there were a number of the contestants on the train, Miss Jones said that she liked the seven westerners best.

MANY HUNTERS IN HILLS TOMORROW

Up until last evening at least 10 local hunters had been successful in bagging deer and as many more were expected to return today from the mountain country, where deer are reported to be more plentiful than they have been for years. Local sporting goods stores report a heavy rush for the purchase of ammunition, hunting licenses and guns.
 Lamport's hardware and sporting goods store reported an exceptional rush by sportsmen to rent guns over Sunday and for several days. Piche's sporting goods store reported that the sale of licenses and ammunition has topped records of previous years.
 Many hunters left this afternoon for week-end trips to the Green-
