The condition of State Traffic Officer Hubert Hoxie, injured two weeks ago in a motorcycle mishap near Grants Pass, is not of the best, according to latest reports, indicating that the four-inch skull fracture he sustained has affected his nervous system. However, he is expected to recover in the due course of time. The officer has been stationed at Grants Pass for the past year and is fairly well known in Medford.

An old lady, perhaps too proud to give her name but willing to say she was from Oregon City, was a caller at the office of County Judge Sparrow yesterday afternoon, seeking financial aid. She declared she was en route to California and that when she came to Medford she discovered she had lost her purse, containing every cent she owned in the world. A careful search was made but the purse was gone and as a last resort she came to the judge, who referred the aged woman, her hair snow white, to the county Red Cross chapter. She said she had no relatives and no children.

D. R. Dickey of Reese Creek was a visitor in Medford yesterday, having come in to receive treatment for a case of blood poisoning in his arm.

Business conditions are continuing to be good and all mills and box factories are running full shift, according to Chief of Police Kleth Ambrose who was in Medford yesterday afternoon for the Medford-Marshfield football game. Chief Ambrose reported crime to be at a standstill in Klamath Falls the last three weeks. However, transients have been presenting quite a problem, hundreds of unemployed men passing through Klamath Falls en route to California from northern points.

The board of the Gold Hill Irrigation district met last week and appointed Miss Bertha Coy as secretary in place of Fred Guy, resigned. L. L. Smith has been looking after the secretary's work during the illness of Mr. Guy.

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Rees will leave the first of this week for Vancouver, Wash., where Mr. Rees who has been pastor of the First Methodist church of Medford for the past year, will take over the pastorate of the First Methodist church of that city. His mother and a sister reside at Longview, Wash., and Mrs. Rees has relatives in Portland, which makes the new pulpit all the more desirable.

The state game commission is calling attention of trappers to the fact that the last session of the legislaure designated December 1 instead of November 1 as the opening of both the general and the beaver trapping season; under the new ruling the closing comes on February 28.

George Skeate of Talent, who had been ill at the Sacred Heart hospital for some time, has recovered sufficiently to be up and around again.

Guy Barton of Poe valley in the Klamath section, claims the championship for growing potatoes this year. He has a 70-acre field which is harvesting 250 sacks of No. 1 grade potatoes to the acre, besides the smaller potatoes. The potatoes are being sacked 102 pounds to the sack and are perfectly clear from any blemishes. A large amount have been sold to the Southern Pacific railroad for $2.25 a hundred pounds for the road to serve baked potatoes on its dining car menus. Nineteen men are employed in the harvesting of the bumper crop, it is stated.—Klamath News.

The condition of J. J. Buchter who has been quite ill for over a week at his home, corner of Park and Dakota streets, is improving daily, but he must stay in bed for another week yet to take a thorough rest, before pronounced fit again.

Bricklayers of Oregon and Washington are setting a $12-a-day wage scale. That's more than a man with a $25,000 ranch investment can make; more than a man with $10,000 investment can make; more than a college professor or school teacher, with expensive years of preparation, can make; more than 90 percent of college graduates make. Buy you a $2 trowel and be a bricklayer.—Blue Mountain Eagle.

The city auto camp of Grants Pass will close October 15 and the land will be used to enlarge the city park, as a result of action taken by the city council of that city Thursday night.

Dick Calder, the elevator custodian in the Federal building has been confined to his home for the past two days with a bad cold.

Included among the visitors yesterday were F. A. Connelly and E. A. Hildreth of Butte Falls, William Walch of Eagle Point, J. R. Tyrell of Perrydale, Imogene Nye of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stanley of Mt. Pitt, Lydia Howell of Agate, E. Avard Whitman of Phoenix, Mrs. John Sheley of Central Point, Alva Laws of Jacksonville and Eunice Bonham of Persist.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Furch are now enroute for Henderson, Minn., to attend a family reunion there in honor of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. Furch's parents. He left here last Thursday for San Francisco, in which city he joined Mrs. Furch and then they departed for Henderson in their sedan car.

Ducks in Oregon now are for the most part native birds that were hached and raised here. They are mostly mallards and sprigs. One day the duck hunters will tell you that they have the finest shooting in the state, that they go he limi in a couple of hours. Another day they will shake their heads and moan about the scarcity of quackers.—The Oregonian.

Miss Elda Ghelardi of the county engineer's office is spending today visiting friends and relatives in northern California.

Wheat seems to have a better yield in dry dears on the Beall ranch near Central Point than in wet years, said Earl Beall who was in Medford yesterday afternoon. Off of 30 acres, the average yield was 45 bushels.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henry, owners of the recently dedicated town of Lincoln in the Greensprings mountain section between Medford and Klamath Falls, left yesterday by motor for their home in Pasadena, after spending the spring and summer in this vicinity. Mr. Henry will return within a few weeks to join his son John Henry, now in charge of the Lincoln mill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Phipps were visitors last week for a several days stay in Crescent City, Cal., Bandon and Coquille, on a motor trip.

The Southern Oregon Rotary convention will be held in Grants Pass October 16 and the convention is expected to be one of the best ever held there.

Mrs. W. H. McGowan, Miss Claire Hanley, Miss Alice Hanley and Miss Martha Hanley left by motor for Fort Klamath yesterday. All but the latter will return today, she staying over for a several days' visit with friends.

Womans' Association Held All-Day Meeting

The Womans' association of the Presbyterian church held their regular monthly meeting in the church parlors Tuesday, September 3, with an all-day session to a very interested group of women.

Mrs. J. W. Merritt's circle served a very delicious luncheon at noon to members and friends. A large number attended and suggested that a luncheon be served more often. So a luncheon will be served once a month by the different circles.

The association has divided its members into different circles, which meet once a month in various parts of the city.

Mrs. Littrell's circle was a very industrious circle, making two comforters in the afternoon.

The association shows more enthusiasm and a keener interest since the fall work has begun and a prosperous year is expected. A number of very interesting entertainments and parties are planned for the near future such as a Hallowe'en party given by the Grace circle. A Harvest Fair by the Sunny Sisters, a musical by Mrs. F. F. Johnson's circle and others will follow by the different circles. These will be given for the public as well as its members.

Weddings

Former Medford Girl Marries Portland Man.

At an elaborate wedding ceremony Saturday evening at 9 o'clock in the First Methodist church of Burlingame, Miss Helen Irene Thomas became the bride of Cecil Carlton Evans of Portland, Ore. The marriage service was read by the bride's brother, Rev. Ralph I. Thomas of Spokane, and the bride was given into the keeping of the groom by Dr. Carl Warner of the local Methodist church.

The bride was charmingly gowned in ivory satin with wedding veil held in place with a Roman coronet and shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Betty Thomas, as maid of honor, who wore a frock of yellow georgette and carried a bouquet of salmon pink roses. The bridesmaids, six sorority sisters of the bride, members of Epsilon Lambda Sigma, included Miss Helen High of Ashland, Ore., cousin of the groom; Miss Pauline Tyler of San Francisco, Miss Peggy Boring of San Mateo, Miss Anne Turner, Miss Vera Raymond and Miss Dorothy Boring, all of Stockton. The bridesmaids were daintily gowned in harmonizing shades of green and peach taffeta, with sweetpea headbands and carried sprays of pink sweetpeas.

The groom was attended by Frank Lathrop of San Mateo as best man, and the ushers were Donald Lyman, William Gielow, John Ferns, Scott Lathrop, Lester McElwain and Ellsworth Johnson.

Helen Elizabeth Thomas and Ralph Irvin Thomas, Jr., niece and nephew of the bride, acted as flower girl and ring-bearer.

The bride's mother, Mrs. I. I. Thomas, was gowned in blue lace over satin, with corsage of lilies of the valley and roses, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Evans, wore dark blue georgette.

Appropriate organ solos were played during the service by Miss Ruth Fiske of Davis, and vocal solos, "Because" and "I Love You Truly" were sung by Miss Elizabeth Thomas, sister of the bride.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with an aisle of palms and altar decoration of cream gladioli and candelabra. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother at 216 Harvard road, Baywood Park.

The bride has lived in the community since November, coming here with her family from Medford, Ore. She attended the College of the Pacific at Stockton and later studied pipe organ in Palo Alto. The groom is a young business man of Portland, Ore., and following a honeymoon to points of interest in California it is there the young couple will make their home.—Burlingame News.

The bride attended Medford high school and is well known in this city.

MUNICH.—(AP)—Declaring that an offer to make him a Sioux chief was inspired by the publicity department of a circus, Dr. Schnargl, burgomaster here, declined the honor when it was proffered to him by Chief White Horse Eagle. He held that this method of advertising a circus was beneath the dignity of a burgomaster.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Full accounting of funds and expenditures by all national organizations, including wet and dry and church associations, interested in legislation before congress was ordered today by Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee in the pending lobby investigation.

The Princess Patricia pattern has a richness and dignity typical of Gorham Sterling.

One of the season's distinguished brides

Mrs. Ned Harrison Leavitt

chose her silver in this delicate Princess Patricia pattern

IN preparation for her rôle as a California hostess, Mrs. Leavitt wanted not only the finest of all silver, of which she would be supremely proud always, but also silver that would reflect the spirit of California . . . its flowers and semi-tropical shrubs, bright-tiled roofs and picturesque patios.

She found it in the Princess Patricia pattern of Gorham Sterling. A pattern dignified as a redwood tree, rich as a Spanish mantilla. Graceful in line, lustrous in finish, this silver expresses a modern romanticism truly characteristic of California today.

There are Gorham patterns, too, designed for charming cottages in the Early American spirit . . . modern apartments severely smart . . . and comfortable country houses.

All these we are eager to show you, for we believe you will find here a new beauty in silverware. These exquisite pieces of Gorham Sterling are priceless in design and delicate workmanship, yet they cost no more than the commonplace.
