Mrs. Furman Celebrates Seventy-fifth Birthday
 Seventy-five is a good age to find out how many friends one really has. Mrs. Clara Furman, who greeted that age with a very youthful and pleasant smile on Thursday morning, knows now that she has a great many. One of the earliest hours of the morning, the local woman, was the recipient of messages of congratulation, flowers, and a steady stream of callers, as well as a shower of gifts that would have done justice to the most popular bride of the season.
 To Mrs. Furman, whose mother lived to the ripe age of 95, her birthday last Thursday was an early milestone in a long and useful life, with much yet to be accomplished. Her mind, keen and alert, she lives in the future more than in the past, and has hopes of being a witness to inventions and developments equalling the radio and the airplane.
 In addition to the steady stream of callers who visited Mrs. Furman at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Gaby, a surprise party, planned by Mrs. L. E. Schuler in the afternoon, and another in the evening by Mrs. Pett, brought the event to a climax and made it one of the most enjoyable birthdays of her life.
 Mrs. Furman is an active worker in the Methodist church and a member of the Eastern Star and Daughters of the American Revolution organizations.
Mrs. A. Deury Elected President Greater Medford Club
 At the meeting of the Greater Medford club held Monday afternoon at the St. Mark's Hall, Mrs. Alan Deury was elected president. In accepting the nomination the new president said she would do all in her power to assist the club in its main desire of erecting a new club house. She also declared she appreciated the honor conferred upon her.
 Other officers elected were Mrs. F. E. Merrick, vice-president; Mrs. C. C. Furnas, second vice-president; Mrs. H. Bates, recording secretary; and Mrs. W. E. Crews, corresponding secretary. Mrs. C. D. Thompson was re-elected treasurer.
Local Professional Women's Club Will Entertain State Convention
 Medford has been selected for the meeting of the State Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs convention which will be held in May or June, 1929, according to word received by Mrs. M. K. Chapman, local president. It is expected that around 500 visiting delegates will gather here for the meeting and preparations for the program will be started immediately. A national speaker will be here for the occasion as well as interesting women leaders throughout the state.

 Congratulations have already begun pouring in from members of the state executive board, who voted upon selection. The board is made up of state officers as well as presidents of the various local clubs throughout Oregon.

Medford Garden Club Holds Interesting Meeting.
 Thursday evening at seven o'clock the Medford Garden club convened for a wonderfully interesting meeting. There were twenty-five members in attendance.
 The president, Mrs. Carl Swigart held a short business session to begin with in which several matters of importance were decided. It is planned to have a plant exchange sale late in October with Mrs. Hamlin in charge. Those interested please watch the papers for further announcements.
 Mrs. Bundy reported that the garden center inspection would be completed about November first and winter announced as a committee consisting of Miss Anne Livingstone, chairman, Mrs. William Shepard and Mrs. Raymond Mische, were appointed to take charge of the billboard campaign. This campaign is being handled by counties over the state.
 The Garden club has been asked to take part in the horticultural meeting to be held in Medford, November thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth. There will be excellent speakers on subjects interesting to flower lovers.
 In charge of the program for the evening was Mrs. Louis Ulrich and brought out many interesting experiences both tragic and humorous, taking the audience from the contemplation of a beautiful gold beetle found in a bowl of zinnias thru many experiences—some amazing, some with a jumping steer who scared Mrs. Crocker's high fence and ate all her lovely lilacs. This program of personal summer experiences with gardens proved a decided success.
 Raymond Mische spoke informally in his delightful, interesting way on top of interest to club members about bulbs, beetles, etc., and ended by urging that constant vigilance must ever be the watchword. He told of about two dozen wonderful tulips sent him from Holland this summer by the De Grasse bulb growers, bulbs so new that they had not even been named as yet.
 Mr. Palmerton also added that in two weeks he would have a new supply of nursery stock and those who had won honors at the fair could have their prizes.
 Those who attended this meeting of the Garden club felt well repaid for time spent and grateful to those whose efforts had made this enjoyment possible.
Wednesday Study Club Begins Year's Work
 The Wednesday study club met for its first study program for the fall, in the library Wednesday afternoon October 2. Mrs. Gray, the president, presiding, following the business session and roll call. Mrs. J. R. Crews in her usual pleasing and interesting manner gave a most vivid account of the background, physical features, anthropology, flora and fauna of Japan. There are more than three thousand islands in the Japanese archipelago, only six hundred being inhabited. The islands are the summit ridge of the profoundest ocean depths yet found.
 There are many volcanoes on the islands, the largest in circumference being on one of the islands, yet the islands themselves are not originally a part of the Chinese through Korea, but being so isolated from all the other parts of the world have become a distinct race. The Japanese call their country Nihon, or Nippon, meaning "Great Japan." The native poets liken their country to "A garden of flowers, or a circle of jewels adorning the western margin of the country's mountains." There are only one-sixteenth of the islands are the summit ridge of the profoundest ocean depths yet found.
 It will be possible to enter this class Thursday evening, October tenth, and pupils will be accepted October seventeenth but not later. Mrs. Collins gave an interesting and enlightening discussion of literature beginning with Eighteen Ninety and leading up to Nineteen Twenty Nine. He pointed out how very important a knowledge of the literature of this time would be to those who cared to consider themselves "modern." He gave a brief outline of books he considered necessary to have read in order not to feel "obsolete."
 He touched a few of the high lights of modern literature and
