

HOLLYWOOD TO MEET MISSIONS COAST PLAYOFF

Split Season Winners Open Seven-Game Series Tuesday for 1929 Pennant—Ducks and Angels Finish in Dead Heat.

(By the Associated Press.) Baseball fans fought over again today the final games of one of the closest finishes in Pacific Coast league history while the San Francisco Mission Reds and Hollywood Stars champed their strategy for a championship playoff, beginning here tomorrow.

Winners respectively of the first and second halves of the split season, the Mission Reds and Stars will meet tomorrow in the opening contest of a seven game series to determine the 1929 pennant. A $5000 melon from the coffers of the league will be split up on a 60-10 basis. The first three games will be played in San Francisco and the next three in Los Angeles. If a seventh contest is necessary, its location will be decided later. The Stars slid into the second half leadership by the margin of one game, despite two defeats yesterday. While the Stars were leading to Portland, 4-1 and 9-2, the runner-up Missions took two beatings from Seattle's Indians, 7-3 and 9-1. The final standings of the second half left Hollywood perched on top with 61 wins and 42 defeats. The Missions ended with 60 wins and 43 defeats.

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include Hollywood, Mission Reds, Los Angeles, Portland, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Seattle.

THE DALLES STILL TO GET VENGEANCE

The Dalles is still muttering and grumbling about the game with the Medford high school they did not play in 1927, after they won the state high school football championship. In a series of articles on the sporting page of the Oregonian, they still charge that Medford "side-stepped" a game with them that year, and argue they should have won.

Their display of helplessness to the tune of 42 to 0 score against Medford last year, proves to local fans that the 1927 team with Bernard Senn, Eddie Demmer, Conrad Clifford Moore, in the line-up, would have bettered the score, at least three touchdowns. The team that swar with a kick points after touchdowns, and was formidable, in all departments, than the outfit that unmercifully trimmed The Dalles last November.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relax food and digest it properly. Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing. Mrs. Annie Waters, of 2752 4th Ave. S.W., Seattle, Wash., says: "I suffered from nerve-wracking stomach trouble. Every available remedy brought no results until I tried Tanlac. It built me up till my stomach trouble was cured."

STRIKE OUT KINGS SET FOR SMOKE BALL CLASH IN SERIES

Lefty Grove

SERIES SPOTLIGHT CENTERS ON FAST FLINGING ARTISTS

By Jay Vessels Sports Editor Associated Press Feature Service NEW YORK (AP)—Speed ball pitching comes back to the world series spotlight this year for the first time since Walter Johnson hurled 'em over back in 1924 and 1925.

Two artists of this fast ball business—Pat Malone of the Cubs and Lefty Grove of the Athletics—are all steamed up and ready to begin shooting streaks of lightning when the 1929 classic opens in Chicago tomorrow.

What they have to offer in the line of speed may be on display no later than the first game. Grove looks better than a fifty-fifty shot to open for the A's, and since Jay Bush has been slipping of late Malone may be picked to start for the Cubs.

Both Malone and Bush lead their leagues in strikeouts. And it takes super-speed to rate this ranking with such stars as Vance, former major league strikeout king, competing against the Big Bruin hurler, and George Earnshaw and George Pippras bidding for American league strikeout honors.

The two kings of speed have more than their 1929 performances to recommend them as strikeout aces.

When it comes to setting the boys back on strikes, Grove stands alone in the American league. He has led the league in this department for four straight seasons. He whiffed 194 in 1926, 174 in 1927, 182 in 1928 and, on September 12, had 161 to his credit for 1929.

Malone has been a big leaguer only two seasons but he has shown the boys some smoke in that brief period. He fanned 155 last year, finishing second to Vance.

This year the Chicago giant has a clear field to the league strikeout title. Pat had 156 in the bag on September 23.

If these big boys get started on the same day, speed ball pitching may become one of the series' greatest attractions.

Give either, or both, one of those dark, cloudy, October afternoons and there may be a day off for the remainder of the team.

ALTRUCK SCORES PERFECT RECORD WITH A LONE HIT

(By Associated Press) The major league season closed yesterday.

The Washington comedian, Nick Altrock, horned into the lead of American league batsmen at the last minute. He went into a game toward the end and got one hit out of his one time at bat. Two young Boston pitchers, Durham and Simmons, held the senators in check to win by 2 to 1.

Connie Mack kept his regulars in the final game by a tuning up before the series and he managed to beat the Yankees.

Simmons completed the 5-2 triumph in the ninth with his 25th homer of the year and tied Lou Gehrig in the ninth with his 25th homer of the year and tied Lou Gehrig for second place in the league standing.

St. Louis and Cleveland gave their younger pitchers a workout in their closing double header and the Browns youngsters came out ahead each time. Stieley, a newcomer from the Texas league, out-pitched Brown to take the first, 4-2, and Kinsey conquered Shoffner in the second, 4 to 1.

Chicago's lovely White Sox slugged the ball like their national league neighbors to win the final from Detroit, 8 to 7.

Johnny Evers and Hank Gowdy, coaches of the Boston Braves, played against the Giants in the last half of the ninth. New York won, 9 to 4.

Ivy Wingo of Cincinnati joined the ancient who were closing the season properly and caught part of the game against St. Louis. The Cards closed out a 2-1 victory.

The champion Cubs led Hank Grampus, who has spent the season pitching for batting practice, start a game. But he went out in the second inning when Pittsburgh hammered him for six runs. The Pirates closed with an 8 to 3 triumph.

BASEBALL FANS WILL GET RAPID SERIES SERVICE

Tune in for Series

Play-by-play description of the world series games will be flashed from the Mail Tribune-Virgin radio station, KMEDE, by remote control from the Mail Tribune editorial rooms, beginning with the opening game Tuesday. Radio listeners should tune in at 11:45 a. m. to receive crowd description stories, batteries and other details before the game starts at 11:30.

Tomorrow, when a jostling crowd of red hot baseball fans swarms into the stands at Wrigley Field to watch the Cubs and the Athletics open battle for the world championship, Medford fans will gather in front of the Mail Tribune building and listen to the quickest and most accurate play-by-play radio broadcast possible, Alan Gould, ace of sport scribes, and a galaxy of nationally famous writers will be in the Associated Press box.

Seattle High School Mitt Slinger On Armory Card Tuesday Evening

Backed up by one of the most expensive cards in Medford for some time, the fall and winter boxing season will open tomorrow night at the Armory, presenting Gene O'Grady, 175 pounds, of Ashland, in the 10-round main event against Benny Hill, 183 of San Francisco, under the promotorship of Joe Bickerstaff of Klamath Falls. In addition to a six-round semi-windup, there will be three four-round events.

Hill has trained faithfully under the direction of John Flammery, his manager, and has expectations of knocking out O'Grady in five rounds, according to promoter Bickerstaff, who arrived in Medford today from his headquarters in Klamath Falls. Hill is reported to be hitting harder than ever.

That means a hit, said Bickerstaff, "as he is strictly a fighter who is always ready to swap punches with his opponent. Medford fans will like this boy. O'Grady wound up his training last evening by boxing eight hard rounds with his sparring partners. He is in perfect shape and is anxious to show his following of fans that he is ready to meet the best boys of his weight in the country."

O'Grady has not been defeated in 30 fights, and won his last a short time ago at Yreka, Cal., where he knocked out Tom Corbett after eight rounds of the hardest fighting seen in northern California for years. O'Grady was knocked to the mat several times before he made a comeback. Hill has won the majority of his fights and is a former sparring partner of Jack Dempsey when the latter was training on the Pacific coast. He is expected to show O'Grady some high class fighting and all whom it will do the most good.

FOOTBALL FANS RUMINATE UPON SATURDAY TILTS

Seized by a case of football fever in its most aggressive form, Mr. John F.rai sat up today to ruminate on next Saturday's gridiron diet, but meanwhile found nourishment in the memories of last week's nerve-tangling encounters.

The Southern California Trojans turned attention today to preparing for Washington next Saturday. The California-Washington State game at Berkeley next Saturday had taken on added interest today because of last week's end, box.

Other conference games next Saturday will pit Idaho against Montana and Stanford against the University of California at Los Angeles. Oregon State will meet Columbia (Oregon) and Oregon opposes Willamette in non-conference engagements next week end.

Johnny Spencer.

The six-round semi-windup will present Johnny Spencer, Seattle high school boy, against Jack Davies, rated as Chiloquin's best. The two fighters will weigh in around 126 pounds. Two heavyweights, Tiny McComber, 185 pounds, of Dairy, and Battling Bunker of Dorris, will mix gloves for four rounds. Steamboat Jackson of Klamath Falls and Billy Huff, O'Grady's Indian trainer, will meet in a special event of four rounds, preceded by a certain number of four rounds between Milling Miller of Marshfield and Hurricane Harry of Chiloquin. The fights will begin promptly at 8:45.

LOCAL CADDY MASTERS SHOW UP THEIR BOSS

Elmer Johnson and Bud Simmons Get Their Buck on "19th Hole"—Deer-hunting Easy to Those Who Know How.

Elmer Johnson and Bud Simmons, caddy masters at the Medford Golf club, asked their boss Jack Huoston Saturday if they could have a few hours off to go deer hunting.

"Where you going deer hunting," asked Jack.

"Oh, over there," said Bud waving his hand in the direction of Rocky Anne.

"Deer hunting," snorted Jack. "Wait till you shoot under 80 before you try to shoot deer. You couldn't hit one if you saw one. Besides there aren't any deer over there. You must think they are eating apples in Hillcrest orchard."

"You said it," remarked Russ Semon, second flight champion, who was standing nearby, waiting for his office boy, Hank Pringle, to arrive. "I have been hunting a week and couldn't get a shot. It's too smoky, too dry and besides there aren't any deer on Rocky Anne. Forget it, stay here and shine my clubs."

"But can we go Jack," pleaded Johnson, "just for a few hours."

"Oh, go ahead and shoot your heads off," said Jack. Then sliding into his usual good nature but with marked sarcasm, "and when you get your buck let me know and I will bring out a truck to pack it in."

The boys jumped into their flivver and departed. Two hours passed. The caddy house phone rang. Jack went to the phone.

"This is Elmer speaking, Jack. Bring out that truck, we got our buck."

American League, Thanks to Yanks, Victor of 14 of 24 World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Paved in recent years by the New York Yankees, American league pennant winners have won 14 of the 24 world's series since 1905.

In the six seasons from 1923 to 1928, inclusive, the Yankees captured three of the annual classics.

By blanking the National league entries in the 1927 and 1928 series, the Yankees increased the American league margin in games won to ten and gave the junior loop an advantage of 17 scores in total runs.

OUT & KEELER'S GOLF BAG

By O. B. Keebler. Golf matches are not usually bused up by gunfire from the sea, even in a heavy fog, such as was settling over the Lincoln Park municipal links at San Francisco, one Sunday morning, when Fred Treddway was struggling along in a four-ball match.

His side was doing not too well, so that Fred was not altogether unhappy as the fog grew more and more dense, and there were prospects of having to declare the affair "no match."

"However," Mr. Treddway told me, "we were not really thinking of quitting, when, without any previous warning, there came a rushing wind, and we heard a heavy thud followed by a lot of shouts and conversation a couple of hundred yards away."

The members of the foursome naturally went hustling over to find out what it was. And there, right in the fairway, was imbedded the curious type of projectile that carries the headline to shore from a ship that was in trouble, close in, and away from it, toward the Golden Gate, trailed the line itself.

It required no special detective instinct to follow the line out to the fog-rimmed coast. And less than 200 yards away, heavily lashed and aground in about water, was a big lumber steamer that had gone ashore in the fog and was establishing contact with the land, in the event it should be hammered to pieces.

There were more than a hundred golfers on the course, that foggy Sunday, and they whirled in enthusiastically and helped get the steamer's crew safely to shore.

"At that," Mr. Treddway soliloquized, "if that projectile had landed in the midst of a match, I rather suspect some of us would have been running yet!"

Which constitutes a hazard of golf by the sea that, so far as I know, is not yet included in the golf insurance risks.

Glenna Gains Golfdom's Hall of Fame Taking Rourth Women's Championship

Glenna Gains, a fellow Californian, four years ago, in the final match and thereby gained her fourth national championship—an honor which no other woman ever has held.

Miss Collett, a long-hitting player who in recent years seems to have mastered a somewhat erratic putting form, had won in 1927, 1928 and 1928. She went into the 10-hole battle this year a favorite, as it is generally agreed that no woman star can match shots with the title holder from tee to green.

Even hard-hitting Helen Hicks, the young Long Island player who came to the front with a rush in the last year, cannot challenge Miss Collett.
