

CUBS GRIM ON JOURNEY TO PHILLY

Determined Ball Club Will Invade A's Home Lot Friday—Double Defeat of Bruins Scrambles Pre-Season Dope—Root and Quinn Are Seen As Mound Possibilities.

By Brian Bell, Associated Press Sports Writer. CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—(P)—With most of the pre-season dope scrambled beyond repair, the Cubs and Athletics today moved from Chicago to Philadelphia to resume play tomorrow.

The enthusiasm of the American leaguers as they returned to their home and fire-side know how bounds for they had done all they could at Chicago, winning the only two games played. The Cubs, on the other hand, were a grim but determined ball club as they left home, not to return unless they can take two of the three games scheduled at Shibe park.

Optimism, however, was rampant among the National League representatives, even after the second straight defeat in a contest in which the Chicagoans never were in the game. A crowd of 49,987 had few chances to cheer.

Even the groundkeepers have tangible proof of their faith in the club. After the As had dashed laughing from Wrigley Field with a 9 to 3 rebuff of the Cubs in their bag, workmen took their places on the diamond and with meticulous care placed the playing surface in apple pie order for a baseball game that will not be played this season unless their beloved Cubs can execute a strong comeback.

Root Nominated.
The Cubs were forced to use four pitchers in the second game and every baseball indicator pointed to the nomination of Charlie Root as the Cubs' pinger to open the play in Philadelphia. Root, who stopped eight-ninths of the Athletics in the first game but threw a home-run to Jimmy Foxx, will have three days' rest when game time arrives tomorrow.

Old Jack Quinn, the veteran of veterans, probably will get the call from Connie Mack, although the tall leaguer, as silent as he is tall, can summon any one of half a dozen pitchers to the mound. The ancient John Pies was all warmed up yesterday in spite of some of the coldest baseball weather on record. He can throw almost as slow as Ehmske, and has a "spitter" too.

The first two games of the series have been glorious triumphs for the hobbling As, but disastrous defeats for the experts. Before play began the close observers declared that the Cubs would be almost unbeatable in their own ball yard and would send in a lineup of seven regulars battling from the right side of the plate to slaughter left-hand pitching.

The National League champions won no games at home in the series, and the Athletics triumphed against Lefty Bob Grove, as left-handed as any pitcher in the game. In the four and a third innings he pitched when he went to the relief of Earnshaw. The big right-hander was shelved from the hill in the only decisive offensive gesture the Cubs were able to make in two days.

Bitter Reflections.
Among the bitter reflections the Cubs took with them on their ride from west to east, was a strike-out record of some kind. Ehmske forced 13 Cubs to miss third strikes Tuesday, and Wednesday 13 more fanned, although this bit of destructive pitching was divided between Earnshaw and Grove. Earnshaw struck out seven in four and two thirds innings, and Grove bagged six victims in one-third of an inning less.

The choice of naming a world's series hero is not yet in order, but when the final reckoning is made, Jimmy Foxx probably will be considered. The Maryland boy, for the second time in two days, sent the As out in front with a home-run, the second being more productive than the first in that two of his mates rode home with him. Al Simmons ran the total of Philadelphia home-runs for the series to three with a circuit smash good for two runs. The home-run onslaught was enough to win the game.

Christopher Fitzgerald, president, steward at Arlington Park, Chicago, will serve in the same capacity at Oriental Park, Havana, this winter.

LAST YEAR IT WAS BABE RUTH

Absence of Babe Ruth from the 1929 world series leaves the gate wide open for the entrance of a new hero. Who will it be? It may be one of the favorites above and then it may be a dark horse who scales the heights of series glory.

STRANGLER LEWIS LAYS CANTONWINE WITH CHIN SMASH

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 10.—(P)—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, ex-heavyweight wrestling champion, for the second time in three weeks, defeated Ed Howard Cantonwine of Iowa, taking two out of three falls here last night. The first fall was one of the fastest on record here, Lewis taking it in 17 seconds with a toe-hold. In doing so, Lewis crossed up everybody, including Cantonwine, who expected him to use his famous headlock. Cantonwine took the second session in 19 minutes and 45 seconds, when he spread Lewis' broad shoulders on the mat with a reverse double wristlock. Lewis took the third fall in 8 minutes and 15 seconds, after Cantonwine was bearing down with a wristlock. Lewis suddenly smashed him on the chin with the heel of his right hand. Cantonwine went down partly stunned and Lewis was on him with all his 230 pounds.

Del Anderson, ex-national amateur champion in the 145-pound division, took one fall from Cal Herman in the 30-minute preliminary.

Lady Fan Leads Early Line for Bleacher Seats

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 10.—(P)—Unmindful of chilly blast on Lehigh avenue, several dyed-in-the-wool baseball fans began a long camp before the bleacher entrance at Shibe park early today to await the opening of the gates at 10 a. m. tomorrow. At the head of the line was Mrs. J. Franklin Kratz, whose home is opposite the bleacher gate. From home she brought a rocking chair, sandwiches, a hot coffee and blankets.

WALDPORT HUNTER IS FOUND BY SEARCHERS

WALDPORT, Ore., Oct. 10.—(P)—William Miller, 75, lost in the woods Monday while hunting deer with his brother, Alfred Miller, was found today near the Edgar Crook place. Thirty men had been searching for him.

Johnny Law, Notre Dame guard and captain, spent the summer tramping a wheelbarrow, on the theory that it would develop driving power in his legs.

OUT & KEELER'S GOLF BAG

By C. B. Keeler.
Grand Slam Gam is a big, handsome chap with a physique reminiscent of somebody who was an All-American tackle not very long ago. He lacks one inch of being two yards tall; his chest measures 44 inches around, and his waist a foot less. He weighs 190 pounds, dry. And he is called Grand Slam Gam because the belief now is becoming general that he can walk a golf ball farther than anybody else in the world. His name is Clarence Gamber, he is 27 years old, and he is professional at the Forest Lake club, Pontiac—a Detroit product. I first heard of Grand Slam Gam from Bobby Jones, as I recall it; Bobby had seen him play a few shots at Oakland and described him as "the black-haired boy who gets a two-mile carry off the tee." Then I heard and read more and more about him and his huge driving; how he had reached the 612-yard twelfth hole at Oakland with his second shot; and how at Winged Foot there wasn't a hole on the great course he couldn't reach in two. That sort of thing, Clarence, you see, is by way of becoming legendary. For one thing, Mr. Gamber has a record of one drive of 365 yards in championship competition, 300 of it carry. But if you ask him how he reached the 12th green at Oakland with his second shot, he will explain merely that he hit two good ones in a row. At Winged Foot I asked the big boy how he did it. He said he hit the ball as hard as he could "with a swing."

Ticket Prices Soar As Athletics Acclaimed by Jubilant Home Fans

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—(P)—Baseball fans in this world series town who have been on the verge of going into ecstasies over the double victory of the Athletics over the Cubs, found something to worry about today. The weather man predicted a possibility of rain tomorrow, the day of the first series game here. Rain is the worst thing that could happen on Friday, in the opinion of 40,000 rabid fans, who have waited 15 years to see a world series tussle. With the jubilant Athletics on their way home from Chicago ticket speculators boosted prices substantially today. Two victories over the devastating Cubs, the speculators contended, put gold borders on the pastboards for the three games to be played here. They were abroad in the land early quoting $30 to $100 for a three-game pair of tickets that cost the original purchaser $22. Hereafter the prices asked ranged from $50 to $75. Fifty "John Doe" warrants, said to have been issued for the arrest of speculators, seemed to have little effect on their activities. "Sandwich men" advertising ticket agencies have appeared in such numbers that at times they have the appearance of cluttering up pedestrian traffic. If the As had come back from Chicago two down, tickets would have been worth about $2 per game, speculators said. One speculator's office, where tickets are bought and sold, re-

HUSKIES WORK UNDER LIGHTS AT PRACTICE

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 10.—(P)—After three days of shifting line charges around, Coach Knack Bagshaw has just about decided the starting lineup to be used against Southern California here Saturday and was to begin tapering off today for the all important football battle. In a long heavy scrimmage under flood lights last night, Bagshaw worked the Husky gridlers until he was satisfied with his revamped combination. The lineup to be sent against the Trojans will be as follows: Saff and Squires, ends; Jessup and Schwieger, tackles; Shelton and Scamman, guards; Kraetz, center; Mittstedt, quarterback; Hufford and Strombaugh, halfbacks, and Marsh, fullback.

IDAHO PLANNING NEW DEFENSE FOR MONTANA

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 10.—(P)—A new style of attack, formed by hind closed doors, was being perfected today by Leo Calland of Idaho in preparation for the Vandals' game Saturday with the University of Montana here. It will be Idaho's first coast conference appearance. In the Gem State's two other starts, based on a powerful line bucking combination, were sufficient for victory, and until the Montanans held Washington a 6-to-6 tie last Saturday Calland believed he could save deception until mid-season competition.

M'LARNIN KAYOS SEAGEANT SAMMY IN WELTER DEBUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(P)—Jimmy McLarnin has learned that the bigger fellows can fall just as hard as the little ones if they are hit on the right spot. Jimmy made his debut as a full fledged welterweight last night and his punch produced the same result against Sergeant Sammy Baker as it did against Jimmy's opponents in three lighter classes. The result was a first round knock-out. It took one minute for McLarnin to establish a firm connection between his right fist and Baker's head. The New York veteran went down for a count of nine, only a few seconds later and arose just to take a final blow from Jimmy's right that ended the battle in two minutes of the first round. Baker did not recover for several minutes after he was counted out. McLarnin tipped the scales at 134 pounds and had to concede a two-pound advantage to his adversary.

Women Jockeys of Newmarket Beaten by Man

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 10.—(P)—The women jockeys were beaten by the only man rider in today's historic town plate horse race, instituted by Charles II to be run "for ever." Frank Simpson, who has participated in the race 24 times, won on R. W. Collins' Fairy Water, which swept by the winning post a head in front of Gittisham, ridden by Miss Aubrey Bell, Miss Mame Hamshaw, riding Lady Elops, was third. Miss Elleen Joel, daughter of the financier, Sol Joel, riding Miss Whiff, Nancy Mad-den on Ludelle and Dorothy Saunders on Fay Toy were unplaced.

MISS VOORHIES IS GOLF WINNER

Miss Marian Voorhies won the weekly ladies' golf tournament at the Medford Golf club yesterday when she shot a net 50 for the nine holes. Miss Voorhies had the benefit of a 20 handicap. The low putting contest ended in a tie between Mrs. Dave Wood and Mrs. Wm. Vawter, the former winning the play-off. Not as many women entered the tournament as expected, and it is hoped entries will increase steadily from now on. The big event of the fall season will be the women's tournament for the Lawrence trophy, and all women members are urged to make their entries. There will be two flights, with attractive prizes in each flight, so all contestants will have a chance of getting in the finals of the second flight if they fail to make the first. Luncheon yesterday was served by Mrs. A. B. Cunningham and Mrs. O. O. Alexander yesterday.

WASHINGTON COUGARS MEET GOLDEN BEARS

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 10.—(P)—Washington State's Cougars will meet at the State stadium when they mix with the Golden Bears in Memorial stadium here. Fleet of foot and carrying a sweeping offensive with a knockout punch, the University of California squad was ready to a man, with several improvements as a result of new wrinkles introduced by Coach Nibs Price. Bennie Lom will be at left half in the game Saturday, and all 136-pound, speedy, low-hitting Ed Griffiths at right. Stanley Barr at right half, with hard-hitting Fred Schjelling at left and Joe Hickingbotham, alternating with fast young Rusty Gitt at fullback, will complete the powerful back field. Cal Hubbard, umpire of the Saly League, likes fistie action. Unable to find it in the parks, he has taken an pugilism.

SLAB WORK OF MISSION REDS WORRIES STARS

Hollywood Horizon Darkened By Second Defeat in Play-Off Series—Two More Wins in Row Would End Struggle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 10.—(P)—Things looked mighty bad today for the Hollywood Stars in their struggle against the San Francisco Mission Reds for the championship of the Pacific Coast league. They were looking for a silver lining as the third game of the post-season pennant series was scheduled to begin, but the clouds that obscured their chances were quite dark.

For the Mission Reds have maintained a strangle hold on the lead, defeating the Stars twice in the two opening games of the series. Two defeats in a row in a series of only seven games is a difficult obstacle to overcome, and the Stars know it. When the Reds won the second game by a score of 7 to 6 at Recreation park yesterday, the Stars saw their pennant chances begin to glimmer. Should the Bay City club win two more straight, the series would end with the fourth, and the pennant with all the spoils would go to "Red" Killefer's outfit.

Although the two clubs are evenly matched, and their chances were conceded to have been equal, both games won by the Reds were bagged by superior pitching. Even before the series it was conceded that the Reds had a slight edge on the pitching side, although Hollywood was said to have the advantage on batting. In yesterday's game Bert Cole pitched for the Missions, and he admitted that the going was anything but easy. He credited the bat work of his team mates with having in a large measure brought the victory.

With Hollerson in the box for Hollywood, the Stars kept pace throughout most of the game. They bounced into the lead in the first inning on Red Rollins' double and single by Funk. However, they didn't hold it long, for Mulligan, Huff and Sherlock brought in two runs with their stick work in the same inning.

At San Francisco: R. H. E. Hollywood... 8 12 1 Missions... 5 14 1 Hollerson, Wetzel and Seyverid; Cole and Baldwin.

TRIBUNE RADIO BROADCAST IS FANS DELIGHT

World's Series Broadcast Makes Big Hit With Baseball Fans Throughout Southern Oregon—Letters of Praise Pour in.

Telephone calls, letters and post cards are pouring into The Mail Tribune office complimenting this paper upon the speed and completeness of its radio broadcast of the world series baseball game. The letters are coming from every section of Jackson county, as far north as Grants Pass and as far south as Bellevue, all praising the service, many expressing the fear lest it be discontinued. One rancher from the Willow Springs district writes: "From eleven to two we call off work and gather round the radio to listen to Ted Baker give us the ring-side report of the world series, every member of the family, including the two dogs. The reception is perfect. We particularly appreciate the announcer keeping us posted on just how the score stands, the batter up and the batter on deck. We started to keep our own inning score and line-up, but have found this unnecessary. Keep up the good work. Every baseball and radio fan in the county appreciates it."

A postcard from Eagle Point is brief and to the point: "This is better than sitting out in the rain. Three cheers for Connie Mack. You can't beat the Irish." A third from Central Point: "Your baseball radio report comes in fine. You are saving us bugs a lot on tires and gas. Some service. Don't quit. The Cubs will win tomorrow." It is believed in southern Oregon that 5,000 people hear the Tribune radio broadcast of the series every day.

Are you giving your child the right chance?

Do you not marvel when thinking of the inward physical workings of your child—bone, flesh, muscle and brain growing each day—building upward toward manhood or womanhood? Of course it is the blood stream which carries the millions of tiny red-cells to all parts of the body. And it is the healthy, rich, red-blood-cells that does this building, warding off disease and making for strong and healthy bodies. When a child's appetite wanes or he loses weight, the complexion becomes sallow or pimples and boils appear—then you instantly know that the inward mechanism is not working properly—that a good blood tonic is required. # BOXING CZARS RUMORED NEAR RESIGNATION

Portland Commissioners May Quit in Body—Accountant Finds Discrepancy in Reports On Fight Receipts to City.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 10.—(P)—James H. Cassel, one of the fathers of the amendments to the boxing law in the interest of veterans, who yesterday suggested to the city council that the municipal boxing commission members resign, was silent today awaiting action of the commission. Resignation had not been received by the city council, although there were persistent rumors that members of the commission were ready to resign in a body.

John J. Curtin, city statistician, who was ordered by the city council to make a definite probe of boxing commission books, stated in his report there had been a discrepancy in the reports of the commission to the city. Curtin declared that $60 a fight had been paid the matchmaker, whereas the reports to the city had shown the money paid to fighters. However, books showed no money paid the matchmaker for transportation. F. J. Loneragan, chairman of the commission, said this was true.

Curtin also suggested that in some cases receipts had not been taken for money paid out and that this was not proper where public money was involved. Overhead, Curtin said, was the greatest obstacle confronted by the boxing commission. The probe started at the instance of Mayor George L. Baker after the commission is said to have borrowed $400 from the civic emergency fund with which to pay bills owned by the commission. The emergency fund, maintained exclusively for the poor, was bankrupted by the loan.
