Miss Fannie Hurst, creator the "Breakfast Once in a While With Your Husband" club, says women's liberty is in danger.

Man-made fashions from Paris threaten her slowly conquered right to bob her hair, drop her corsets, say "legs" instead of "limbs" and show a good deal of both to an admiring public.

"Bodily emancipation co-ordinates well with mental emancipation," says the talented young person.

All true, but reasonably short skirt limits would not be unwise.

A grandmother, for instance, might cut her skirt no lower than the knee, and young girls should remember that there is more charm in the mysterious unseen than in a butcher shop.

The distinguished Russian painter, Roerich, recently returned from five years' travel in Mongolia, Thibet and China, says that Asiatics, as a rule, know only four American names OF MEN.

They are: Hoover, representing government; Borah, representing relations with foreign countries; Rockefeller representing wealth, and Ford, representing power.

"They do not think of Henry Ford as a man," says Roerich. "To them he represents motive power. They will ask you, 'Can Ford climb that mountain'"

Mr. Roerich says the Chinese call Americans chichab, which means "the protector."

BRUIN BATS IN ACTION AGAINST A'S

Hornsby and Cuyler Regain Batting Eyes to Take Third Series Tilt, 3 to 1—Bush Gets Hurling Honor Over Earnshaw—Paid Attendance Smallest in Decade.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—(AP)—With Rogers Hornsby and Kiki Cuyler emerging from their famous batting slump to drive across all their runs, the Chicago Cubs staged a comeback to score their first world's series win today in the third game.

The final tally was 3 to 1, with Guy Bush getting the pitching decision over George Earnshaw, who started his second straight game and struck out 10 men to increase the Cub strike-out total to 36 for the series.

The Athletics still lead by two games to one. The fourth game will be played at Shibe park tomorrow.

The official paid attendance was announced as only 29,921, the smallest crowd that has seen a world series game in nine years. This was a sharp knockdown from club estimates of nearly 46,000, for there seemed few bare spaces in the stands. The receipts were $140,915, more than $75,000 below either game at Chicago.

The money was divided on a basis of $76,040.40 to players, $14,061.50 to advisory council and $50,693.40 to the contending clubs and leagues.

YOUNG BANK CLERK CHARGED WITH WIFE'S DEATH

LOWER FREIGHT FOR FRUIT AND ORE PROBABLE

Southern Pacific Working On Plans to Aid Blue Ledge Shipments to Tacoma Smelter — Export Fruit Also to Benefit.

Steps have been taken by the Southern Pacific Railway company for the establishment of a lower rate on copper ore between this city and Tacoma, site of a smelter. Securing of the rate, which must be made in connection with other railroads, will mean that the copper from the Blue Ledge mine, now under option for operation by the Consolidated Copper company, can be shipped on a profitable basis.

A force of 15 or 20 men is now engaged in "picking the dump" at the Blue Ledge mine and four cars are ready for shipment. As soon as operations are started in the mine proper, employment will be furnished to six or seven times that many workers.

The lessees of the mine have requested the county court to improve a five-mile stretch of road on the Oregon side of the line so that the copper ore can be hauled speedily and without the heavy trucks doing fancy maneuvering at a curve with a 100-foot drop into the Applegate on one side and the jagged rocks on the other. The county court has taken the matter under advisement. It is understood the court favors expenditures that produce payrolls but is wary of making a heavy road outlay without high assurances that it will be used and that the traffic will justify the expenditure.

Traffic officials of the Southern Pacific are expected to come to this city at an early date to discuss the export fruit rate. The railroad made a substantial concession when the offer was made to put a 35-cent rate into effect November 15. A railroad is limited in its rate adjusting, it is pointed out and must exercise care lest it run afoul of discrimination.

Adjustment of the question satisfactorily to both sides is highly probable, if the 20-year friendly policy of the Southern Pacific to the fruit industry of this section is an index.

SKULL FRACTURE BELIEVED CAUSE OF GIRL'S DEATH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Decision to exhume the body of Mrs. Virginia McPherson was reached by department of justice agents today upon receipt of testimony that a skull fracture, rather than strangulation by a pajama belt, as heretofore believed, might have been the cause of death.

Investigation of the Washington police force, the district attorney's office and administration of the District of Columbia commissioners was ordered today by the senate as a result of charges of bungling growing out of the death of Mrs. McPherson.

Devil Fish Drags Fishermen's Skiff Far Out in Gulf

GULFPORT, Miss., Oct. 11.—(AP) Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adams has survived a terrific battle with a monster devil fish. Grabbing a tarpon line, it dragged him and a guide in a skiff eight miles into the Gulf of Mexico before a yacht rescued them. "It was as big as a house, 18 or 20 feet broad," said Mr. Adams.

FOG FORCES END ENDURANCE TRY CHICAGO PILOTS

'Chicago—We Will' Lands After 264 Hours in Air—Identity of Pilots Kept Secret Until Near End of Performance.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The "Chicago—We Will" landed at Skyharbor airport a few minutes before 7 o'clock this morning just after it had passed its 264th hour in the air. The end of the flight was forced by inability to refuel the plane because of dense fog.

The fog ended the fourth attempt of the "Chicago—We Will" to surpass the 421-hour record of the "St. Louis Robin." The first two flights in July, ended within a few hours, but early in August the plane stayed aloft 291 hours, being forced down then because of magneto trouble.

The latest flight was started at 6:52 a. m. September 30, the names of the pilots being suppressed. It was learned just last night, however, that they were John and Kenneth Hunter. John had piloted the refueling plane during the "Chicago—We Will's" previous flight. His brother is chief pilot at the South Bend, Ind., airport.

COWGILL SAYS FISH AIDED BY DYNAMITE USE

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11.—(AP) Harold Clifford, state game warden, said today the state game commission would investigate several complaints received from upper Rogue river sportsmen concerning a certain project on the river at Rainy Falls, 30 miles below Grants Pass.

Ralph Cowgill, commission engineer, blasted near the falls to change the channel in an effort to make it easier for fish to move up stream.

Instead of improving the channel, according to complaints, the blast made it harder for fish to move up the river because water now fall on rocks in shallow water and moves faster.

The channel has been materially improved as a result of the blasting, said Ralph Cowgill this afternoon, and he declared that he is delighted that an investigation is to be made, as he is sure the investigation will reveal the benefits of his work and will also bring to light other conditions of interest to all fishermen. Mr. Cowgill has the backing of the Jackson County Game Protective association in the work at Rainy Falls and all fishermen in southern Oregon, most of whom have reported that they have seen no material change in the number of fish above the falls.

As engineer for the commission, Mr. Cowgill recently asked for $150 with which to remove the obstruction, but not being able to obtain the money, he took it on himself to remedy the situation, which he said was very serious.

Hearing reports of conditions, Henry Haswell and Bob Headburg, two local fishermen, visited the falls September 4, shortly after the blast was made in August, and said that they could see nothing wrong with the movements of the fish.

They made out affidavits to this effect today.

Mr. Cowgill was also exhibiting a metal tag this afternoon that has been taken off a steelhead after it had ascended the falls. The tag had been placed on the fish by the United States Bureau of Fisheries and was numbered 1789.

SENATORS OKEH MEMBERSHIP OF FARM AID BOARD

Nominations Are Unanimously Approved for All But Three — One Vote Against Chairman Legge —McNary to Make Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A favorable report was voted by the senate agricultural committee on the nominations of all members of the federal farm board.

All except three of the nominations were approved unanimously.

One vote was cast against Chairman Legge and three votes were cast against Carl Williams of Oklahoma, who represents cotton, and Sam R. McKelvie of Nebraska, who represents wheat.

Of the 19 members on the committee all voted except Senators Norris, Republican of Nebraska, and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, who were not present during the hearings on confirmation.

Chairman McNary of the committee said he would make the report to the senate immediately and would open up the debate on confirmation the first of next week.

He declined to disclose the names of senators voting against any of the members.

BUDGET FOR SCHOOLING INCREASED

Forty Per Cent Growth in Three Years for High School Necessitates More Funds — Estimate Total Need at $296,127 — Board Would Pay Debts First.

It was brought out in last night's meeting of the school board and citizen's committee that the high school enrollment increased last year 14 per cent over the year before. This year the increase was 13.6 per cent over that of last year. The growth has been 40 per cent in the last three years. The enrollment on October 1st this year was 770 which is expected to be swelled by about 80 additional students in January. The high school is showing a more rapid growth than the system as a whole. "This," said Superintendent Hedrick, "is due to two causes. In the first place a larger per centage of pupils in general are going to high school now than formerly. In the second place, more students from the surrounding country are coming into Medford every year to take their high school work."

The school district has rented and equipped three rooms in the old Methodist church to care for overflow from the junior high school. Two rooms have been constructed in the basement of the Lincoln school to care for grade children, one of these was added a few weeks ago. In the high school the crowded situation at the beginning of this year was alleviated by reorganizing the program somewhat, and starting classes 45 minutes earlier. The general teacher load there has also been increased.

Pay Debts First.

"While it is true," said Superintendent Hedrick, "that our building situation is not all that we could desire, and while patrons and pupils are inconvenienced by it, I do not feel that, so far, the school program as such is being injured in any material way. No one is more anxious to get a new building program under way than the board and myself and we are coming out for it as soon as the financial situation in the district is such to make it advisable. What we need to do now is to pay our debts as fast as we can and meanwhile allow our assessed valuation to increase, thereby, enlarging our bonding margin and ability to handle a new issue.

"A school district may bond itself up to 5 per cent of its assessed valuation. In 1925 this school district was bonded to the limit. We have now a bonding capacity of about $435,000 less our present indebtedness, which is $188,000 or a present margin of $247,000, for which we could bond now. To take care of an adequate building program would require at least $325,000. The old Washington school site and the old junior high property on Bartlett street are conservatively worth $50,000. This would mean we should have to bond for about $275,000.

"We have now a margin of $247,000 and will pay $17,000 of this next year. This, with the natural growth of the district, I think, will put us in a position to go in one more year. By this I do not mean to imply that the board will actually recommend that a bond issue will be floated at that time. I simply mean to say, I think we shall be in a position to do it. Whether we do or not should depend upon our educational situation at that time and business conditions in the city."

Increase Budget.

According to the school budget prepared last evening by the school board and the citizen's committee, the total estimated expenditure of school district 49 for the year 1930-31 including payments on indebtedness is $296,127.85. The total estimated receipts from the general county fund, state elementary fund, tuition and all other sources is $71,600, leaving $224,527.85 to be raised by special tax.

Capital outlays, which the school board was forced to make during last year, operated to increase the amount needed on this budget by nearly $12,000. These outlays were represented by additional rooms, which the board found it necessary to construct and equip at the high school last year. Included in this amount, also, is about $3000, which was levied against the school district in opening North Oakdale avenue, Holly street and Sixth street.

At present the assessed valuation of the school district is about $8,700,000. The total present indebtedness is $188,000, which will be reduced to about $170,000 at the end of this year.

CITY CONTROL OF FRANCHISE IS REQUESTED

Special Committee Favors Provision in Telephone Franchise, Terminating Same Whenever Reasonable Improvements Demanded By Council Are Not Made.

If the present plans of the telephone committee appointed by Mayor A. W. Pipes are carried out, the city council will ask that a provision be added to the present 10-year franchise which will automatically terminate that franchise whenever the Home Telephone company refuses to improve its service in accordance with "reasonable" demands of the city council.

According to the proponents of the amendment, such a provision would protect the people of the city throughout the life of the franchise; and, on the other hand, would not work any hardship on the telephone company as long as it continued to give the quality of service the people of Medford want and are entitled to.

R. A. Hammond, local manager, refused to make any comment upon this action, but said he would refer the same to his superiors at the headquarters of the company in Seattle.

Some members of the city council did not believe such a provision would be accepted by the company as it would render the tenure of their franchise too uncertain; and also, if effective, virtually transfer regulation of the telephone company from the state public service commission to the city council.

Several members of the council, however, approved of trying to secure such an agreement on the ground that, even if it failed, it might lead to some understanding which would result in a bettering of the telephone service, as a whole.

The resolutions in full follow: "To A. W. Pipes, Mayor:

"Your committee, heretofore appointed to consider the proposed franchise to the Home Telephone & Telegraph Company of Southern Oregon, makes the following recommendations:

"(1) We believe that the company is an Oregon corporation, and we suggest that after the name of the corporation there be inserted the words, 'an Oregon corporation.'

"(2) We also suggest the adding of two additional sections, 17 and 18. No. 17 prevents the franchise from being assigned without the consent of the city. The city ought to have the power to pass upon the question as to who shall operate under the franchise. We believe that the company should undertake to give good service, and also that the city should retain power to compel such service, and so have drawn section 18, herewith submitted, to accomplish these purposes.

"Section 17. The franchise herein granted shall not be sold, assigned, transferred or conveyed unless such sale, assignment or transfer shall have first been approved by ordinance of the city of Medford authorizing such transfer.

"Section 18. The franchise herein granted is granted upon the condition that the grantee, its successors in interest and assigns, shall at all times during the continuance of such franchise, furnish to the city of Medford, and to the telephone company's subscribers and to the lawful users of its telephones, good and adequate telephone service, local, suburban and long distance; that the city of Medford may, from time to time, by ordinance or resolution, require the company operating under this franchise, to do whatever is reasonably necessary to so furnish said service. And shall have the right during the term of this franchise, by such ordinance or resolution, from time to time to impose such reasonable conditions and to make such requirements of the owner and (or) operator under this franchise, as in the judgment of the council shall be necessary to so provide such service. And the continuance of this franchise during its 10-year period shall be, and is, dependent upon compliance by the grantee, its successors in interest or assigns, with the requirements of this action. And a failure to, within a reasonable time after the passage of any such ordinances and (or) resolutions, comply therewith, shall in itself terminate the franchise herein granted."

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 11.—(AP) Dr. J. N. Smith, superintendent of the State School for the Feeble Minded, Mrs. J. N. Smith, matron and Dr. J. O. Matthis, part time physician in attendance at the school, were exonerated by the Marion county grand jury on charges of criminal negligence preferred by Mrs. Isabel Reif of Eugene in connection with the death of her daughter, Georgia Marshall, from injuries allegedly sustained while the girl was an inmate of the institution.

GRAVES OF CULT DEAD ARE FOUND

Burial Place of Two Missing Members Located—Doctor Says Called in Several Days After Passing of Patient — Priestess Admits Placing Woman in Hot Oven.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Mystery surrounding the disappearance of two members of the Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Elene, for whom the police have been searching in the mountain areas of Los Angeles and Ventura counties, was partly cleared up today with the discovery in Ventura of the grave of Mrs. Harlene Satoris, 30-year old former Portland woman, and information that the body of Mrs. Frances May Turner had been buried in San Gabriel, a Los Angeles suburb, although the death certificate was filed in Ventura.

Dr. F. A. Yoakum of Moor Park, Cal., who signed Mrs. Satoris' death certificate on May 4, 1928, said he had attended the woman during her last illness, but had not been present when she died at the cult's colony in the Santa Susana mountains. Dr. A. C. Pratt of Chatsworth, Cal., said he had been called to the colony to sign the certificate, but refused because the woman had been dead for several days when he first saw the body.

Admission yesterday by Mrs. Jennie Blackburn, mother of Mrs. Kay Otis Blackburn, cult high priestess, that Mrs. Turner had been subjected to baking in a brick oven at the colony in an effort to give her relief from paralysis, shed further light, police said, on the woman's death.

She said that Mrs. Turner had been placed in the oven under a netting which supported hot bricks. She was kept under the bricks periodically for two days. Two days after the treatment was stopped she died. Mrs. Margaret Sands, Mrs. Turner's sister, was at the camp when her sister died, said Mrs. Blackburn.

BOSCS BROUGHT 10 CENTS MORE DETROIT SALES

Detroit paid ten cents more per box for extra Boscs, in the first car sold in the campaign of the Winter Pear Committee, Inc., than the New York market on the same day, the local committee has been advised. This refers to averages, and not to individual carload lots, and was regarded as a hopeful sign. High optimism over the development of Detroit as a new market for Boscs, was expressed both by the local and the Detroit representatives.

H. C. MacClaren, Detroit representative of the Winter Pear Committee, in a telegram, states that Detroit buyers, and the trade, were impressed by the fruit and its appearance.

The buyers were particularly impressed with the condition of the Boscs. They were frankly elated that Boscs could now be conditioned in Detroit, and were highly pleased with the methods used to this end. It put the Boscs before the ultimate consumers in a first class condition, as to appearance and edibility.

Prof. Henry Hartman advises that a car of Boscs can be conditioned in the steam-heated ripening sheds in five or six days. He advises that the Boscs made a good impression in the auto center and all were within the slogan: "Old Gold Outside; Sugared Sunshine Inside."

The Detroit trade is interested inthe newspaper and radio campaign conducted in connection with the Bosc campaign. An especial appeal to housewives will be made within a short time.

Owing to a wide observance of Yom Kippur, a Jewish holiday, the third car of Boscs will not be placed on the market until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

War Angel to Wed.

STOCKHOLM.—(AP)—"The Angel of Siberia" is to wed. Miss Elsa Braendstroem of Stockholm, who ministered to war-time prisoners, is to marry Professor Ulich of the Polytechnical Institute of Dresden, Germany. Recently she has been managing a war orphan's home in Germany.
